CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

For and on behalf of the board (the “Board”) of directors (the “Directors”) of Shineroad International Holdings Limited (hereinafter referred to as “we”, “us” or the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively the “Group”), I would like to present to the shareholders of the Company (the “Shareholders”) the annual results and the audited consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2023 (the “Reporting Year”).

BUSINESS REVIEW

Our Group is one of the leading distributors of food ingredients and food additives in Asia with outstanding research and development capacity, which distinguishes us from other competitors in the industry and provides us with a unique edge to develop our reputation and diversified customer networks. Leveraging our research and development capability, we will continue to build long-term strategic alliance and co-develop with our customers, so as to stay on course with our mission “To be the Most Reliable Partner in the Food Industry”.

For the Reporting Year, our Group recorded a revenue of approximately RMB683.6 million, representing a decrease of approximately 6.14% as compared to that of the year ended 31 December 2022 (the “Previous Year”) (RMB728.3 million). The profit for the Reporting Year was approximately RMB20.3 million, representing a decrease of approximately 57.44% compared with that of the Previous Year (RMB47.7 million); while our Group's basic and diluted earnings per share were RMB0.03, representing a decrease of RMB0.04 as compared with that of the Previous Year (RMB0.07).

Over the years, we have built strong relationships with our suppliers worldwide. Major suppliers, such as Nestlé from Switzerland, Mitsubishi from Japan, Sensient from the US, and Kerry from Ireland, have been cooperating with us for decades.

Meanwhile, our Group further obtained new distribution rights with focus on the nutrition and health industry:

- Obtained the distribution right of L-malic acid (L-蘋果酸) of Huaheng Bio (華恒生物) from China in August 2023
- Obtained the distribution right of rice milk powder (米乳粉) of Shunxin Shengyuan (順鑫盛源) from China in August 2023

We anticipate our local offices will provide us a competitive edge by bringing scale benefit and introducing more local South East Asian tastes and appetites to the PRC market going forward.

Outlook and prospects

We remain confident in our future prospects. Despite having global economic uncertainties, we anticipate to achieve strong revenue growth and to create value for the Shareholders. Going forward, our development initiatives mainly include:

- Continue to increase the sales of products with existing and new distribution rights: With focus on the food service industry and the nutrition and health industry, we are looking into cooperations with distinctive brands to reinforce our competitive advantage.
- Continue to widen our brands and portfolio of self-developed formulated products and potential food ingredients.

Our Asia-Pacific Innovation Center with a total construction area of 40,816.13 sq. metres is expected to commence operation in early 2025, where we plan to set up food solutions laboratory, product incubation center, production lines, logistics, and sales functions. The Group's revenue for the Reporting Year was RMB683.6 million, representing a decrease of 6.14% as compared that of RMB728.3 million for the Previous Year.

The decline in revenue is primarily attributed to the ongoing recovery of consumer consumption in PRC following the epidemic.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Cost of sales

The Group's cost of sales solely represents cost of goods sold, which mainly represents the cost of food ingredients and food additives purchased from suppliers. The Group's cost of sales for the Reporting Year was RMB569.1 million, representing a decrease of approximately 6.26% as compared to RMB607.1 million for the Previous Year. The decrease in cost of sales was primarily due to the decrease in sales.

Gross profit and gross profit margin

Gross profit of the Group for the Reporting Year dropped by RMB6.7 million to RMB114.5 million (Previous Year: RMB121.2 million), and the gross profit margin increased to 16.75% (Previous Year: 16.64%). The increase in the gross profit margin was mainly due to the decrease in short term products sold at discount.

Other income and gains

Other income and gains primarily consist of bank interest income, government grants and others. Other income decreased by RMB1.1 million or 17.74% from RMB6.2 million for the Previous Year to RMB5.1 million for the Reporting Year, which is mainly due to the decrease of government grants .

An analysis of other income and gains, net is as follows:

	For the year ended 31 December
	2023 RMB'000 (Audited)	2022 RMB'000 (Audited)

Bank interest income	2,600	1,724
Government grants*	2,228	3,847
Others	259	648
	5,087	6,219

* These government grants are related to the subsidies received from the local government for the purpose of industrial development incentives. There were no unfulfilled conditions and other contingencies attaching to government grants that had been recognised.

Selling and distribution expenses

Selling and distribution expenses primarily consist of staff salaries and benefits, transportation expenses, travelling expenses, rent and rates and others. The selling and distribution expenses increased by RMB5.9 million, or approximately 24.89% increase to RMB29.6 million for the Reporting Year from RMB23.7 million for the Previous Year. The increase was mainly attributed to the exploration and promotion of new channels.

Administrative expenses

Administrative expenses primarily consist of depreciation, entertainment, rent and rates, research and development, staff salaries and benefits and others. The administrative expenses increased by RMB7.1 million, or approximately 18.07% increase to RMB46.4 million for the Reporting Year from RMB39.3 million for the Previous Year. The increase was mainly attributed to the expansion of labor for exploring new channels and the rise of labor costs.

Finance costs

The finance costs represent interests on other loans and interest on lease liability. Finance costs increased by RMB0.7 million to RMB1.3 million for the Reporting Year from RMB0.6 million for the Previous Year. The increase was mainly attributed to an increase of short-term bank loans.

Income tax expenses

The Group's income tax expenses decreased by RMB6.2 million from RMB17.8 million for the Previous Year to RMB11.6 million for the Reporting Year. The decrease was primarily due to decline in profits.

Profit for the Reporting Year

As a result of the foregoing, the profit for the Reporting Year decreased by RMB27.4 million, or 57.44%, from RMB47.7 million for the Previous Year to RMB20.3 million for the Reporting Year.

Such decrease was primarily attributable to:

- (1) a provision of approximately RMB11 million for the impairment of trade receivables owed by a customer. This prudent decision was made after careful consideration by the management. Accordingly, the Group is in the course of consulting its PRC legal advisor, and is going to take legal action against the aforementioned customer, the Company will make further announcements as and when appropriate in accordance with the Listing Rules;
- (2) a passive reduction of in the Group's shareholding in Tianye Innovation Company ("Tianye") which leads to dilution of interests and a decrease in profit of Tianye during the Reporting Year, both led a decrease in profit for approximately RMB4.6 million; and
- (3) the increase in the costs of foreign currency exchange by approximately RMB3.7 million due to the devaluation of the Chinese yuan resulting from volatility in the foreign exchange market.

The Group remains in a healthy and sound liquidity position during the Reporting Year.

ENVIRONMENTAL ASPECTS

Emissions

Policy of the Group, Laws and Regulations Related to Emissions

Regarding the nature of the business, the Group does not generate a large amount of industrial pollutants or have a significant impact on the environment, including air pollutants and hazardous waste. Therefore, the Group is not required to apply for environmental licenses or permits, nor are there any environmental laws and regulations with significant impact on the Group. The Group closely monitors the development of relevant environmental regulations to ensure that the Group's operations are in line with the concept of environmental protection. During the Reporting Year, the Group did not receive any fine, complaint or warning related to any material non-compliance in respect of greenhouse gas emissions, harmful gas emissions, air emissions, noise emissions, water emissions and waste emissions.

