PRC LAWS AND REGULATIONS

We are subject to a variety of PRC laws, rules and regulations affecting many aspects of our business. This section summarizes the principal PRC laws, regulations and rules that we believe are relevant to our business and operations.

Regulations on Company Establishment and Foreign Investment

The PRC Company Law (《中華人民共和國公司法》), which was promulgated by the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress (the "SCNPC") and further amended in December 1999, August 2004, October 2005, December 2013 and October 2018, applies to the establishment, operation and management of both PRC domestic companies and foreign-invested enterprises. According to the PRC Company Law, where there are otherwise provisions in the laws relating to foreign investment, such provisions shall prevail.

The Foreign Investment Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國外商投資法》) (the "FIL"), which was promulgated by the National People's Congress (the "NPC") on March 15, 2019, and came into effect on January 1, 2020, provides that the "foreign investment" refers to the investment activities in China carried out directly or indirectly by foreign individuals, enterprises or other organizations (the "Foreign Investors"), including the following: (1) Foreign Investors establishing foreign-invested enterprises in China alone or collectively with other investors; (2) Foreign Investors acquiring shares, equities, properties or other similar rights of Chinese domestic enterprises; (3) Foreign Investors investing in new projects in China alone or collectively with other investors; and (4) Foreign Investors investing through other ways prescribed by laws and regulations or the State Council. The FIL further adopts the management system of pre-establishment national treatment and negative list for foreign investment. The "pre-establishment national treatment" refers to granting to foreign investors and their investments, in the stage of investment access, the treatment no less favorable than that granted to domestic investors and their investments; the "negative list" refers to special administrative measures for access of foreign investment in specific fields as stipulated by the State. The FIL granted national treatment to foreign investments outside the negative list. The negative list will be released by or upon approval of the State Council.

In December 2019, the State Council promulgated the Regulations on Implementing the Foreign Investment Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國外商投資法實施條例》) (the "Implementation Rules") which came into effect in January 2020. The Implementation Rules further clarified that the state shall encourage and promote foreign investment, protect the lawful rights and interests in foreign investments, regulate foreign investment administration, continue to optimize foreign investment environment, and advances a higher-level opening.

Investment activities in the PRC by foreign investors were principally governed by the Special Administrative Measures (Negative List) for Access of Foreign Investment (2021 version) (《外商投資准入特別管理措施(負面清單)(2021年版)》) (the "Negative List"), and the Catalogue of Industries for Encouraging Foreign Investment (《鼓勵外商投資產業目錄(2022年版)》) (the "Encouraging List") promulgated by the MOFCOM and the NDRC in October 2022. The Negative List, which came into effect on January 1, 2022, sets out special administrative measures (restricted or prohibited) in respect of the access of foreign investments in a centralized manner, and the Encouraging List, which came into effect on January 1, 2023, sets out the encouraged industries for foreign investment. The Negative Lists cover 12 industries, and any field not falling in the Negative Lists shall be administered under the principle of equal treatment for domestic and foreign investment. Our business as currently conducted does not fall within the confines of the Negative Lists and is not subject to special administrative measures.

The Measures on Reporting of Foreign Investment Information (《外商投資信息報告辦法》) was released by the MOFCOM and the State Administration for Market Regulation (the "SAMR") on December 30, 2019, and became effective on January 1, 2020. Foreign investors directly or indirectly conducting investment activities within the territory of China shall submit the investment information through submission of initial reports, change reports, deregistration reports, annual reports etc. to the competent commerce authorities in accordance with The Measures on Reporting of Foreign Investment Information. When submitting an annual report, a foreign-invested enterprise shall submit the basic information on the enterprise, the information on the investors and their actual controlling party, the enterprise's operation and asset and liabilities information etc, and where the foreign investment admission special administrative measures are involved, the foreign investment enterprise shall also submit the relevant industry licensing information.

Regulations and Industry standards on Autonomous Driving and Intelligent Connected Vehicles Industry

In 2006, in order to promote the rapid development of China's automotive product safety technology level, reduce the casualty rate in road traffic accidents, and achieve the goal of building a harmonious automotive society, China Automotive Technology Research Center officially established the C-NCAP (中國新車評價規程) based on fully considering the actual situation of road traffic accidents in China, combined with China's automotive standards, technology, and economic development level. With the smooth implementation of C-NCAP and the in-depth study of C-NCAP, China Automotive Technology Research Center has also improved and upgraded the C-NCAP Management Code many times, which has been amended in 2006, 2009, 2012, 2015, 2018 and 2021. According to the C-NCAP, OEMs are responsible to carry out the testing.

