Article 87 The number of votes in the accumulative voting method shall be determined as follows:

- (I) In the election of non-independent non-executive directors or supervisors, the number of shares held by each shareholder multiplied by the number of non-independent non-executive directors or supervisors to be elected at the general meeting, i.e. the accumulative number of votes of such shareholder; in the election of independent non-executive directors, the number of shares held by each shareholder multiplied by the number of independent non-executive directors to be elected at the general meeting, i.e. the accumulative number of votes of such shareholder;

If the independent non-executive directors, supervisors of the Company, scrutineers for the vote-taking at the general meeting or witnessing lawyers disagree with the results of the announcement, they shall immediately verify the results.

The voting under accumulative voting system shall be conducted as follows:

- (I) Each shareholder shall be entitled to a cumulative number of votes as shall be equal to the number of shares held by him/her multiplied by the number of independent non-executive Directors upon whom he/she can vote, when electing independent non-executive Directors. Such votes may only be casted for the candidates of the independent non-executive Directors. Each shareholder shall be entitled to a cumulative number of votes as shall be equal to the number of shares held by him/her multiplied by the number of non-independent non-executive Directors upon whom he/she can vote, when electing non-independent non-executive Directors. - (II) After the voting process ends, directors or supervisors shall be elected by winning more than a half of the number of valid votes held by the shareholders present at the general meeting (based on the total number of votes before cumulative voting rights are applied), according to the number of votes received by each candidate and subject to the number of directors or supervisors to be elected in descending order;
- (III) If the number of candidates for directors or supervisors who receive more than a half of the number of valid votes held by the shareholders present at the general meeting (based on the total number of votes before cumulative voting rights are applied) exceeds the number of directors or supervisors to be elected and the two or more candidates ranked last receive the same number of votes, the other candidates ranked before them shall be elected. A new ballot shall be conducted for those candidates who have received the same number of votes by applying the accumulative voting system. The candidates who ranks first in descending order of votes number shall be elected;
- (IV) In the event that the number of candidates for directors or supervisors receiving more than a half of the number of valid votes held by the shareholders present at the general meeting (based on the total number of votes before cumulative voting rights are applied) in the first round of voting is less than the number of directors and supervisors to be elected, a new ballot shall be conducted for the unelected candidates by applying the accumulative voting system. The candidates who ranks first in descending order of votes number shall be elected to fill the number of candidates to be elected. In the event of failure to determine the elected candidate due to a tie vote, a new ballot shall be held in accordance with the above-mentioned rules;

- (V) If the number of directors or supervisors specified in the Articles of Association cannot be elected after three rounds of voting at the general meeting, another general meeting shall be held within two months after the conclusion of this general meeting to elect the vacant directors or supervisors. In addition to the cumulative voting system, the general meeting shall resolve on all the proposals separately; in the event of several proposals for the same issue, such proposals shall be voted on and resolved in the order of time at which they are submitted. Unless the general meeting is adjourned or no resolution can be made for special reasons such as force majeure, voting of such proposals shall neither be shelved nor refused at the general meeting.

Article 89 In addition to the cumulative voting system, the general meeting shall resolve on all the proposals separately; in the event of several proposals for the same issue, such proposals shall be voted on and resolved in the order of time at which they are submitted. Unless the general meeting is adjourned or no resolution can be made for special reasons such as force majeure, voting of such proposals shall neither be shelved nor refused at the general meeting.

Article 90 When considering a proposal, the general meeting shall not revise it; otherwise such amendments shall be deemed as a new proposal and may not be voted at the current meeting.

Article 91 The same voting right shall only be exercised on site, via the Internet or by other means (if any). Where the same vote is cast for two or more times, the first cast shall hold.

Article 92 The general meeting shall vote by open ballot.

The voting result in connection with the resolution shall be recorded in the minutes of meeting.

Article 94 Shareholders of the Company or their proxies shall have right to check the results of their votes through the voting system if they vote via the Internet or other means. A general meeting shall not conclude earlier at the venue than over the Internet or otherwise. At the conclusion of the general meeting on site, the presider shall announce the voting status and results of each proposal and announce whether the proposal is adopted or not based on the voting results.

Prior to the formal announcement of the voting results, relevant parties involved in relation to voting on the site of the general meeting, via the Internet or by other means, including the persons responsible for counting votes and scrutinizing the voting, substantial shareholders, Internet service providers, and the Company, shall be obliged to keep the voting status confidential.

Article 95 The shareholders attending the general meeting shall express one of the following opinions on the proposal to be voted on: for, against, or abstain. Save for the circumstance under which the securities registration and settlement institution, acting as the nominal holder (if any) of shares under the mutual stock market access between the Mainland and Hong Kong, makes reporting in accordance with the instruction of the de facto holder of relevant shares.

An unfilled, wrongly filled, or illegible vote, or an uncast vote shall be deemed to be a waiver of the voting right of the voter, and the voting result for the number of shares he/she holds shall be accounted as “abstain”.

If in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations and the Listing Rules of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, any shareholder is required to abstain from voting or is restricted to voting for (or against) any individual resolution, any vote by the shareholder or his/her proxies in contravention thereof shall not be counted into the voting result.

Article 96 If the presider of the meeting has any doubts as to the result of a resolution which has been put to vote at the general meeting, he/she may have the votes counted. If the presider of the meeting has not counted the votes, any shareholder present in person or by proxy who objects to the result announced by the presider of the meeting may, immediately after the declaration, demand that the votes be counted, and the presider of the meeting shall have the votes counted immediately.