In line with the national policy on energy conservation and emission reduction, we have set clear emission reduction targets. By 2030, the short-term goal is to reduce all emissions (including air pollutants, greenhouse gases, hazardous and non-hazardous waste, and sewage), energy use (including electricity), and resource consumption (including water and paper) by 2% in every reporting year. The medium-to long-term goal is to gradually adopt renewable energy sources and use low-power products, maintain a steady pace of progress, and promote green development.

Types of Air Emission and Emission Data

Petrol combustion of vehicle fleet in Mainland China (“Mainland China”) was the major source of the Group's air emissions. The amount of air emissions in the Reporting Year was higher than the previous year due to the resumption of business operation following the normalisation in Mainland China, there was an increase in vehicle usage as business visits were more frequent.

During the Reporting Year, the air emission data¹ were as follows:

Air Emission²	Unit	2023	2022
Nitrogen Oxide (NO _x)	kilograms	28.74	24.81
Sulphur Oxide (SO _x)	kilograms	0.11	0.09
Particle Matter (PM)	kilograms	1.56	1.32

¹ The data covers emissions from the Group's vehicles at the Group's business units in Shanghai and Guangzhou.

² The calculation of the corresponding air emission assessment figures and the emission factors used for the calculation are based on the “How to Prepare ESG Report” and its Annex “Appendix 2: Reporting guidance on Environmental KPIs” issued by the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong, and the “Technical Guidelines for the Compilation of Emission Inventories of Air Pollutants from Road Vehicles (Trial) (道路機動車大氣污染物排放清單編製技術指南(試行))” issued by the Ministry of Ecology and Environment of the PRC.

Greenhouse Gases Emission Data

In response to the community's gradual concern on greenhouse gas ("GHG") emissions, climate changes and other related issues, the Group has established the "Energy-saving and Emission Reduction Management System". This is to encourage employees to adopt energy-saving measures in the offices to reduce GHG emissions, which the measures are described in the section "Use of Resources". During the Reporting Year, the Group's GHG emission data were as follows:

GHG Emission ³	Unit	2023	2022
Scope 1 ⁴	tonnes CO2-equivalent	16.08	14.30
Scope 2 ⁵	tonnes CO2-equivalent	168.95	135.28
Total GHG Emission	tonnes CO2-equivalent	185.03	149.57
GHG Emission Intensity	tonnes CO2-equivalent/m ² ⁶	0.040	0.031

Purchased electricity was the major source of the Group's GHG emission, followed by fossil fuel emissions from the Group's vehicle fleets. In this year, the total GHG emissions were approximately 185.03 tonnes CO2-equivalent (2022: approximately 149.57 tonnes CO2-equivalent). Comparing with the previous year, GHG emissions of the Group had increased by 24%, the rise was mainly due to employees returning to the offices in Mainland China following the normalisation after the pandemic, resulting in an increase in purchased electricity. Looking ahead, we will continue in implementing energy conservation measures and enhancing in tracking the amount of GHG emissions of the Group.

Waste Management

The hazardous waste of the Group was mainly generated from the office printer, including toner cartridges and ink cartridges. Hazardous waste was disposed under the reused manner, in order to reduce impact on the environment.

During the Reporting Year, the hazardous waste data of the Group were as follows:

Type of Waste	Unit	2023	2022
Toner Cartridge	piece	66	48
Ink Cartridge	piece	0	34

⁴ Scope 1: The direct emission from the business operations owned or controlled by the Group, including the emission from the Group's vehicle fleet.

⁵ Scope 2: The "indirect energy" emissions from the internal purchased electricity consumption by the Group.

⁶ During the Reporting Year, the Group had a total floor area of 5,011.14 m².

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The Group's waste was mainly from scrap products, generally as non-hazardous waste, which includes food ingredients, additives and milk powder, etc. Non-hazardous waste was collected by waste disposal agents to be re-used as fodder or disposed. During the Reporting Year, there were approximately 30.82 tonnes of non-hazardous wastes generated (2022: approximately 24.58 tonnes). Comparing with 2022, there was an increase of 25% in the amount of non-hazardous waste. The increase was mainly due to the oversight of the logistics company during logistics processes, resulting in a number of products being damaged thus the increase in scarp products.

During the Reporting Year, the waste data of the Group were as follows:

Type of Waste	Unit	2023	2022
Non-Hazardous Waste ⁷	tonnes	30.82	24.58
Non-Hazardous Waste Intensity	tonnes/m ² ⁸	0.0061	0.0050

Use of Resources

Resources Policies

The major resources consumed by the Group's operations are purchased electricity and domestic water. The goods from the suppliers do not require additional packaging materials, and the transportation of the goods is outsourced to third-party companies. The Group's vehicle fleet is not frequently used that it is only for the transportation of employees and customers. The business units have established the "Office Environmental Protection Guidelines" to provide guidance on the use of electricity, paper and Company vehicles. Extracted measures are as follows:

1. Use of air conditioner

- Avoiding installation of air conditioners at the location exposed to direct sunlight;
- Turning off the air conditioners when the room is not in use;
- Sealing the gap between the doors and windows to prevent the loss of cool air;
- Performing regular cleaning or replacing dust filters of the air conditioner; and
- Performing regular check on the volume of the refrigerants to detect any possible leakage in advance.

⁷ Data includes domestic waste, expired and scrap products, and food ingredients.

⁸ During the Reporting Year, the Group had a total floor area of 5,011.14 m².

2. Use of other electrical appliance

- Keeping lighting equipment and light bulbs clean to achieve maximum lighting efficiency;
- Considering the fluorescent lamp (CFL) as preferred when purchasing new lighting equipment;
- Turning off computers, lighting, electrical appliances and air conditioners that are not in use, or applying an energy-saving mode when appropriate;
- Applying the power saving mode at the computer system;
- Using energy-efficient electrical appliances; and
- Monitoring the electricity consumption records.

3. Paper Saving

- Communicating via email or electronic notice;
- Applying duplex printing setting for the printer;
- Collecting used paper for reusing and recycling;
- Encouraging employees to use both sides of the paper, recycle envelopes and loose-leaf paper clips; and
- Classifying the wastes beforehand which enables recycling with ease.

4. Vehicles maintenance and repairment

- Performing regular maintenance for vehicles to maintain their efficiency and extend their lifetime;
- Performing regular inspection of the tires to ensure the tire pressure reaches the level recommended by the manufacturer so as to reduce rolling resistance; and
- Turning off the engine when being idle.

