Unless previously redeemed, converted or purchased and cancelled, the Issuer will redeem each Bond at its principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon on 25 June 2029 (the "Maturity Date"). The Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee, the Principal Agent and the Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption (the "Tax Redemption Date"), if the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of such notice that (i) the Issuer (or if the Guarantee was called, the Guarantor) has or will become obliged to pay Additional Tax Amounts (as defined in the Conditions), as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, or any change in the general application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations (including a decision by a court of competent jurisdiction), which change or amendment becomes effective on or after 17 June 2024, and (ii) such obligation cannot be avoided by the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) taking reasonable measures available to it. The Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to Bondholders, the Trustee and the Principal Agent (which notice will be irrevocable), redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption: (i) at any time after 9 July 2027 but prior to the Maturity Date, provided that no such redemption may be made unless the Closing Price of an H Share translated into U.S. dollars at the Prevailing Rate (as defined in the Conditions) applicable to each H Share Stock Exchange Business Day (as defined in the Conditions), for any 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days within a period of 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, the last of such H Share Stock Exchange Business Day shall occur not more than 10 days prior to the date upon which notice of such redemption is given, was, for each such 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, at least 130 per cent. of the Conversion Price (translated into U.S. dollars at the Fixed Exchange Rate (as defined in the Conditions)) then in effect. If there shall occur an event giving rise to a change in the Conversion Price during any such 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Day period, appropriate adjustments for the relevant days approved by an Independent Financial Advisor (as defined in the Conditions) shall be made for the purpose of calculating the Closing Price (as defined in the Conditions) of the H Shares for such days; or (ii) if at any time the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding is less than 10 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount originally issued (including any Bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15). The holder of each Bond will have the right at such holder's option, to require the Issuer to redeem all or some only of such holder's Bonds on the Put Option Date (as defined in the Conditions) at their principal amount on the Put Option Date, together with accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the Put Option Date. All payments made by or on behalf of the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) in respect of the Bonds (or, in the case of the Guarantor, the Guarantee) will be made free and clear of, and will be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or on behalf of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, unless deduction or withholding of such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges is compelled by law. Where such withholding or deduction is made by the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) by or within the PRC up to and including the aggregate rate applicable on 17 June 2024 (the “Applicable Rate”), the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) will increase the amounts paid by it to the extent required, so that the net amount received by Bondholders equals the amounts which would otherwise have been receivable by them had no such withholding or deduction been required.

If the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) is required to make a deduction or withholding in respect of PRC tax in excess of the Applicable Rate, or any Hong Kong deduction or withholding is required, in such event the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall pay such additional amounts (“Additional Tax Amounts”) as will result in receipt by the Bondholders of such amounts as would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, except that no Additional Tax Amounts shall be payable in respect of any Bond or the Guarantee in the circumstances set out in Condition 8 (Taxation).

Conversion Right and Conversion Period

Subject to and upon compliance with the Conditions, the right of a Bondholder to convert any Bond into H Shares is called the “Conversion Right”. At any time (subject to any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations and as provided in the Conditions) on or after the 41st day after the Issue Date up to the close of business (at the place where the Certificate evidencing such Bond is deposited for conversion) on the date falling 10 days prior to the Maturity Date (both days inclusive) or if such Bond shall have been called for redemption by the Issuer before the Maturity Date, then up to the close of business (at the place aforesaid) on a date no later than 10 days (both days inclusive and at the place aforesaid) prior to the date fixed for redemption thereof; provided that no Conversion Right may be exercised in respect of a Bond where the holder shall have exercised its right to require the Issuer to redeem or repurchase such Bond pursuant to Condition 7.4 or Condition 7.5 or during a Restricted Conversion Period (both dates inclusive). See “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Conversion — Conversion Right”.

Conversion Price

HK$19.84 per Share, subject to adjustment for, among other things, consolidation, subdivision or re-classification of the H Shares, capitalisation of profits or reserves of the Ordinary Shares, capital distributions of the Ordinary Shares, rights issues of the Ordinary Shares or options over the Ordinary Shares at less than 95% of the Current Market Price, rights issues of other securities, issues at less than 95% of the Current Market Price, other issues at less than 95% of the Current Market Price, modification of rights of conversion etc. at less than 95% of the Current Market Price, other offers to Ordinary Shareholders and other events as described in Condition 5.3.

Redemption for Taxation Reasons

At any time the Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee, the Principal Agent and the Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption, if the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of such notice that (i) the Issuer (or if the Guarantee was called, the Guarantor) has or will become obliged to pay Additional Tax Amounts as provided or referred to in Condition 8 as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, or any change in the general application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations (including a decision by a court of competent jurisdiction), which change or amendment becomes effective on or after 17 June 2024, and (ii) such obligation cannot be avoided by the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) taking reasonable measures available to it, provided that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 90 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) would be obliged to pay such Additional Tax Amounts were a payment in respect of the Bonds then due.

If the Issuer gives a notice of redemption pursuant to Condition 7.3, each Bondholder will have the right to elect that such holder's Bond(s) shall not be redeemed and that the provisions of Condition 8 shall not apply in respect of any payment of principal or interest to be made in respect of such Bond(s) which falls due after the relevant Tax Redemption Date, whereupon no Additional Tax Amounts shall be payable in respect thereof pursuant to Condition 8 and payment of all amounts shall be made subject to the deduction or withholding of the taxation required to be withheld or deducted by the government of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any authority thereof or therein having power to tax. See "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption for Taxation Reasons".

Option of the Issuer

The Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Bondholders, the Trustee and the Principal Agent (which notice will be irrevocable), redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption:

- (i) at any time after 9 July 2027 but prior to the Maturity Date, provided that no such redemption may be made unless the Closing Price of an H Share translated into U.S. dollars at the Prevailing Rate applicable to each H Share Stock Exchange Business Day, for any 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days within a period of 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, the last of such H Share Stock Exchange Business Day shall occur not more than 10 days prior to the date upon which notice of such redemption is given, was, for each such 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, at least 130 per cent. of the Conversion Price (translated into U.S. dollars at the Fixed Exchange Rate) then in effect. If there shall occur an event giving rise to a change in the Conversion Price during any such 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Day period, appropriate adjustments for the relevant days approved by an Independent Financial Advisor shall be made for the purpose of calculating the Closing Price of the H Shares for such days; or
- (ii) if at any time the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding is less than 10 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount originally issued (including any Bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15).

See "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption at the Option of the Issuer".