C-NCAP aims at establishing a high standard, fair and objective vehicle safety performance evaluation method to promote the development of vehicle safety technology and pursue higher safety concept. The significance of the project is to provide consumers with safety information of newly released vehicles, promote production enterprises to strengthen attention to safety standards, improve vehicles' safety performance and technology level, and enable vehicles' excellent safety performance to be reflected in the evaluation. Moreover, C-NCAP will rate the pilot with stars based on the overall scoring rate of three aspects: passenger protection, pedestrian protection and active safety. The scoring rate for passenger protection, pedestrian protection and active safety shall be calculated according to the test item respectively, and the scoring rate shall be multiplied by the weight coefficients of the three parts and the final result shall be the comprehensive scoring rate. The standards for star-level rating of comprehensive scoring rate are: no less than 92% shall be rated as 5 + star, no less than 83% and no more than 92% shall be rated as 5 stars, no less than 74% and no more than 83% shall be rated as 4 stars, no less than 65% and no more than 74% shall be rated as 3 stars, no less than 45% and no more than 65% shall be rated as 2 stars and a rating of less than 45% is 1-star.

The Taxonomy of Driving Automation for Vehicles (《汽車駕駛自動化分級》) was promulgated by the SAMR and Standardization Administration on August 20, 2021 and became effective on March 1, 2022, which refers to the corresponding standard of Society of Automotive Engineers, and stipulates that the standards for autonomous driving can be divided into: Level 0 (emergency assistance), Level 1 (partial driver assistance), Level 2 (combined driver assistance), Level 3 (conditionally automated driving), Level 4 (highly automated driving) and Level 5 (fully automated driving).

Moreover, Level 0 requires the driving automation system to have the capability to continuously perform detection and response of a part of the object and event, and when the driver requests the exit of the driving automation system, the control right of the system should be immediately released. Level 1 requires the driving automation system to continuously perform vehicle lateral or longitudinal motion control in a dynamic driving task on the basis of Level 0, and requires the driving automation system to have a partial capability of object and event detection and response in accordance with the vehicle lateral or longitudinal motion control. Level 2 further requires the driving automation system to satisfy the corresponding capabilities of both lateral and longitudinal motion control of vehicles. Level 3 mainly requires that the driving automation system be able to perform the full range of dynamic driving tasks under its designed operating conditions after activation. Level 4 mainly requires that the driving automation system should be able to automatically implement the minimum risk strategy when the relevant event happens and the user does not respond to the intervention request. Furthermore, Level 5 requires that the driving automation system has no limitation on the designed operating range and is able to achieve fully automated driving.

The Ministry of Industry and information Technology (the "MIIT"), the Ministry of Public Security and the Ministry of Transport jointly issued and implemented the Rules for the Administration of the Road Testing and Demonstrative Application of Intelligent Connected Vehicles (for Trial Implementation) (《智能網聯汽車道路測試與示範應用管理規範(試行)》) on July 27, 2021, which was implemented from September 1, 2021, any entity intending to conduct a road testing of autonomous driving vehicles must obtain a road-testing certificate and a temporary license plate for each tested vehicle. To qualify for above testing certificate and temporary license plate, an applicant entity must satisfy, among others, the following requirements: (1) it must be an independent legal person registered in PRC with the capacity to conduct intelligent connected vehicles-related businesses such as manufacturing, technological research and testing of vehicles and vehicle parts, which has established protocol to test and assess the performance of autonomous driving system and is capable of conducting real-time remote monitor of the road tested vehicles, and with the ability of event recording, analysis and reproduction of the vehicles under road testing and ensuring the network security of the vehicles under road testing and the remote monitor platforms; (2) the vehicle under road testing must be equipped with a driving system that can switch between autonomous pilot mode and human operating mode in a safe, quick and simple manner and allows human driver to take control of the vehicle any time immediately when necessary; (3) the tested vehicle must be equipped with the functions of recording, storing and real-time monitoring the condition of the vehicle and is able to transmit real-time data of the vehicle, such as the driving mode, location and speed; (4) the applicant entity must sign an employment contract or a labor service contract with the driver of the tested vehicle, who must be a licensed driver with more than three years' driving experience and a track record of safe driving and is familiar with the testing protocol for autonomous driving system and proficient in operating the system; (5) the applicant entity must insure each tested vehicle for at least RMB5 million against car accidents or provide a letter of guarantee covering the same. In addition, during testing, the testing entity should post a noticeable identification logo for autonomous driving test on each tested car and should not use autonomous driving mode unless in the permitted testing areas specified in the road-testing certificate. If the testing entity intends to conduct road testing in the region beyond the administrative territory of the certificate issuing authority, it must apply for a separate road-testing certificate and a separate temporary license plate from the relevant authority supervising the road-testing of autonomous cars in that region.