5. Energy and Emission Reduction Education

- Promoting “World Environment Day”, “Energy Conservation Promotion Week”, and “Earth Hour”, advocate green and low-carbon production and office practices.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Energy Consumption and Intensity

The Group's energy consumption is mainly from the purchased electricity (indirect energy consumption) and the fuel consumption from Group's vehicles (direct energy consumption). During the Reporting Year, the energy consumption data of the Group were as follows:

		Unit	2023	2022
Energy Consumption⁹	Direct Energy Consumption ¹⁰	kWh	65,561.02	58,288.21
	Indirect Energy Consumption ¹¹	kWh	212,288.29	176,899.84
	Total Energy Consumption	kWh	277,849.31	235,188.05
	Energy Consumption Intensity	kWh/m ² ¹²	55.45	48.00

During the Reporting Year, the Group's total energy consumption was approximately 277,849.31 kWh (2022: approximately 235,188.05 kWh), which presented an increase of about 18% compared with the previous reporting year. In this Reporting Year, the use of vehicles fuels (direct energy consumption) increased owing to the increase in vehicle usage. While the purchased electricity (indirect energy consumption) increased due to employees returning to the offices in Mainland China following the normalisation after the pandemic. The Group has established energy efficiency policy within the "Energy-saving and Emission Reduction Management System". Looking ahead, the Group will continue tracing the Group's energy consumption and implement relevant energy conversation measures.

Water Consumption and Intensity

Water resource has no significant impact on the Group's business. Water consumption in the business units is mainly for domestic use and is provided by third-party suppliers. During the Reporting Year, the water consumption data of the Group were as follows:

		Unit	2023	2022
Water Resource⁹	Water Consumption	cubic meter	1,869.10	1017.19
	Water Consumption Intensity	cubic meter/ employee ¹³	13.95	6.52

⁹ It includes the business units in Guangzhou, Shanghai and Beijing.

¹⁰ It includes the energy consumption from the fuel of Group's vehicles.

¹¹ It includes the energy consumption from the purchased electricity of the Group.

¹² During the Reporting Year, the Group had a total floor area of 5,011.14 m².

¹³ As at 31st December 2023, the employee number is 134 in this year.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The total water consumption was approximately 1,869.10 m³ (2022: approximately 1017.19m³) during the Reporting Year. Comparing with the previous year, water consumption has recorded an increase of 84% and its waster intensity has increased from last year of 6.52 to 13.95 among this year. Due to the relaxation of anti-pandemic measures in Mainland China, employees return to the offices, thus resulting in more water consumption compared to the previous reporting year. Although we do not have any issue in sourcing water, in order to remind our staff to save water, the operation unit has posted “Water Saving” label in the washroom to remind employees to save water. The Group has established water efficiency policy within the “Energy-saving and Emission Reduction Management System”. Looking Ahead, the Group will continue in tracking the water consumption of the Group and implementing relevant water conservation measures in strict accordance.

Paper Consumption

Paper consumption during the Reporting Year was mainly from offices in Guangzhou, Shanghai and Beijing. During the Reporting Year, the paper consumption data were as follows:

	Unit	2023	2022
Paper Consumption	tonnes	0.95	0.67

During the Reporting Year, the paper consumption was approximately 0.95 tonnes (2022: approximately 0.67 tonnes). Compared with the previous year, it had increased by approximately 0.28 tonnes. The Group is going to implement the “Office Environmental Protection Guidelines” in a stricter manner in order to reduce the generation of waste paper, and will continue in seeking opportunities to reduce waste from source and increasing recycling rate.

Packaging Material

The Group is a distributor in the food ingredients and additives distribution industry. No additional packaging material is required for the goods from the suppliers in our operation, thus there was no significant consumption of packaging material.

The Environment and Natural Resources

The Group’s operations did not have any direct impact on the environment and natural resources. However, indirect GHG emission would aggravate global warming. The Group strives to reduce indirect GHG emissions and its impact on the environment and natural resources through various measures mentioned in the sections “Emission” and “Use of resources”.

Climate Change

The Group deeply acknowledged that climate change is a common challenge for all mankind, while China, the biggest developing country in the world, attaches great importance to tackling climate change. The Chinese government has decided to adopt more vigorous policies and measures and made two significant decisions in 2020: achieve carbon peaking by 2030 and carbon neutrality in 2060. The Group is planned to gradually respond to the decisions. The short-term goal is to reduce all the emissions by 2% compared to the previous year. With the expansion of the Group's sales and distribution regions and business scope, the practices of energy saving should be further enhanced to respond to the goal and achieve sustainable development.

Extreme weather including storms, floods or other natural disasters may result in unavoidable substantial risks. Under the circumstance of extreme weather, logistics and the supply chain are specifically prone to negative impacts. Heavy rains, rising tides and flood can cause severe damage to assets such as warehouse and stored goods, which result in financial loss. The Group responded to the potential risks that are induced by climate change, in which those may compromise the integrity of the Group assets and directly interfere with our business operations and customers. To enhance the reliability of the operation, the Group has formulated a series of measures including contingency plans for extreme weather and emergencies.

The Group has established the "Typhoon and Flood Prevention Contingency Plan" and formed the Typhoon and Flooding Prevention Working Group, to issue flood prevention notice and measures to prevent flooding in warehouses such as placing sandbags. These aim to reduce and mitigate the loss from natural disasters, prevent the occurrence of major accidents and dangerous situations; and to maintain the operation and protect our staff. Regarding the potential risks in the supply chain, the Group has established the "Procurement Management System", which covers standby qualified supplier to cope with situations where supplier networks are disrupted due to extreme weather conditions and to reduce the logistics disruption. To secure the occupational health and safety of our staff under hot weather in urban area, we have issued hot-weather allowance and distributed heatstroke prevention supplies to the frontline staff. The Group has established internal guideline, with details on the emergency response mechanism to ensure the safety of staff and its property.

The Group highly values our customers, we will continue in improving our application and innovation ability, striving to increase the efficiency, and protecting the Group's reputation. Over the years, the Group has seized different opportunities to expand the business, accelerate transformation and make the Group smarter and greener, as well as safer for our employees and product users. Our operation has become more automatic, while more online meetings have been conducted to reduce carbon emissions from commuting. These measures allowed our facilities to become more sustainable and fulfilled our commitment to resources management and environmental protection.

The Group has identified a range of climate-related risks and opportunities, which are material in terms of the Group's asset and service. Transition and physical risks are discussed in the next section.

We attached great importance to the quality and safety of the working environment in the logistics warehouse. In order to raise the occupational safety awareness of our warehouse employees and supervisors, we have arranged the “Logistics Warehouse Safety Training” during the Reporting Year. The programme did not only familiarise employees with the above-mentioned business unit safety guidelines but also gave practical examples of dangerous scenarios that might happen to employees working in different positions, such as forklift drivers and work-at-height workers. The programme illustrated the proper professional attitude and considerable safety issues in daily work, which facilitated the formation of employees’ good working habits. In addition, the programme covered recommended contingency measures when facing emergency such as fire hazard or extreme weather event, which included teaching employees how to handle fire extinguishing equipment and first aid knowledge for various injuries.