Redemption at the Option of the Bondholders

The holder of each Bond will have the right at such holder's option, to require the Issuer to redeem all or some only of that holder's Bonds on 25 June 2027 (the "Put Option Date") at their principal amount on the Put Option Date, together with accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the Put Option Date. To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Bond must complete, sign and deposit at the specified office of any Paying Agent during normal business hours (being between 9.00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) and 3.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), Monday to Friday except for public holidays) a duly completed and signed notice, substantially in the form scheduled to the Agency Agreement, obtainable from the specified office of any Paying Agent, together with the Certificate evidencing the Bonds to be redeemed not earlier than 60 days and not later than 30 days prior to the Put Option Date. See "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption at the Option of the Bondholders".

Redemption for Relevant Events

Following the occurrence of either (a) a Change of Control; (b) a Delisting; (c) an H Share Suspension in Trading or (d) a No Registration Event, the holder of each Bond will have the right at such holder's option, to require the Issuer to redeem all or some only of such holder's Bonds on the Relevant Event Put Date at their principal amount as at the Relevant Event Put Date, together with accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the Relevant Event Put Date. See "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption for Relevant Events".

Final Redemption at Maturity

Unless previously redeemed, converted or purchased and cancelled as provided in the Conditions, the Issuer will redeem each Bond at its principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon on the Maturity Date. See "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Maturity".

RISK FACTORS

This Offering Circular contains forward-looking statements relating to events that involve risks and uncertainties. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors set forth below, as well as the other information contained elsewhere in this Offering Circular. The risks described below are not the only ones that may affect the Company or the Bonds. Additional risks and uncertainties that we are not aware of or that we currently believe are immaterial may also adversely affect our financial condition or results of operations. If any of the possible events described below occur, our financial condition or results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. In such case, we may not be able to satisfy our obligations under the Bonds, and investors could lose all or part of their investment.

RISKS RELATING TO THE GROUP'S BUSINESS

Volatility in metal prices could adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations

Gold, together with copper, are the major income sources of the Group.

There are many factors influencing the price of gold, including, among others, U.S Federal Reserve's monetary policy, geopolitical conflicts, general global economic conditions (in particular, the economic conditions of the United States), inflationary expectations, fluctuations in the exchange rate of the US dollar, fluctuations in the stock and other financial investment markets and other political, military, social and economic contingencies. These factors are beyond the control of the Group. Changes in the price of gold as a result of these factors may adversely affect the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Group. Due to escalation of geopolitical conflicts, increased expectations of interest rate cuts by major central banks worldwide and continued gold purchases by central banks, in 2023, the LBMA spot gold price closed at USD2,062 per ounce, representing an increase of 12% from the beginning of the year, setting a record for the highest closing price for the year; and the average price of gold in 2023 was USD1,941 per ounce, representing an 8% increase from 2022, also hitting a new historical high. Although the price of gold remained high in 2023, there can be no assurance of the risk of volatility in gold prices in the future. The gold prices in recent years have been gradually increasing and have generally had a positive impact on the Group's financial performance. However, there is no assurance that the prices will remain at such levels and any decrease in the price of gold may materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The price of copper has experienced fluctuations in response to the changing resource availability, government policies, costs of production, trade disputes with target markets, global and regional economic conditions, demand in end markets for products in which the commodities are used, technological developments, including commodity substitutions, fluctuations in global production capacities and the level of global inventories, many of which are beyond the Group's control. For example, at the beginning of 2023, driven by the expectations of a shift in the Federal Reserve's interest rate policy and the economic recovery worldwide, the price of copper reached its highest level of the year at USD9,550 per tonne. Subsequently, the Federal Reserve maintained a hawkish stance and the demand rebounded less than expected, causing the central level of copper price to shift downward. In the second half of 2023, market participants focused on geopolitical risks and became risk-averse, pursuing safe-haven assets, including the US dollar and gold, while selling off risky assets. As a result, the prices of non-ferrous metals were under pressure in general, and the copper price reached its yearly low point of USD7,856 per tonne in October. At the end of 2023, there was a noticeable slowdown in both U.S. inflation and employment data, reinforcing expectations of interest rate cuts, coupled with the obvious increase in disruptions of overseas mining supply and a continuous decline in London Metal Exchange (LME) inventories, the price of copper rebounded and briefly surpassed USD8,700 per tonne. Changes in the price of copper may result in substantial impacts on the Group's operating results. Decline in copper price may result in greater pressure on the Group's production and operation.

Other metal products including zinc (lead), lithium, silver and molybdenum are also important to the income of the Group. Changes in the prices of these products may negatively affect the Group's operating results. Decline in product prices may result in greater pressure on the Group's production and operation.

The Group's businesses are susceptible to downturns in the general economy and industries in which the Group operates or which the Group serves

The Group's business is susceptible to economic and market conditions in the jurisdictions where it operates. A reduction in demand or supply could materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations. Demand for the Group's primary products of gold, copper, zinc (lead), lithium, silver, molybdenum and other non-ferrous metals depends on the general economy, level of activity and growth in the industries which the Group serves, such as traditional industries, new energy industries, real estate industry, infrastructure investment industry and automobile industry. Development of the relevant industries is subject to various factors, including but not limited to market fluctuations of the prices of commodities, macroeconomic policies, general political or economic conditions, technological development, government investment plans, fluctuations in global production capacity and consumer spending, many of which are beyond the Group's control. Unfavourable global financial or economic conditions could materially and adversely affect the Group's sales volume.

In addition, global macroeconomic events since 2011, such as the easing of monetary policy by various governments worldwide, the sovereign debt crisis in Europe, the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union and the U.S.-Sino trade tensions have had an adverse effect on the global economy. Furthermore, the global outbreak of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) and the efforts to constrain it have negatively impacted the global economy and financial markets, causing a global recession. In the past year, geopolitical influences intensified and global economic growth further slowed down. Intensified geopolitical tension has brought uncertainties to the global economy as well as significant volatilities in the global financial market. Uncertainties about future economic conditions make it challenging for the Group to forecast its results of operations, make business decisions and identify risks that may affect its business, which may in turn materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations. Any severe or prolonged slowdown in the global economy may materially and adversely affect the market conditions in the jurisdictions where the Group operates, which may in turn materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group is subject to laws, rules and regulations with respect to environmental matters and the treatment and discharge of hazardous wastes and materials

The production and operations of the Group are subject to the laws, rules and regulations with respect to environmental matters and the treatment and discharge of hazardous wastes and materials imposed by the relevant governmental authorities of countries and regions where the Group operates. One of the main environmental issues in the gold and non-ferrous metal mining industry is wastewater management. The wastewater discharges from the Group's operations have strictly complied with the local statutory standards for environmental releases of the countries and regions where the Group operates. However, extraordinarily heavy rainfalls or other natural disasters could result in the pollution of the local water system or damage to the ecological system by waste residue or wastewater. In addition, the Group may be involved in environmental incidents from time to time even though the Group continues to carry out prudent environmental protection measures. If any environmental incidents occur in the future, the operations of the Group may be interrupted and the business, financial condition and results of operations, as well as reputation of the Group, may be materially and adversely affected.