On March 24, 2021, the Ministry of Public Security promulgated the Road Traffic Safety Law (Revised Proposal Draft) (《道路交通安全法(修訂建議稿)》), which stipulates that vehicles with autonomous driving functions should pass road testing on closed roads and venues, obtain temporary driving license plates, and conduct road testing at designated times, areas, and routes according to regulations. Those who have passed the test and are allowed to be produced, imported, or sold in accordance with relevant laws and regulations, and those who need to pass on the road shall apply for a motor vehicle license plate. Moreover, vehicles with autonomous driving function and manual direct operation mode should record real-time driving data when conducting road tests or passing on the road; the driver should be in the driver's seat of the vehicle, monitor the operation status and surrounding environment of the vehicle, and be ready to take over the vehicle at any time. In case of road traffic safety violations or traffic accidents, the responsibility of the driver and the development unit of the autonomous driving system shall be determined according to law, and the liability for damages shall be determined in accordance with relevant laws and regulations. If a crime is constituted, criminal responsibility shall be pursued in accordance with the law. And vehicles with autonomous driving function but without manual direct operation mode shall be separately stipulated by relevant departments of the State Council for road traffic. Furthermore, the autonomous driving function should be tested and qualified by a third-party testing agency engaged in automotive related business with corresponding qualifications. As of the Latest Practicable Date, the aforementioned provisions of the Road Traffic Safety Law (Revised Proposal Draft) have not been formally adopted.

On July 30, 2021, the MIIT promulgated the Opinions on Strengthening the Administration of the Access of Intelligent Connected Vehicle Manufacturers and Products (《工業和信息化部關於加強智能網聯汽車生產企業及產品准入管理的意見》), which provides that enterprises should strengthen data security management ability and network security guarantee ability, as well as strengthen enterprise management ability and ensure product production consistency. Moreover, enterprises should strengthen product management: (a) Enterprises should strictly perform the obligation of informing. If the enterprise produces automobile products with driving assistance and autonomous driving functions, it shall clearly inform the vehicle functions and performance limits, driver responsibilities, human-computer interaction equipment indication information, function activation and exit methods and conditions, etc; (b) Enterprises should strengthen the safety management of combined driving assistance products; (c) Enterprises should strengthen the safety management of autonomous driving function products; (d) Enterprises ensure reliable space-time information services.

In 2017, the MIIT and the National Standardization Administration jointly released the world's first intelligent connected vehicle standard system – the Guidelines for the Construction of the National Connected Vehicle Industry Standard System (Intelligent Connected Vehicles) (《國家車聯網產業標準體系建設指南(智能網聯汽車)》), which made a systematic plan and deployment for China's intelligent connected vehicle standard system and established the Intelligent Connected Vehicles Sub technical Committee of the National Automotive Standardization Technical Committee, Coordinate the construction of the standard system for intelligent connected vehicles. As of now, the first phase of the construction of the intelligent connected vehicle standard system has been successfully completed. Moreover, according to the construction method of the technical logical structure and product physical structure of intelligent connected vehicles, taking into account different functional requirements, product and technology types, and information flow between various subsystems, the government defines the standard system framework of intelligent connected vehicles as four parts: "Foundation", "General Specifications", "Product and Technology Applications", and "Relevant Standards". Foundation mainly includes three types of basic standards, such as terminologies and definitions, classification and coding, identifications and symbols of intelligent connected vehicles. General Specifications put forward the overall requirements and specifications from the vehicle level, mainly including function evaluation, human-machine interface, function safety and information safety, etc. Product and Technology Applications mainly cover the functions, performance requirements, and testing methods of core technologies and applications of intelligent connected vehicles, such as information perception, decision warning, auxiliary control, automatic control, and information interaction. Relevant Standards mainly include communication protocols, the foundation of vehicle information communication, which mainly cover protocol specifications on medium, short-range communication, wide area communication and other aspects of the realization of intelligent information interaction among vehicles (individual passengers, vehicles, roads, clouds, etc.), and they also include standard specifications for software and hardware interface between various physical layers and different application layers.