The Group attaches great importance to the career development of its employees and provides training when necessary. To improve the overall quality of employees, the Group has established a “Training Management System”. The Human Resource and Administration Centre conducts surveys about the demand for training on a quarterly and annually basis. Considering the training demand of each business unit, the centre sets out the Company’s annual business plan, employee promotion and career development as references, to establish an annual/quarterly training program and budget. The Group’s training is divided into external and internal training, including pre-job training (i.e. new employee training) and on-the-job training. Related training descriptions are as follows:

Training Categories	Description
New Employee Training	The training for new employees includes Company profile, corporate culture, human resource policy, remuneration and benefits, food safety, operational procedures and rules of various departments, and product knowledge etc.
All Staff Trainings	General training for staff includes employees’ quality and management skills enhancement, introduction to corporate strategies development, and systems and policies updates etc.

Looking ahead, we will continue implementing relevant training management measures to improve the skill level of employees and hence, to improve the quality of the Group's business operation.

Labour Standard

The Group strictly abides by the "Labour Law of the People's Republic of China", the "Law on the Protection of Minors of the People's Republic of China", the "Provisions on the Prohibition of Using Child Labour of the People's Republic of China" and other relevant labour laws and regulations. Operating Practices

Supply Chain Management

The Group believes its success is largely driven by the ability to source high-quality products from reputable food ingredients and additives manufacturers and to provide an extensive product portfolio for customers. The Group emphasizes the importance of the selection of suppliers as we believe the supply of high-quality products is one of the key factors for us to succeed in the food ingredients and additives distribution industry. The Group has formulated a “Procurement Management System”. We typically select suppliers based on a number of criteria including brand reputation, on-going compliance with relevant food safety laws, product quality, price competitiveness and supply capabilities. The Group has also developed the “Supplier Environmental Questionnaire” and “Supplier Social Responsibility Survey” to strengthen the positive impact of the supply chain on environmental and social aspect. We have established an approved supplier list. Before engaging a new supplier or including the new supplier into the approved supplier list, we perform background checks on the National Enterprise Credit Information Publicity System regarding the relevant supplier, to ensure their compliance to national laws and regulations. No disapproved suppliers are accepted. During the Reporting Year, number of suppliers has reduced by 15 suppliers.

We have implemented measures to safeguard the quality of the products provided by our suppliers. Please refer to the “Product Responsibility” section for details.

During the Reporting Year, suppliers provided us with food ingredients and additives, and transportation services respectively. The corresponding geographical distribution of the suppliers during the Reporting Year is as follows:

Product Responsibility

Products distributed by the Group to the customers can be broadly categorised into the following types: (i) food ingredients; (ii) food additives; and (iii) packaging materials. The business unit sets up a food safety management team which is responsible for handling food safety issues and has the authority to conduct regular or irregular inspections and spot checks in various departments, and report the problems found to the general manager office. The office is responsible for ordering the responsible department to conduct work analysis, review and rectification of all discovered problems. We have established corresponding policies and measures for food safety and quality, after-sales services and complaint handling, intellectual property rights, product returns, and customer privacy. For details, please refer to the following sections.

The Group strictly abides by the relevant laws and regulations of the PRC on food hygiene and safety, including the “Food Safety Law of the People’s Republic of China”, the “Measures for the Administration of Food Production Licenses”, the “Regulations on the Administration of Food Labels”, the “Advertising Law of the People’s Republic of China”, and the “Product Quality Law of the People’s Republic of China”, the “Regulations on the Supervision and Administration of Dairy Product Quality and Safety”, “Civil Code of the People’s Republic of China”, and the corresponding internal regulations. During the Reporting Year, the Group did not have any related non-compliance issues.

Food Safety and Quality Management

The quality of the supplier’s goods is critical to the operation of the Group. To ensure product quality, We have implemented quality control measures by conducting annual audits for suppliers and requiring them to provide us with the relevant certifications or qualifications (e.g. Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points (HACCP) certification and ISO 9000 Quality Management System Certification) of the products before procurement. We also require suppliers to provide a certificate of analysis or import goods clearance slips from China Entry-Exit Inspection and Quarantine Bureau for each batch of products supplied.

Upon the receipt of products from suppliers, the inventory management and transportation department will inspect the products (such as checking if packaging appears to be swollen or leaked; whether the product specifications are in line with the descriptions on the purchase orders) to ensure that the products received are in good condition and strictly comply with the food safety regulations. Further, we keep records of the products, including expiry date, suppliers’ name and address, place of origin for importation, quantity, and description of goods. Such record is made available after the procurement staff confirm on the purchase invoice.

We also conduct evaluations on new suppliers (before procurement) and on existing suppliers. Evaluation criteria include timeliness of product delivery, quality of products, pricing, rate of response and feedback from customers. Supplier evaluation reports are then prepared and approved by the director of the supply chain. If the performance of any supplier is not up to the standard of the Group, they would be considered as unqualified and removed from the approved supplier list.

In order to ensure the quality of the products during storage, the Group has implemented measures, including but not limited to:

- Separating storage of non-allergen and allergen products;
- Separating storage of raw materials and additives;
- Recording temperature and humidity of the warehouse on a daily basis. If it exceeds the standard range, it shall adjust immediately and the arranged temperature and humidity should be recorded; and
- Keeping the warehouse clean and hygienic, performing dehumidification, pest control and pollution prevention.

Before the products are delivered to customers, we conduct inspection again. Inventory management and transportation department staff will check the product specifications to make sure that they are in line with those stated on the purchase orders we received from customers. The information of our out-going products including the name of customer, product description, quantity and name of the transportation service provider will be recorded by the staff. In order to maintain the quality of the products during transportation, we require transportation service providers to provide a hygienic environment for the transport vehicles in accordance with food safety law in the PRC.

We have formulated “Technicians Project Working Guidelines” for the Research and Development (“R&D”) works performed in the laboratory. It provides clear guidelines on the procedures of the operation of the laboratory, raw materials testing, product development and product promotion, etc.

Product Return Policy

After examination and upon approval of our general manager in our branch offices, we only accept returns or exchanges for (i) any defective products sold by us that were damaged during transportation and delivery; or (ii) products that did not match with the product specifications as specified on the purchase orders between the customers and us.

To ensure the customers are satisfied with our services, we have implemented product return policy to (i) exchange the defective or damaged products; or (ii) refund the customers the relevant purchase amount of the defective or damaged products. For any product that could potentially be returned, we would perform proper inspection and examination of the defective or damaged products. Products returned may be returned to the suppliers or destroyed.

After-sales Service and Complaint Handling

The business management centre is customer-oriented, responsible for supporting and monitoring tasks and also providing after-sales services to customers. Its duties include:

- (i) collecting license and qualifications of customers before sales, verifying customers’ credits and entering information of new customers into the Company’s system;
- (ii) monitoring sales prices, customer’s receivables, signing of the sales contracts, and travel expenses reimbursement for salesmen;

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

- (iii) processing customer's order during the sales, coordinating both internal and external customers to place and process orders, and delivering quality goods to customers in time;
- (iv) gathering feedback from customers about our products and services to ensure the quality of our food ingredients and additives and continuous improvement of our operations; and
- (v) providing assistance to customers after receiving complaints. Our business management centre has various sets of procedures and protocols followed by our staff while handling complaints and requests from our customers such as product return or exchange, technical support, and product application solutions.