Furthermore, with the development of the economy in the jurisdiction where the Group operates, improvements in the living standards of the population have heightened awareness of the need for environmental protection. If higher environmental protection standards were to be imposed by authorities in the jurisdictions where the Group operates in the future, the operating costs of the Group may increase. Moreover, there is no assurance that the Group will obtain all the required environmental approvals or there will be no material delay in obtaining or renewing such approvals or that the Group will be able to comply with all of the heightened standards. Failure to do so may subject the Group to penalties and liabilities under relevant laws and regulations in the jurisdictions where the Group operates, including but not limited to warnings, fines, suspension of production and closure of the facility that fails to comply with the relevant environmental standards.

The Group has an increased level of indebtedness and may incur additional indebtedness in the future

The Group has financed a portion of its capital requirements through bank and other borrowings and expects to continue to do so in the foreseeable future. For the years ended 31 December 2021, 2022 and 2023, the Group's debt asset ratio was 55.47%, 59.33% and 59.66%, respectively. The increased level of indebtedness could negatively affect the Group's operations, including, but not limited to, reducing its cash flow available for working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate purposes as a result of the Group's debt servicing obligations, limiting its flexibility in planning for or reacting to the changes in the Group's businesses and the industry; and limiting its ability to obtain additional financing and potentially increasing the Group's financing costs.

The Group's ability to meet its payment and other obligations under its outstanding debt depends on the Group's ability to generate cash flows in the future or to obtain external financing. There is no assurance that the Group's business will generate sufficient cash flows from operations to satisfy its obligations under its outstanding debt and to fund other liquidity needs. If the Group is not able to generate sufficient cash flows to meet such obligations, the Group may need to refinance or restructure its debt, reduce or delay capital investments, or seek additional equity or debt financing. The ability of the Group to obtain future external financing involves a number of uncertainties including its future operational results, financial condition, cash flow, general economic conditions, interest rates, credit availability from banks and other creditors, and the liquidity of capital markets in the jurisdictions where the Group operates. There can be no assurance that additional external financing, either on a short-term or on a long-term basis, will be made available or, if available, that such financing will be obtained on terms favourable to the Group. If the Group fails to obtain adequate funds to serve its debt obligations and to satisfy its operations or development plans, the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

The Group's businesses and operations require significant capital resources on an ongoing basis

The exploration and mining of mineral resources requires substantial capital investments. The Group's primary capital expenditure is on investment in new construction and production, process optimization and expansion, and overseas resource management and acquisitions. In recent years, the Group has promoted the resource control strategy and has prioritised optimising and improving the existing processes. As a result, the Group's capital expenditure has experienced year-on-year growth. The Group's net cash flow used in investing activities in 2022 and 2023 was RMB50.98 billion and RMB33.96 billion respectively. As at 31 December 2023, the amount of capital commitments relating to the acquisition and construction of property, plant, machinery and equipment and mining assets was RMB5.50 billion, compared to RMB2.21 billion as at 31 December 2022. The Group's capital expenditures in recent years and in the future are expected to remain at a high level, which may impact the Group's financing arrangements in the future.

The Group is subject to risks relating to inventory

As at 31 December 2023, the Group's inventory amounted to approximately RMB29.29 billion, primarily comprising raw materials of RMB11.22 billion, work in process of RMB14.69 billion and finished goods of RMB3.38 billion. Having an appropriate level of finished goods inventory is crucial in meeting volatile market demand and an appropriate level of raw materials inventory is pivotal in minimising the effect of the volatility of raw materials prices. The Group's inventories mainly consist of precious metals and non-ferrous metals such as gold and copper, which are essential to the Group's operations. However, any sudden decrease in the market demand and the corresponding unanticipated drop in the sales and the prices of the relevant goods or any failure of the Group in successfully maintaining the flexibility in its raw materials and spare parts supply arrangements could cause the Group's inventory to accumulate or depreciate in value, which may adversely affect the Group's businesses, financial condition and results of operations. The Group reviews its inventory from time to time and makes provisions when it deems necessary. As at 31 December 2023, the Group had RMB202.32 million of provisions for decline in value of inventories. A significant depreciation of the Group's inventory value may exceed its provisions and could materially and adversely affect the Group's businesses, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group is subject to risks relating to diversified business operations

The Group is principally engaged in the exploration, mining, processing, refining and sales of gold, copper, zinc, lithium, silver, molybdenum and other metallic mineral resources globally. While focusing on improving its leading market position in the mining and metals industry, the Group also develops ancillary businesses including trading to support its core businesses. It may be difficult for the Group to concentrate on the in-depth development of these ancillary businesses and such ancillary businesses might be less profitable than the Group's core business.

The Group is subject to uncertainty in the results of exploration for resources and competition for resources in acquisitions

Resources and reserves are non-renewable, and the exploration of new and potential resources is crucial to a mining enterprise. Exploration of mineral resources bears uncertainties, and therefore substantial expenses may be incurred from initial drilling to production. There is also no assurance that any exploration can lead to the discovery of economically feasible reserves. If the Group fails to replenish its mineral resource levels in existing or new mining areas, the Group may not be able to maintain the current metals production levels after the remaining usable life of the existing mining areas lapses.

As the Group primarily engages in the exploration, mining, processing, refining and sales of gold, copper, zinc, lithium, silver, molybdenum and other metallic mineral resources globally, the sustainable development of the Group relies on its ability to expand upstream resources by acquiring exploration and mining rights worldwide and its ability to replenish resources reserve with quality ores. Further, other mining enterprises may compete with the Group in terms of acquiring mining resources. Such competition may make it more difficult for the Group to acquire new resources. There is no assurance that the Group will be able to continue acquiring mining resources in the future. As a result, the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations and the sustainable development of the Group may be adversely affected.