In order to implement the National Standardization Development Outline (《國家標準化發展綱要》), promote the high-quality development of the intelligent connected vehicle industry, and accelerate the construction of an automobile power, MIIT has revised and improved the Guidelines for the Construction of the National Connected Vehicle Industry Standard System (Intelligent Connected Vehicles) based on the development of the intelligent connected vehicle technology industry, further formed the Guidelines for the Construction of the National Internet of Vehicles Industry Standard System (Intelligent Connected Vehicles) (2023 Edition) (《國家車聯網產業標準體系建設指南(智能網聯汽車)(2023年版)》), which provided that the government will establish a standard system for intelligent connected vehicles that adapts to China's national conditions and is in line with international standards in stages based on the current status of intelligent connected vehicle technology, industry needs, and future development trends. Moreover, regarding the stage 1 to 2025, the government will systematically form the system of standards for intelligent connected vehicles that can support the combined driving assistance and general functions of self-driving and formulate and revise over 100 relevant standards for intelligent connected vehicles to satisfy the demand for standardization of intelligent connected automobile technology, industry development and government administration. Regarding the stage 2 to 2030, a standard system for intelligent connected vehicles that can support the coordinated development of bicycle intelligence and connected vehicle empowerment will be fully formed, and the government will formulate and revise more than 140 standards related to intelligent connected vehicles, and establish an implementation effect evaluation and dynamic improvement mechanism to satisfy the demand for full-scene application of combined driving assistance, automatic driving and networked functions. Furthermore, the government will establish and improve a safety guarantee system, as well as a support system for software, hardware, and data resources. The coordination of international standards and regulations in key areas such as autonomous driving will reach an advanced level.

According to the Circular of the State Council on Issuing the Plan for Developing the Next Generation Artificial Intelligence (《國務院關於印發新一代人工智能發展規劃的通知》), the government will take three steps, the first step is that its overall technologies and applications of artificial intelligence should be synchronized with the world's advanced level by 2020. The second step is that major breakthroughs will be made in the basic theories of artificial intelligence, with some technologies and applications reaching the world's advanced level by 2025. The third step is that the theory, technology and application of artificial intelligence in general will reach the world-leading level, with China becoming the world's major artificial intelligence innovation center by 2030. Moreover, on February 10, 2020, the Strategies for the Innovative Development of Intelligent Vehicles (《智能汽車創新發展戰略》) was promulgated by the National Development and Reform Commission, the Office of the Central Leading Group for Cyberspace Affairs, the Ministry of Science and Technology and other eight departments. By 2025, the technological innovation, industrial ecology, infrastructure, regulations and standards, product supervision and cybersecurity systems for intelligent vehicles with Chinese standards shall be basically formed. Large-scale production shall be reached for intelligent vehicles with conditions for autonomous driving, and market-oriented application of intelligent vehicles featured by highly autonomous driving shall be realized under specific environment. Active progress has been made in the construction of facilities concerning intelligent transportation systems and intelligent cities. Regional coverage shall be realized for automotive wireless communications networks (LTE-V2X, etc.). A new generation of automotive wireless communications networks (5G-V2X) shall be gradually applied in some cities and on highways. Full coverage of the high-precision spatio-temporal reference service network shall be realized. From 2035 to 2050, China's standard intelligent vehicle system will be fully established and more complete. The vision of a safe, efficient, green and civilized power of intelligent vehicles will be gradually realized, and intelligent vehicles will fully meet the people's growing needs for a better life.