Feedbacks from the customers on the products supplied by the Group help us improve the services and product quality. The Group has established "Customer Complaint Handling Procedure" to provide guidelines on handling customer complaints and opinions with care. The business management centre collects customer complaints and opinions by fax, telephone and email, and is responsible for promptly referring those complaints to the sales department and tracking the process of the entire case. During the Reporting Year, we received 28 complaints related to product packaging being damaged due to oversight of the logistics company during logistics processes. Looking ahead, we will continue to strengthen communication with logistics companies, in hopes of rectifying the oversight during logistics processes causing customers' complaints.

Intellectual Property Protection

The Group's technology centre conducts food application testing and development of food formulations. We have established an "Intellectual Property Management System" to ensure that the interests of the Group and its customers are protected. Intellectual property is of paramount importance to our R&D. The Group strictly abides by relevant laws and regulations, including the "Patent Law of the People's Republic of China", the "Copyright Law of the People's Republic of China", the "Trademark Law of the People's Republic of China" and the "Anti-Unfair Competition Law of People's Republic of China" etc. We implemented the following measures to protect intellectual property:

- Registering the intellectual property, filed and applied for authenticity;
- Considering intellectual property to be treated and protected as trade secrets if the result of intellectual effort with commercial value is not applicable for the above measures. It should not be published nor disclosed by any forms (e.g. commissioned appraisal, exhibition, advertisement, test sale, and gift-giving, etc.) before the related protection method is determined;
- Keeping product strictly confidential during development. Employees should not pass trade secret information in public places or using communication tools without encryption; and
- Providing intellectual property training to employees in order to raise awareness of intellectual property protection.

Product Advertising/Labelling

The Group's business does not involve product packaging and labelling activities. The advertisements of the Company are published in exhibitions and related publications only. There is no product released regarding the R&D work in the laboratory during the Reporting Year and in the past. However, we have already established guidelines for product labelling, indicating that the products released to the public are required to specify the storage conditions, production date, shelf life, and tasting recommendations. General speaking, the issue has no significant impact on our operations at the moment.

Customer Data Protection and Privacy

The Group attaches great importance to the confidential information of the customers. We have formulated "Information Protection Policy" which provides guidance on the handling of confidential information. Employees are required to sign confidentiality agreements that they must not distribute or disclose Company secrets to unrelated persons by any means. The Group also signs a "Non-Competition Restriction Agreement" with specific employees, stipulating that the trade secrets and technologies obtained by the employees shall not be disclosed to a third party and must not be used to make profits for themselves or others.

In order to protect the interests of customers and the Group and to satisfy with the customers' requirements, the following terms are set out in the confidentiality agreement:

- Committing in keeping all information from the other party strictly confidential, including the implementation of effective security measures and operating procedures; and
- Committing in not to disclose other party's secret information to the third party by leakage, notification, issuance, publishing, passing on, transfer or any other means without the consent of the other parties.

Anti-corruption

Honesty, integrity and fair competition are the core values that all employees of the Group have to defend. We have established the "Code of Conduct for Anti-Corruption" to set out the employee's conducts in dealing with problems related to acceptance of advantages and conflicts of interest. The director or employee receiving the gift should report to the Board of Directors and seek advice on how to handle the gift from the Board. When there is an actual or potential conflict of interest between the director or employee and the Group, the related person is required to make a declaration of interest. All directors and employees should ensure all records, receipts, account information and other documents they submit to the Group can truly reflect the events or business transactions stated in these documents. Any person who deliberately uses a document with false information to deceive or mislead the Group may violate the relevant regulations, whether or not the person can get benefit from it. Our compliance officer is responsible for handling the reports of violation cases.

The Group strictly abides by the laws and regulations relating to bribery, extortion, fraud and money laundering in Mainland China and Hong Kong, including the "Criminal Law of the People's Republic of China", the "Anti-Money Laundering Law of the People's Republic of China", the "Anti-Unfair Competition Law of the People's Republic of China", and the "Prevention of Bribery Ordinance" (Cap. 201) in Hong Kong. The Group has also arranged anti-corruption training for directors and staff to remind them to maintain a high level of ethical conduct and adhere to the core values of "Honesty, Integrity and Fair Competition".

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Impairment allowance for trade receivables
As at 31 December 2023, the balance of trade receivables amounted to approximately RMB80,518,000. Trade receivables accounted for 13.6% of total assets in the consolidated statement of financial position. The Group recognised an allowance for estimated credit losses for trade receivables of approximately RMB11,751,000 as at 31 December 2023, which required significant judgement from management in evaluating probability of default, expected losses and forward looking factors. We identified impairment allowance for trade receivables as a key audit matter due to the significant judgements and estimates exercised by the Group's management. The accounting policies and disclosures for the loss allowance for impairment of trade receivables are made in notes 2.4, 3 and 17 to the consolidated financial statements.	We performed the following procedures to assess the impairment allowance for trade receivables: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> — understood, evaluated and validated the design and operating effectiveness of management control over the assessment of allowance for trade receivables; — tested on a sample basis the ageing of trade receivables at year end; — evaluated and tested the methodologies and data/parameters used by management, including migration rate, historical loss information and forward looking factors; — analysed the fluctuations of major customers' outstanding balance and trade receivable turnover days; and — checked the customer nature, background, credit standing for each of the material trade receivables as at year end by performing public research and making inquiry of major customers.

OTHER INFORMATION INCLUDED IN THE ANNUAL REPORT

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors of the Company are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Our report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Lam Wai Ming, Ada.

The above table lists the subsidiaries of the Company which, in the opinion of the directors, principally affected the results for the year or formed a substantial portion of the net assets of the Group.

2.1 BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) (which include all Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention. These financial statements are presented in Renminbi (“RMB”) and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 December 2023. A subsidiary is an entity (including a structured entity), directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee (i.e., existing rights that give the Group the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee).

Generally, there is a presumption that a majority of voting rights results in control. When the Company has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- (a) the contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee;
- (b) rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- (c) the Group’s voting rights and potential voting rights.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company, using consistent accounting policies. The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control described above. A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

31 December 2023

Basis of consolidation (Continued)

If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the related assets (including goodwill), liabilities, any non-controlling interest and the exchange fluctuation reserve; and recognises the fair value of any investment retained and any resulting surplus or deficit in profit or loss. The Group's share of components previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss or retained profits, as appropriate, on the same basis as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

2.2 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DISCLOSURES

The Group has adopted the following new and revised HKFRSs for the first time for the current year's financial statements.