The Group is subject to licence period of mining rights

In relation to mining operations in the jurisdictions where the Group operates, the Group may be required to obtain or renew mining rights for conducting mining activities in a specific mining area during the relevant licence period. There is no assurance that the Group will be able to exploit the entire mineral resources of any of its mine during the initial licence period. The Group may need to apply to the relevant authorities for an extension in respect of these mining rights upon expiry. However, if the Group fails to renew its mining rights upon expiry or it cannot effectively utilise the resources within the licence period specified in the relevant mining rights, the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

The Group's operation is subject to government approvals, permits and licences

Under applicable laws of certain jurisdictions where the Group operates, the Group is required to obtain certain government approvals, permits and licences for each of its mines. There is no assurance that the Group will obtain such approvals, permits and licences in a timely manner in the future or at all. Any failure to obtain or any delay in obtaining or retaining any required government approvals, permits or licences could subject the Group to a variety of administrative penalties or other government actions and adversely impact its business operations.

In addition, the Group's mining licences in certain jurisdictions where it operates are subject to annual review by government authorities. During annual reviews, the Group has to provide relevant mining reports for the relevant authorities to consider whether the mining activities of the Group in the past year have been in compliance with the relevant laws and regulations. If the Group does not pass the annual review, it may be penalised, given a deadline to rectify the situation, or its mining licence may be suspended or revoked. Should the Group's mining licence be suspended or revoked or the Group has to incur additional significant costs to rectify non-compliances, the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected.

The Group is subject to uncertainties relating to overseas projects and further overseas acquisitions

The Group has acquired and will continue to acquire interests in overseas projects as part of its development plan. As at 31 December 2023, the Group's overseas assets amounted to RMB144.3 billion, representing 42% of the total assets. In 2023, the Group's overseas resources of copper, gold, zinc (lead) and lithium carbonate resources accounted for 75%, 67%, 23% and 82% of the Group's total resources respectively and the Group's overseas mine-produced copper, mine-produced gold and mine-produced zinc (lead) output accounted for 56%, 64% and 45% of the Group's total output respectively. The operational, regulatory, financial, legal as well as cultural challenges presented as a result of these overseas projects and acquisitions could be significantly different from that of operating a business in the PRC. There is a risk that the Group may not assimilate operations, technologies, production procedures and management of employees of these overseas projects. There may also be difficulties for the Group to ensure compliance with the local environmental and labour laws and regulations. The Group has acquired overseas mining resources located in Australia, Serbia, Tajikistan, Russia, Kyrgyzstan, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Peru, Papua New Guinea and other countries. The complexities of international political, economic and other conditions in the jurisdictions where the overseas projects relate may increase the risk profile of the Group. In addition, uncertainties in the international political environment and domestic politics may impact the operation of the Group. There is no assurance that the Group can effectively acquire or manage the overseas projects to expand or sustain its business development. In the event that the Group is unable to successfully acquire or manage overseas projects, it may materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group may experience high costs or difficulties when implementing its strategic acquisitions and investments and establishing joint ventures and is subject to risks relating to failure to successfully implement these strategies and integrate them with existing business

The Group has entered and may from time to time enter into strategic acquisitions and investments with third parties in the mining industry if suitable opportunities arise. The Group has established joint ventures and may establish more joint ventures with third parties if the Group believes that the joint venture will complement its expansion strategies. The Group may also make strategic divestiture of its assets or restructure its business operations. The Group may raise additional financing through the divestiture of its stakes in any business. Any strategic acquisition, investment and joint ventures with third parties could subject the Group to a number of risks, including risks associated with sharing proprietary information and a reduction or loss of control of operations that are material to the business. Moreover, strategic acquisitions, investments and joint ventures may be expensive to implement and subject the Group to the risk of non-performance by a counterparty, which may in turn lead to monetary losses that may materially and adversely affect the business of the Group. If the Group cannot successfully integrate acquisitions, investments, joint ventures and other partnerships on a timely basis, the Group may be unable to generate sufficient revenue to offset acquisition costs, may incur costs in excess of what the Group anticipates, and the expectations of future results of operations and synergies of the Group may not be achieved. In addition, the results of operations may be materially and adversely affected if the Group is unable to improve the efficiency of its operations. Acquisitions involve substantial risks, including, but not limited to:

- unforeseen difficulties in integrating operations, accounting systems and personnel;
- diversion of financial and management resources from existing operations;
- uncertainty as to whether investment opportunities or initiatives are identified and assessed accurately in terms of the likely benefits, commercial viability and technical feasibility of such initiatives;
- insufficiency of experience in managing or operating such investments, which may increase the need to recruit additional personnel with suitable experience and/or cause the investments to fail to achieve the intended commercial benefits or the level of economic returns or at all;
- failure to attract and retain management and key employees;
- unforeseen difficulties related to entering geographic regions or markets where the Group does not have prior experience;
- failure to obtain sufficient equity or debt financing;
- potential undisclosed liabilities, litigation or other proceedings;
- the loss of key customers or suppliers;
- disagreement with partners; and
- uncertainty of financial condition of the joint venture partners.

Any of the above risks could expose the Group to additional legal and other costs and expenses which could have a material adverse effect on the business of the Group.

Business in foreign countries and regions that are subject to foreign economic, regulatory, social and political uncertainties and sanctions

As at 31 December 2023, the Group's business covers sixteen countries and regions in the world, including some developing countries. See "Description of the Group" for details of the Group's overseas business. The Group conducts its business in some countries in Asia, Africa, South America and Oceania, where economic, regulatory, social and political conditions are often subject to instability and uncertainties. Its business is therefore subject to constantly changing international economic, regulatory, social and political conditions, as well as local conditions in the jurisdictions in which the Group conducts business. Conducting business in the international marketplaces also exposes the Group to a number of risks, including:

- political risks, including risks of loss due to civil unrest, acts of terrorism, acts of war, regional and global political or military tensions, discordant local communities, and strained or altered foreign relations;
- economic, financial and market instability and credit risks, including those relating to potential deterioration of the credit markets and other economic conditions in other countries;
- changes in foreign government regulations or policies;
- dependence on foreign governments or entities controlled by such foreign governments for electricity, water, telecommunications, transportation, other utilities and/or infrastructural needs;
- unfamiliarity with local operating and market conditions, which could result in unfavourable consequences such as inaccurate bidding prices for projects;
- lack of understanding of local construction, taxation, labour, customs and other laws, regulations, standards and other requirements;
- risks and uncertainties associated with using foreign workers and subcontractors in connection with the Group's overseas operations, including adverse labour conditions or strikes;
- preferential treatments or corrupt business practises;
- increased taxes or adverse tax policies;
- trade protectionism, trade restrictions or embargoes;
- sanctions (economic or otherwise) imposed by certain countries or self-regulated organisations against the Group's transactions with other countries, individuals or entities which may limit its ability to conduct business with such countries, individuals or entities, or to obtain funding for certain overseas projects;
- stringent environmental protection laws;
- expropriation and nationalisation of the Group's assets in foreign countries;
- lack of a well-developed or independent legal system in the foreign countries in which the Group operates or conducts business, which may create difficulties in the enforcement of contractual or legal rights;
- foreign currency controls and fluctuations; and
- natural disaster.