HKFRS 17	Insurance Contracts
Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKFRS Practice Statement 2	Disclosure of Accounting Policies
Amendments to HKAS 8	Definition of Accounting Estimates
Amendments to HKAS 12	Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction
Amendments to HKAS 12	International Tax Reform — Pillar Two Model Rules

The nature and the impact of the new and revised HKFRSs that are applicable to the Group are described below:

- (a) Amendments to HKAS 1 require entities to disclose their material accounting policy information rather than their significant accounting policies. Accounting policy information is material if, when considered together with other information included in an entity's financial statements, it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general purpose financial statements make on the basis of those financial statements. Amendments to HKFRS Practice Statement 2 Making Materiality Judgements provide non-mandatory guidance on how to apply the concept of materiality to accounting policy disclosures. The Group has disclosed the material accounting policy information from note 2.1 to note 2.4 to the financial statements. The amendments did not have any impact on the measurement, recognition or presentation of any items in the Group's financial statements.
- (b) Amendments to HKAS 8 clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates and changes in accounting policies. Accounting estimates are defined as monetary amounts in financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty. The amendments also clarify how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates. Since the Group's approach and policy align with the amendments, the amendments had no impact on the Group's financial statements.

- (c) Amendments to HKAS 12 Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception in HKAS 12 so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences, such as leases and decommissioning obligations. Therefore, entities are required to recognise a deferred tax asset (provided that sufficient taxable profit is available) and a deferred tax liability for temporary differences arising from these transactions. Upon the application of the amendments, the Group has determined the temporary differences arising from right-of-use assets and lease liabilities separately, which have been reflected in the reconciliation disclosed in note 23 to the financial statements. However, they did not have any material impact on the overall deferred tax balances presented in the consolidated statement of financial position as the related deferred tax balances qualified for offsetting under HKAS 12.
- (d) Amendments to HKAS 12 International Tax Reform — Pillar Two Model Rules introduce a mandatory temporary exception from the recognition and disclosure of deferred taxes arising from the implementation of the Pillar Two model rules published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. The amendments also introduce disclosure requirements for the affected entities to help users of the financial statements better understand the entities' exposure to Pillar Two income taxes, including the disclosure of current tax related to Pillar Two income taxes separately in the periods when Pillar Two legislation is effective and the disclosure of known or reasonably estimable information of their exposure to Pillar Two income taxes in periods in which the legislation is enacted or substantively enacted but not yet in effect. The Group has applied the amendments retrospectively. Since the Group did not fall within the scope of the Pillar Two model rules, the amendments did not have any impact to the Group.

2.3 ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

The Group has not applied the following revised HKFRSs, that have been issued but are not yet effective, in these financial statements. The Group intends to apply these revised HKFRSs, if applicable, when they become effective.

2.3 ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (Continued)

Further information about those HKFRSs that are expected to be applicable to the Group is described below.

Amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28 address an inconsistency between the requirements in HKFRS 10 and in HKAS 28 in dealing with the sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture. The amendments require a full recognition of a gain or loss resulting from a downstream transaction when the sale or contribution of assets constitutes a business. For a transaction involving assets that do not constitute a business, a gain or loss resulting from the transaction is recognised in the investor's profit or loss only to the extent of the unrelated investor's interest in that associate or joint venture. The amendments are to be applied prospectively. The previous mandatory effective date of amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28 was removed by the HKICPA. However, the amendments are available for adoption now.

Amendments to HKFRS 16 specify the requirements that a seller-lessee uses in measuring the lease liability arising in a sale and leaseback transaction to ensure the seller-lessee does not recognise any amount of the gain or loss that relates to the right of use it retains. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2024 and shall be applied retrospectively to sale and leaseback transactions entered into after the date of initial application of HKFRS 16 (i.e., 1 January 2019). Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

The 2020 Amendments clarify the requirements for classifying liabilities as current or non-current, including what is meant by a right to defer settlement and that a right to defer must exist at the end of the reporting period. Classification of a liability is unaffected by the likelihood that the entity will exercise its right to defer settlement. The amendments also clarify that a liability can be settled in its own equity instruments, and that only if a conversion option in a convertible liability is itself accounted for as an equity instrument would the terms of a liability not impact its classification. The 2022 Amendments further clarify that, among covenants of a liability arising from a loan arrangement, only those with which an entity must comply on or before the reporting date affect the classification of that liability as current or non-current. Additional disclosures are required for non-current liabilities that are subject to the entity complying with future covenants within 12 months after the reporting period. The amendments shall be applied retrospectively with early application permitted. An entity that applies the 2020 Amendments early is required to apply simultaneously the 2022 Amendments, and vice versa. The Group is currently assessing the impact of the amendments and whether existing loan agreements may require revision. Based on a preliminary assessment, the amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to HKAS 7 and HKFRS 7 clarify the characteristics of supplier finance arrangements and require additional disclosure of such arrangements. The disclosure requirements in the amendments are intended to assist users of financial statements in understanding the effects of supplier finance arrangements on an entity's liabilities, cash flows and exposure to liquidity risk. Earlier application of the amendments is permitted. The amendments provide certain transition reliefs regarding comparative information, quantitative information as at the beginning of the annual reporting period and interim disclosures. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to HKAS 21 specify how an entity shall assess whether a currency is exchangeable into another currency and how it shall estimate a spot exchange rate at a measurement date when exchangeability is lacking. The amendments require disclosures of information that enable users of financial statements to understand the impact of a currency not being exchangeable. Earlier application is permitted. When applying the amendments, an entity cannot restate comparative information. Any cumulative effect of initially applying the amendments shall be recognised as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained profits or to the cumulative amount of translation differences accumulated in a separate component of equity, where appropriate, at the date of initial application. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Investments in associates

An associate is an entity in which the Group has a long term interest of generally not less than 20% of the equity voting rights and over which it has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee, but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The Group's investments in associates are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses.

Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and other comprehensive income of associates is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and consolidated other comprehensive income, respectively. In addition, when there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the associate, the Group recognises its share of any changes, when applicable, in the consolidated statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's investments in the associates, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the assets transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of associates is included as part of the Group's investments in associates.

Investments in associates (Continued)

If an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or vice versa, the retained interest is not remeasured. Instead, the investment continues to be accounted for under the equity method. In all other case, upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Group measures and recognises any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in profit or loss.

Impairment of non-financial assets

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for non-financial asset is required (other than deferred tax assets, and inventories), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs of disposal, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, a portion of the carrying amount of a corporate asset (e.g., a headquarters building) is allocated to an individual cash-generating unit if it can be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis or, otherwise, to the smallest group of cash-generating units.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it arises in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of an asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, but not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

- (a) the party is a person or a close member of that person's family and that person
 - (i) has control or joint control over the Group;
 - (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
 - (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or of a parent of the Group; or

- (b) the party is an entity where any of the following conditions applies:
 - (i) the entity and the Group are members of the same group;
 - (ii) one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or of a parent, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary of the other entity);
 - (iii) the entity and the Group are joint ventures of the same third party;
 - (iv) one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity;
 - (v) the entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group;
 - (vi) the entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a);
 - (vii) a person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity); and
 - (viii) the entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the parent of the Group.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Property, plant and equipment, other than construction in progress, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use.

Expenditure incurred after items of property, plant and equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where the recognition criteria are satisfied, the expenditure for a major inspection is capitalised in the carrying amount of the asset as a replacement. Where significant parts of property, plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Group recognises such parts as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciates them accordingly.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of each item of property, plant and equipment to its residual value over its estimated useful life. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are as follows:

Machinery	9.5% to 19.0%
Motor vehicles	23.8% to 31.7%
Office equipment	19.0% to 31.7%

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a reasonable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at least at each financial year end.