In some of the high-risk locations where the Group has employees, business or operations, it may incur additional costs in safeguarding its personnel and assets, and its measures aimed at protecting its personnel and assets overseas may not always be sufficient and effective. To the extent that the Group's overseas business or operations are affected by unexpected and adverse foreign economic, regulatory, social and political conditions, it may experience project disruptions, losses of assets and personnel and other indirect losses that could adversely affect its business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group may not be able to achieve the Group's production estimates

The Group's estimates of future production for the mining operations are subject to change. Failure to achieve the Group's production estimates could have a material and adverse effect on the future cash flow, business, financial condition and results of operations of the Group. Actual production may vary from estimates for a variety of reasons, including risks and hazards of the types discussed elsewhere in this Offering Circular, and those set out below:

- actual ore mined varying from estimates in grade, tonnage, metallurgical and other characteristics;
- lower than estimated recovery rate;
- mining dilution;
- pit wall failures or cave-ins;
- industrial accidents;
- equipment failures;
- natural incidents such as inclement weather conditions, floods, blizzards, droughts, rockslides and earthquakes;
- encountering of unusual or unexpected geological conditions;
- changes in power costs and potential power shortages;
- shortages of principal supplies needed for operation, including explosives, fuels, equipment parts and lubricating oil;
- any litigations; and
- restrictions imposed by governmental authorities.

Such occurrences could result in damage to the Group's mining assets, interruptions in production, personal injury or death, damage to the Group's property or the property of others, monetary losses and legal liabilities. These factors may cause a mineral deposit that has been mined profitably in the past to become unprofitable. New mining operations frequently experience unexpected problems during the initial development phase. Delays can often occur in the commencement of production. Any of such incidents could adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group is subject to concerns on internal controls

The Group has grown exponentially both in terms of size and operations since its listings of H shares in 2003 and A shares in 2008. The rapid expansion presented challenges relating to the internal control of the Group, especially that the Group now has worldwide operations in different mining sectors producing gold and other non-ferrous metals. As at 31 December 2023, the Group had over 50,000 employees and a number of subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities worldwide. As such, an effective internal control system is essential to safeguard the integrity of the Group's business and its financial results. The Group's internal control activities basically covered all operational processes and effectively ensured the normal progress of the Group's operations and management. However, there is no assurance that such internal control activities will be absolutely effective or that material deficiencies in the Group's internal control system will not be discovered in the future. The Group's efforts to maintain its internal controls have required, and in the future may require, increased costs and significant management time and commitment. If the Group fails to maintain effective internal controls in the future, then the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation, as well as the accuracy of its financial reports, may be materially and adversely affected.

The Group may not be able to detect and prevent fraud or other misconduct committed by the employees, representatives, agents, customers or other third parties of the Group

The Group may be exposed to fraud or other misconduct committed by its employees, representatives, agents, customers, or other third parties that could subject it to litigation, financial losses and sanctions imposed by governmental authorities, as well as affect its reputation. While the Group's internal control procedures are designed to monitor its operations and ensure overall compliance, such procedures may not be able to identify all incidents of non-compliance or suspicious transactions in a timely manner, if at all. Furthermore, it is not always possible to detect and prevent fraud and other misconduct, and the precautions the Group takes to prevent and detect such activities may not be effective. For example, in 2023, 64 employees of the Group were subject to legal or disciplinary actions due to corruption, and there were 16 instances where the Group's contracts with business partners were terminated due to corruption-related violations. There is no assurance that fraud or other misconduct will not occur in the future. If such fraud or other misconduct does occur, it may cause negative publicity and could adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Recently, there are media articles that have made a number of allegations against the Group with respect to its interests in Manono Lithium SAS, including reports of certain payments made by the Group in connection with the acquisition of interests relating to Manono Lithium SAS. The Group has made several announcements asserting the untruthfulness of such allegations and will continue to defend its interests in Manono Lithium SAS. As at the date of this Offering Circular, the Group is not aware of any enquiries or investigations by any relevant regulators, agencies or authorities in relation to these allegations. Any such adverse media coverage of the Group may have a material adverse effect on the Group's reputation, thereby affecting the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, please refer to '— The Group is subject to risks relating to litigation and regulatory investigation proceedings' in the Offering Circular.

The Group is subject to government regulations on the mining industry

The mining production of the Group is subject to various government policies and regulations relating to exploration, development, production, taxation, labour standards, vocational health and safety, waste treatment, environmental monitoring, protection and control, operation management and other issues. Any changes to these policies and regulations may increase the operating costs of the Group and may adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group is subject to risks relating to litigation and regulatory investigation proceedings

The Company and its subsidiaries face risks of lawsuits and arbitration claims in the ordinary course of its respective business. For example, there is an ongoing dispute between the Company and AVZ Minerals Limited relating to, inter alia, certain rights over Manono Lithium Mine. The Group believes that this ongoing dispute would not have a material adverse effect on the liquidity, business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of the Group. The Company and its subsidiaries may also be subject to inquiries, investigations and proceedings by regulatory and other governmental agencies in the ordinary course of its business. Although the Group takes an active approach in defending claims and investigations, such investigations and litigations may have or will cause serious damage to the Group's reputation, which in turn may affect the Group's business, results of operations and financial condition. There is no assurance that the Group could successfully defend such claims and investigations, and there is no assurance that such incidents will not occur in the future. Meanwhile, adverse publicity about concerns relating to the Group's brand, whether or not legitimate, may decrease customers' confidence in the Group and result in losses which the Group may not be able to recover. Actions brought against the Company or any of its subsidiaries may result in settlements, injunctions, fines, penalties, stock delisting or other results adverse to it that could harm its reputation. Even if the Company or its subsidiary is successful in defending itself against these actions, the costs of defence may be significant. In market downturns, the number of legal claims and the amount of damages sought in litigation and regulatory proceedings may increase. A significant judgement or regulatory action against the Company or any of its subsidiaries, or a disruption in its business arising from adverse adjudications in proceedings against its directors, officers or employees would have a material adverse effect on the liquidity, business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of the Group.

The Group is subject to risks associated with the engagement of third parties

The Group's engages external contractors, experts and other advisors in its ordinary course of business from time to time. For example, the Group outsourced its mine engineering work. As a result, the Group's operations at those sites at which such contractors are present are subject to a number of risks, some of which are outside the Group's control, including:

- negotiating agreements with contractors on terms acceptable to the Group;
- the inability to replace a contractor and its operating equipment in the event that either party terminates the agreement;
- reduced control over those aspects of operations which are the responsibility of the contractor;

- failure of a contractor to perform under its agreement with the Group;
- safety accidents caused or experienced by a contractor;
- interruption of operations or increased costs in the event that a contractor ceases its business due to insolvency or other unforeseen events; and
- failure of a contractor to comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements, to the extent it is responsible for such compliance.

The occurrence of any of, or a combination of any of, the risks mentioned above could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, results of operations and financial condition. For example, in 2023, the Group experienced several incidents involving temporary, phased infrastructure and technological upgrade projects outsourced to subcontractors, among which a tragic accident occurred during the construction process of a subcontractor of Julong Copper in Tibet, a subsidiary of the Company, resulting in the loss of six lives. Although the Board of Directors of the Company has attached great importance to this incident, conducted a thorough reflection on the lessons learned and formulated a resolution to comprehensively strengthen production safety and the Group has carried out supervisory inspections in the field of production safety within the entire Group and has taken several other measures to promote production safety, there is no assurance that such measures would be sufficient.

The Group is subject to risks relating raw materials and increasing labour costs

Raw material costs, energy consumption costs and salary costs are important components of the Group's operating costs. The Group's energy consumption mainly included coal, electricity and petrol. The Group regularly monitors the fluctuation in the market price of raw materials and energy and assesses its impact on the operations of the Group. If there is a shortage of raw materials or energy for any reason or the cost of raw materials and energy increases significantly, the Group's production costs are likely to increase and the Group's profit margin may decrease. If the Group is unable to identify and employ other appropriate means to reduce its production cost, this may in turn affect the selling prices of the Group's products, which may then affect the demand of such products and thereby adversely affect the Group's sales and financial condition.

In addition, labour costs in the jurisdictions where the Group operates may rise substantially as a result of the enactment of new labour laws and social development. Worldwide inflation may also increase the Group's costs of labour. Rising labour costs may increase the Group's operating costs and therefore materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Failure to successfully settle issues with local communities may materially and adversely affect the Group's business

In the Group's international operations, interactions with different cultures are inevitable. The Group approaches local communities with an attitude of equality and inclusiveness, especially when it comes to the traditional culture of indigenous groups. However, the Group's production and operational activities may create conflicts with local communities, including disputes relating to land use rights and settlement relocation, as the Group's business activities are often located at or near existing towns and villages, natural water courses and other infrastructure of the local community. These issues may result in community protests, road blockades and third-party claims. There is no assurance that the Group or its affiliates or business partners can successfully manage community relationships or settle local community issues. Opposition from the local community, political or environmental groups as well as regulatory authorities with respect to development or construction of mining projects or mineral refineries could increase the Group's development costs and cause delays, interruptions or even cancellations to the Group's development plans and harm the Group's reputation. Failure to successfully settle the local community issues may have a material and adverse effect upon the Group's business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group is subject to costs and risks related to mine closures

The Group's existing mining operations have a limited life. The key costs and risks for mine closures are: (i) long-term management of permanent engineered structures (such as tailings dams) and acid drainage; (ii) achievement of environmental closure standards (such as rehabilitation requirements); (iii) orderly retrenchment of employees and third-party contractors; and (iv) relinquishment of the sites with associated permanent structures and community development infrastructure and programmes to new owners. The consequences of a difficult closure range from increased closure costs and handover delays to on-going monitoring and environmental rehabilitation costs and damages to the reputation of the Group if desired outcomes cannot be achieved. In the event of a difficult closure, the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

In an effort to address mine closure and other geological environment issues, a mining company is required to accrue rehabilitation funds subject to the applicable laws and regulations in certain jurisdictions. In the event of a default in accruing required rehabilitation funds in the future, the Group could be subject to a variety of penalties and other administrative actions, resulting in the Group's inability to proceed with certain administrative procedures relating to mining permits (including annual inspection, renewal, alteration and mortgage registration), suspension of mining permits or ceasing of operations.

The Group may not be adequately insured against losses and liabilities arising from the Group's operations

The Group maintains work-related injury insurance for its employees worldwide to cover potential losses or costs resulting from accidents which occur to its employees, in accordance with the requirements of the relevant laws and regulations in the jurisdictions where the Group operates relating to the work-related injury insurance. The Group has also maintained insurance coverage on mandatory social security insurance for its employees in the PRC in accordance with the requirements of the relevant PRC laws and regulations. In addition, the Group currently maintains insurance coverage on the Group's assets, investment insurance, transportation insurance, vehicle insurance, overseas employee insurance, public liability insurance, third-party liability insurance and business interruption profit loss insurance for the Group's important overseas projects and crisis management insurance in hazardous areas. Save as described above, the Group does not maintain other insurance coverage in respect of its operations, which is in line with the industry practise of mining companies.

Due to the nature of the Group's business, its employees may handle explosive materials. The Group may experience accidents in the course of its operations which may cause significant property damage, personal injuries or other liabilities. Losses and liabilities incurred or payments that the Group may be required to make, if not adequately insured against, could materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations or otherwise materially disrupt the Group's operations.

The Group is subject to risks relating to production safety

The Group's businesses involve inherent risks and occupational hazards. Due to the geographic setting and relatively high elevation difference, there is a possibility of localised mud-rock flow which may occur during the rainy season, and a risk of instability of the slopes and subsidence of the working areas. As certain mining process of the Group requires the use of explosives, any improper storage or use of these materials could result in personal injury or death and other damages. For production safety incidents involving the Group's projects outsourced to subcontractors, please refer to "— The Group is subject to risks associated with the engagement of third parties". There is no assurance similar accidents will not occur. Should the Group be liable for such accidents, it may materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations. Any accidents may also result in the temporary or permanent closure of the affected mines, which could have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, in the process of the mining and leaching of gold ores, the Group is required to use dangerous articles such as explosive materials. Although the Company has set stringent rules in relation to the handling of such dangerous articles, there is no assurance that accidents will not occur. Should the Group be liable for such accidents, it may be fined and criminal liabilities may be imposed on the employees of the Group.