An item of property, plant and equipment including any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in profit or loss in the year the asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset.

Construction in progress is stated at cost less any impairment losses, and is not depreciated. It is reclassified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is the fair value at the date of acquisition. The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are subsequently amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each financial year end.

Software

Purchased software is stated at cost less any impairment losses and is amortised on the straight-line basis over its estimated useful lives of 1 year to 3 years.

Research and development costs

All research costs are charged to the statement of profit or loss as incurred.

Expenditure incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. Product development expenditure which does not meet these criteria is expensed when incurred.

Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

(a) Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are recognised at the commencement date of the lease (that is the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease terms and the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Office and warehouse	2 to 5 years
Leasehold land	50 years

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group by the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Leases (Continued)

(b) Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are recognised at the commencement date of the lease at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for termination of a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate the lease. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in lease payments (e.g., a change to future lease payments resulting from a change in an index or rate) or a change in assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

(c) Short-term leases

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of machinery and equipment (that is those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option).

Lease payments on short-term leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Investments and other financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income, and fair value through profit or loss.

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Group's business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group initially measures a financial asset at its fair value, plus in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under HKFRS 15 in accordance with the policies set out for "Revenue recognition" below.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (“SPPI”) on the principal amount outstanding. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

The Group’s business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Financial assets classified and measured at amortised cost are held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, while financial assets classified and measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are held within a business model with the objective of both holding to collect contractual cash flows and selling. Financial assets which are not held within the aforementioned business models are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement of financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in the statement of profit or loss when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e., removed from the Group’s consolidated statement of financial position) when:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a “pass-through” arrangement; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

31 December 2023

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if, and to what extent, it has retained the risk and rewards of ownership of the asset. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises an allowance for expected credit losses (“ECLs”) for all debt instruments not held at fair value through profit or loss. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

General approach

ECLs are recognised in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12 months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. When making the assessment, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition and considers reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort, including historical and forward-looking information. The Group considers that there has been a significant increase in credit risk when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due.

The Group considers a financial asset in default when contractual payments are 90 days past due. However, in certain cases, the Group may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Group is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Group.

A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Financial assets at amortised cost are subject to impairment under the general approach and they are classified within the following stages for measurement of ECLs except for trade receivables which apply the simplified approach as detailed below.

- Stage 1 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs
- Stage 2 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition but that are not credit-impaired financial assets and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs
- Stage 3 – Financial assets that are credit-impaired at the reporting date (but that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired) and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs

Simplified approach

For trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or when the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group applies the simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Under the simplified approach, the Group does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The Group has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Group's financial liabilities include trade and other payables and accruals, amounts due to related parties and interest-bearing bank borrowings.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

31 December 2023

Financial liabilities (Continued)

Subsequent measurement of financial liabilities

Financial liabilities at amortised cost (trade and other payables, and borrowings)

After initial recognition, trade and other payables, and interest-bearing borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost. Gains and losses are recognised in the statement of profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the effective interest rate amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. The effective interest rate amortisation is included in finance costs in the statement of profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average basis. Net realisable value is based on the estimated selling price less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash on hand and at banks, and short-term highly liquid deposits with a maturity of generally within three months that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and at banks, and short-term deposits as defined above, less bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management.

Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss, either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period, taking into consideration interpretations and practices prevailing in the countries in which the Group operates.

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the end of the reporting period between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and
- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Income tax (Continued)

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary differences arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and
- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at the end of each reporting period and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if and only if the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities which intend either to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis over the periods that the costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Revenue recognition

Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of goods is transferred to the customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods.

(a) Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when control of the asset is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery of goods.

Revenue recognition

Other income

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method by applying the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, when appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Contract liabilities

A contract liability is recognised when a payment is received or a payment is due (whichever is earlier) from a customer before the Group transfers the related goods or services. Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract (i.e., transfers control of the related goods or services to the customer).

Other employee benefits

Pension scheme

The employees of the Group's subsidiaries which operate in Chinese Mainland are required to participate in a central pension scheme operated by the local municipal government. The Group is required to contribute a certain percentage of their payroll costs to the central pension scheme. The contributions are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the central pension scheme.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, i.e., assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. The capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Dividends

Final dividends are recognised as a liability when they are approved by the shareholders in a general meeting. Proposed final dividends are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. Interim dividends are simultaneously proposed and declared, because the Company's memorandum and articles of association grant the directors the authority to declare interim dividends. Consequently, interim dividends are recognised immediately as a liability when they are proposed and declared.

Foreign currencies

The Company's functional currency is the Hong Kong dollar ("HK$"), while these financial statements are presented in RMB, since the Group's operations are mainly located in the Chinese Mainland, and its transactions, monetary assets and liabilities are primarily denominated in RMB. Each entity in the Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Foreign currency transactions recorded by the entities in the Group are initially recorded using their respective functional currency rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the end of the reporting period. Differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured. The gain or loss arising on translation of a non-monetary item measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation difference on the item whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss is also recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss, respectively).

In determining the exchange rate on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to an advance consideration, the date of initial transaction is the date on which the Group initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Group determines the transaction date for each payment or receipt of the advance consideration.

The functional currencies of the Company and certain overseas subsidiaries are currencies other than the RMB. As at the end of the reporting period, the assets and liabilities of these entities are translated into RMB at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period and their statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are translated into RMB at the exchange rates that approximate to those prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the exchange fluctuation reserve, except to the extent that the differences are attributable to non-controlling interests. On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount in the reserve relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in profit or loss.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, the cash flows of non-PRC established entities are translated into RMB at the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the cash flows. Frequently recurring cash flows of non-PRC established entities which arise throughout the year are translated into RMB at the weighted average exchange rates for the year.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of the Group's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and their accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of the assets or liabilities affected in the future.

Estimation uncertainty

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below.

Net realisable value of inventories

Net realisable value of inventories is the estimated selling price less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal. These estimates are based on the current market condition and the historical experience of selling products of a similar nature. It could change significantly as a result of changes in customer taste or competitor actions in response to severe consumer product industry cycles. Management reassesses these estimates at each reporting date. The carrying amount of inventories at 31 December 2023 was RMB57,107,000 (2022: RMB92,879,000).

Provision for expected credit losses on trade receivables

The Group uses a provision matrix to calculate ECLs for trade receivables. The provision rates are based on days past due for groupings of various customer segments that have similar loss patterns.

The provision matrix is initially based on the Group's historical observed default rates. The Group will calibrate the matrix to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information. At each reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

The assessment of the correlation among historical observed default rates, forecast economic conditions and ECLs is a significant estimate. The amount of ECLs is sensitive to changes in circumstances and forecast economic conditions. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast of economic conditions may also not be representative of customer's actual default in the future. The information about the ECLs on the Group's trade receivables is disclosed in note 17 to the financial statements.