The Group's sustainable success depends on its senior management and successful management of growth

The Group's sustainable success depends heavily on its current senior management team. The Group depends on the continued service of its executive officers and other skilled managerial and technical personnel. Competition for qualified personnel in the industries where the Group operates is intense. The Group's businesses and financial condition may suffer if it loses the services of a number of key personnel and is not able to recruit quality replacements. If the Group fails to attract and retain qualified personnel, the Group's businesses and financial condition may also be adversely affected.

Furthermore, as the Group's businesses continue to grow, it will need to improve its managerial, technical and operational knowledge and allocation of resources, to implement an effective management system and strengthen management control across its businesses. In order to fund the Group's on-going operations and future growth, the Group will need to have sufficient internal sources of liquidity or access to additional financing from external sources. Further, the Group will be required to manage relationships with a greater number of customers, suppliers, contractors, service providers, lenders and other third parties. The Group may develop or invest in new businesses ancillary to or related to the Group's existing businesses and such diversification may place significant demands on the Group's management and resources as the Group may not have the experience or expertise necessary for the successful development of such new businesses. If the Group fails to attract qualified personnel, the Group's businesses and financial condition may also be adversely affected.

The Guarantor published and may continue to publish periodical financial information in the PRC and/or on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange pursuant to applicable PRC regulatory rules and the listing rules of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. Investors should be cautious and not place undue reliance on the financial information other than that disclosed in this Offering Circular

The Guarantor is listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and Shanghai Stock Exchange. According to applicable PRC securities regulations on debt capital markets, the listing rules of the Shanghai Stock Exchange and the listing rules of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, the Guarantor needs to publish its semi-annual and annual financial information to satisfy its continuing disclosure obligations. The semi-annual financial information published by the Group in the PRC or on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange is normally derived from the Group's management accounts which have not been audited or reviewed by independent auditors. As such, this financial information published in the PRC or on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange should not be referred to or relied upon by potential purchasers to provide the same quality of information associated with any audited information and should not be taken as an indication of the expected financial condition or results of operations of the Group for the relevant full financial year. The Guarantor is not responsible to holders of the Bonds for the unaudited and unreviewed financial information from time to time published in the PRC or on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. None of the Managers makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, regarding the sufficiency of the Group's unaudited and unreviewed financial information for an assessment of the Group's financial condition and results of operations. Investors should not place undue reliance on any such financial information.

The Group is subject to risks relating to severe weather conditions

Severe weather conditions, such as heavy rainfall, may require the Group to evacuate personnel or curtail operations and may result in damage to the Group's mines, equipment or facilities, which could result in the temporary suspension of the Group's operations or a reduction in its productivity. During periods of curtailed activity, the Group may continue to incur operating expenses while production has slowed down or ceased altogether. Any damages to its projects or delays in its operations caused by severe weather conditions could materially and adversely affect the Group's business and results of operations.

The Group is subject to acts of God, acts of war and terrorism, riots, epidemics and other disasters

The Group's business is subject to general and social conditions. Natural disasters, epidemics, acts of God and other disasters that are beyond its control may materially and adversely affect the economy, infrastructure and livelihoods of the people worldwide. Some cities in the jurisdictions where the Group operates are under the threat of flood, earthquake, sandstorm or drought. The Group's business, financial condition and operating results may be materially and adversely affected if natural disasters occur.

Epidemics threaten human lives and may materially and adversely affect their livelihood as well as their living and consumption patterns. The occurrence of an epidemic is beyond the Group's control, and there is no assurance that the outbreak of severe acute respiratory syndrome, the H5N1 strain of avian influenza, the H1N1 strain of swine flu, the H7N9 avian influenza or any other epidemics or pandemics will not happen, especially in regions where the Group has operations. Any epidemic or pandemic occurring in areas in which the Group operates, or even in areas in which it does not operate, may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition and operating results. More recently, the COVID-19 pandemic has significantly disrupted the global financial, foreign exchange, commodity and energy markets, and resulting government restrictions and support measures during and after the COVID-19 pandemic. Whether and to what extent countries and territories will be able to return to pre COVID-19 economic levels remain uncertain.

Acts of war and terrorism may cause damage or disruption to the Group or its employees, facilities, markets, suppliers or customers, any of which may materially and adversely impact the Group's revenue, cost of sales, business, financial condition and results of operations. Potential war or terrorist attacks may also cause uncertainty and cause the Group's business to suffer in ways that it cannot currently predict.

The Group is exposed to interest risks

The Group's increased level of indebtedness exposes it to interest rate risk. For the years ended 31 December 2021, 2022 and 2023, the Group's interest expenses amounted to RMB2,111.95 million, RMB3,444.82 million and RMB4,923.44 million, respectively. The interest rates on the Group's borrowings may be affected by various factors, including market factors and changes in international and domestic macroeconomic environment and national economic policies. Any significant increase in interest rates will result in a substantial increase in its interest expenses, which may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition, results of operations and expansion plans.

The Group is subject to risks relating to financial markets, including risks relating to financial derivatives

The Group has certain financial assets, including financial assets denominated in foreign currencies. As a result, movements in exchange rates and stock prices in the market impose risks on the value of the Group's assets and operating results. The Group will strengthen management over its financial assets, optimise the Group's assets and liabilities structure in foreign currencies, establish and improve the management and risk control polices, and make rapid response to mitigate any impacts due to market volatility. However, such measures may not adequately cover the Group's exposure to fluctuations in the financial market, or at all, and failure to do so may result in a large expense and adverse effect on the Group's financial condition and results of operations.

In particular, in order to mitigate the impact of commodity market price fluctuations on the Group's production and operation and guard against the interest rate and exchange rate risks, to enhance the Company's risk resistance capability and to ensure stable operation, the Group has leveraged the hedging function of financial instruments to carry out hedging business for the products, raw materials and foreign exchange positions relating to production and operation. Pursuant to the approvals of the Board, the Company and its subsidiaries engaged in derivative investment for hedging purpose within the limits approved by the Board, which covered, among others, mining, major refining products, relevant business of supply chain and foreign exchange. There is no assurance that the Group will not incur losses in its financial derivative transactions, which will adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Historical consolidated financial information of the Group may not be indicative of its current or future results of operations

The historical financial information of the Group included in this Offering Circular is not indicative of its future financial results. This financial information is not intended to represent or predict the results of operations of any future periods. The Group's future results of operations may change materially if its future growth does not follow the historical trends for various reasons, including factors beyond its control, such as changes in economic environment, PRC environmental rules and regulations and the domestic and international competitive landscape of the industries in which the Group operates its business.