Impairment of non-financial assets (other than goodwill)

The Group assesses whether there are any indicators of impairment for all non-financial assets (including the right-of-use assets) at the end of each reporting period. Non-financial assets are tested for impairment when there are indicators that the carrying amounts may not be recoverable. An impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or a cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The calculation of the fair value less costs of disposal is based on available data from binding sales transactions in an arm's length transaction of similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. When value in use calculations are undertaken, management must estimate the expected future cash flows from the asset or cash-generating unit and choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The carrying amount of property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets, other intangible assets and an investment in an associate at 31 December 2023 in aggregate was RMB225,814,000 (2022: RMB139,790,000).

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES (Continued)

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. The carrying value of deferred tax assets was RMB3,580,000 as at 31 December 2023 (2022: RMB556,000) (note 23).

Leases – Estimating the incremental borrowing rate

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in a lease, and therefore, it uses an incremental borrowing rate (“IBR”) to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment. The IBR therefore reflects what the Group “would have to pay”, which requires estimation when no observable rates are available (such as for subsidiaries that do not enter into financing transactions) or when it needs to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease (for example, when leases are not in the subsidiary’s functional currency). The Group estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates (such as the subsidiary’s stand-alone credit rating).

4. OPERATING SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Group’s principal business is the distribution of food ingredients and food additives. For management purposes, the Group operates in one business unit based on its products, and has one reportable segment which is the distribution of food ingredients and food additives.

Information about geographical area

Since over 95% of the Group’s revenue was generated from the distribution of food ingredients and food additives in Chinese Mainland and about 95% of the Group’s identifiable non-current assets were located in Chinese Mainland, no geographical information is presented in accordance with HKFRS 8 Operating Segments.

Information about a major customer

Revenue from continuing operations of approximately RMB51,772,000 (2022: RMB54,864,000) was derived from sales to a single customer, including sales to a group of entities which are known to be under common control with that customer.

At 31 December 2023, the Group held 28,125,200 shares, representing approximately 8.59% equity interest in Tianye Innovation Company (“Tianye”). The board of directors of Tianye has five members which includes the chief executive officer of the Company. Therefore, the Group considered that it has significant influence on Tianye as it holds 20% of the voting rights in Tianye and has the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of Tianye. Tianye was listed on the Beijing Stock Exchange Co. Ltd. in the PRC on 2 February 2023 and issued 57,304,000 new shares. The Group’s equity interest was diluted from 10.42% to 8.59% during the year, resulting in a loss on deemed disposal of approximately RMB1,690,000 (note 6). 23. DEFERRED TAX (Continued)

Pursuant to the PRC Corporate Income Tax Law, a 10% withholding tax is levied on dividends declared to foreign investors from the foreign investment enterprises established in Chinese Mainland. The requirement is effective from 1 January 2008 and applies to earnings after 31 December 2007. A lower withholding tax rate may be applied if there is a tax treaty between Chinese Mainland and the jurisdiction of the foreign investors. The Group is therefore liable for withholding taxes on dividends distributable by those subsidiaries established in Chinese Mainland in respect of earnings generated from 1 January 2008. Under the current organisation and operation structure, the Group's applicable rate is 5%.

At of 31 December 2023, deferred tax liability, approximately RMB1,000,000 (2022: RMB1,750,000), has been recognised for withholding taxes that would be payable on unremitted earnings that are subject to withholding taxes of the Group's subsidiaries established in Chinese Mainland. In the opinion of the directors, it is not probable that these subsidiaries will distribute other remaining earnings in the foreseeable future as such earnings will be retained in Chinese Mainland for future operations.

The aggregate amounts of temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries in Chinese Mainland for which deferred tax liabilities have not been recognised were approximately RMB201,372,000 as at 31 December 2023 (2022: RMB201,206,000), respectively.

The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long term debt obligations with a floating interest rate.

The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in interest rates relates primarily to its interest-bearing bank borrowings. The Group does not use derivative financial instruments to manage its interest rate risk. The interest rates and terms of repayments of the borrowings are disclosed in note 22 to the financial statements.

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for variable rate bank loans at the end of the reporting period and assumed that the amount of liabilities outstanding at the end of reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year would decrease/increase by RMB7,000 (2022: nil).

Foreign currency risk

The Group has transactional currency exposures. Such exposures arise from purchases by operating units in currencies other than the units' functional currencies. For 2023, approximately 77% (2022: 81%) of costs were denominated in the units' functional currencies. The Group currently has no particular hedging vehicles to hedge its exposure to foreign exchange risk. It is the Group's policy to monitor foreign exchange exposure and to make use of appropriate hedging measures when required.

Credit risk

The Group trades only with recognised and creditworthy third parties and related parties. It is the Group's policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verification procedures. In addition, receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis.

Since cash and bank balances, time deposits, and bank acceptance bills receivable are placed with the well-established banks with high credit ratings, the credit risk of these financial instruments is relatively low.

The credit risk of the Group's other financial assets, which comprise deposits, other receivables and the amounts due from related parties, arises from default of the counterparty, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amounts of these instruments.

Maximum exposure and year-end staging as at 31 December 2023

The tables below show the credit quality and the maximum exposure to credit risk based on the Group's credit policy, which is mainly based on past due information unless other information is available without undue cost or effort, and year-end staging classification as at 31 December. The amounts presented are gross carrying amounts for financial asset.

* For trade receivables, the Group has applied the simplified approach to measure the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. Except for debtors with significant outstanding balances or insignificant balances with specific risks, the Group determines the expected credit loss on these items by using a provision matrix (note 17).

 The credit quality of bills receivable and the financial assets included in prepayments, other receivables and other assets is considered to be “normal” when they are not past due and there is no information indicating that the financial assets had a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. Otherwise, the credit quality of the financial assets is considered to be “doubtful”.

 The Group analysed the credit risk related to amounts due from related parties and categorised all the amounts in stage 1 at the end of the reporting period as they are not past due and do not have a significant increase in credit risk. During the year, the Group estimated the expected credit loss rate for amounts due from related parties is minimal.

Liquidity risk

The Group monitors its risk to a shortage of funds using a recurring liquidity planning tool. This tool considers the maturity of both its financial instruments and financial assets (e.g., trade receivables) and projected cash flows from operations.

The maturity profile of the Group's financial liabilities as at the end of the reporting period, based on the contractual undiscounted payments, was as follows:

32. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES*(Continued)Capital management

The primary objectives of the Group's capital management are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and to maintain healthy capital ratios in order to support its business and maximise shareholders' value.

The Group regards equity attributable to owners of the parent as capital and manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares.

During the year, the Group's strategy was to maintain the debt to assets ratio at a healthy level in order to support its businesses. The principal strategies adopted by the Group include, without limitation, reviewing future cash flow requirements and the ability to meet debt repayment schedules when they fall due, and adjusting investment plans and financing plans, if necessary, to ensure that the Group has a reasonable debt to assets ratio to support its business. The debt to assets ratios at the end of the reporting periods are as follows:

	2023 RMB'000	2022 RMB'000
Total current liabilities	102,736	97,448