The Guarantor's historical financial statements have been prepared and presented in accordance with PRC GAAP which may be different from IFRS. Although PRC GAAP are substantively in line with IFRS, PRC GAAP are, to a certain extent, different from IFRS. See "Summary of Certain Material Differences Between PRC GAAP and IFRS". There is no guarantee that PRC GAAP will fully converge with IFRS or that there will be no additional differences between the two accounting standards in the future. Potential investors should consult their own professional advisors for an understanding of any differences that may exist between PRC GAAP and IFRS, and how those differences might affect the financial information included in this Offering Circular.

RISKS RELATING TO THE PRC

PRC economic, political and social conditions and government policies

A significant portion of the Group's revenue is sourced from the PRC. Accordingly, the results of operations, financial condition and prospects of the Group are directly affected by the economic, political and legal developments in the PRC.

Any market and economic downturn, economic slowdown or geopolitical uncertainties in the PRC, its neighbouring countries or regions or the rest of the world may exacerbate the risks relating to the PRC capital markets. There can be no assurance that the PRC's economy or the global economy will continue to improve or maintain sustainable growth. In the event of an economic downturn, the Group's business, financial conditions and results of operations could be adversely affected.

The PRC government has implemented various measures to encourage economic growth and guide the allocation of resources. Some of these measures benefit the overall PRC economy but may also negatively affect the Group's operations. For example, the Group's financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected by the PRC government's control over capital investments or any changes in tax regulations or foreign exchange controls that are applicable to the Group. For the past three decades, the PRC government has implemented economic reform measures emphasising utilisation of market forces in the development of the PRC economy. Although the Company believes these reforms will have a positive effect on the Group's overall and long-term development, it cannot predict whether changes in the PRC's economic and social conditions, laws, regulations and policies will have any adverse effect on the Group's current or future business, results of operations or financial condition. In addition, global economic uncertainty and the slowdown in the PRC economic growth have precipitated, and may continue to raise the possibility of, fiscal, monetary, regulatory and other governmental actions. The Group cannot predict whether or when such actions may occur, nor can the Group predict what ultimate impact, if any, such actions or any other governmental actions could have on its business, results of operations and financial conditions.

Difficulties to enforce any judgement obtained from non-PRC courts against the Group or its directors and senior management who reside in the PRC

The majority of the Group's directors and senior management reside within the PRC, and assets of the directors and senior management may also be located within PRC. As a result, it may not be possible to effect service of process outside the PRC upon most of the Group's directors and senior management, including for matters arising under applicable securities law. A judgement of a court of another jurisdiction may be reciprocally recognised or enforced if the jurisdiction has a treaty with the PRC or if judgments of the PRC courts have been recognised before in that jurisdiction, subject to the satisfaction of other requirements. However, the PRC does not have treaties providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments of courts with many countries, including Japan, the United States and the United Kingdom. Therefore, it may be difficult for investors to enforce any judgments obtained from non-PRC courts against the Group or any of their directors or senior management in the PRC.

Additional procedures required to be taken to bring English law governed matters or disputes to the Hong Kong courts and no assurance that the PRC courts will recognise and enforce judgments of the Hong Kong courts in respect of English law governed matters or disputes

The Conditions and the transaction documents are governed by English law, whereas parties to these documents have submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts. In order to hear English law governed matters or disputes, Hong Kong courts may require certain additional procedures to be taken. Under the "Arrangement on Reciprocal Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters by the Courts of the Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (關於內地與香港特別行政區法院相互認可和執行民商事案件判決的安排)", judgments of Hong Kong courts are likely to be recognised and enforced by the PRC courts where the contracting parties to the transactions pertaining to such judgments have agreed to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of Hong Kong courts.

However, recognition and enforcement of a Hong Kong court judgement could be refused if the PRC courts consider that the enforcement of such judgement is contrary to the social and public interest of the PRC. While it is expected that the PRC courts will recognise and enforce a judgement given by Hong Kong courts governed by English law, there can be no assurance that the PRC courts will do so for all such judgments as there is no established practise in this area. Compared to other similar debt securities issuances in the international capital markets where the relevant holders of the debt securities would not typically be required to submit to an exclusive jurisdiction, the Noteholders will be deemed to have submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts, and thus the Noteholders' ability to initiate to claim outside of Hong Kong will be limited.

Governmental control of currency conversion

A portion of the Group's operating income is denominated in Renminbi, which is also the reporting currency. Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency. It cannot be guaranteed that under a certain exchange rate, the Group will have sufficient foreign exchange to meet its foreign exchange requirements. Under the current PRC foreign exchange control system, foreign exchange transactions under the current account conducted by the Group do not require advance approval from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange of the PRC ("SAFE"), but the Group is required to present documentary evidence of such transactions and conduct such transactions at designated foreign exchange banks within the PRC that have the requisite licences to carry out foreign exchange business. Foreign exchange transactions under capital account in the PRC continue to be not freely convertible and require the approval of SAFE. The restrictions on foreign-exchange transactions under capital accounts could also affect the subsidiaries' ability to obtain foreign exchange through debt or equity financing, including by means of loans or capital contributions from the Group. The PRC government may also at its discretion restrict access in the future to foreign currencies for current-account transactions. If the foreign-exchange control system prevents the Group from obtaining sufficient foreign currency to satisfy its currency demands, the Group may not be able to pay dividends in foreign currencies to its shareholders.

RISKS RELATING TO THE BONDS, THE GUARANTEE AND THE SHARES

The Bonds are unsecured obligations

The Bonds will constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and (subject to Condition 3.1) unsecured obligations of the Issuer and shall at all times ranking pari passu and without any preference or priority among themselves. The payment obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds shall, save for such exceptions as may be provided by mandatory provisions of applicable law and subject to the negative pledge contained in Condition 3.1, at all times rank at least equally with all of its other present and future direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and unsecured obligations. The Guarantee will, similarly, constitute direct, unsubordinated, unconditional and (subject to Condition 3.1) unsecured obligations of the Guarantor. Therefore, the Bonds and the Guarantee will be unsecured obligations of the Issuer and the Guarantor, respectively. The payment obligations under the Bonds and the Guarantee may be adversely affected if:

- the Group enters into bankruptcy, liquidation, rehabilitation or other winding-up proceedings;
- there is a default in payment under the Group's future secured indebtedness or other unsecured indebtedness; or
- there is an acceleration of any of the Group's indebtedness.

If any of the above events occurs, the Group's assets may not be sufficient to pay amounts due on the Bonds.

The Trustee may request the Bondholders to provide an indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding to its satisfaction

In certain circumstances (including, without limitation, giving of notice pursuant to Condition 9 and the tacking of steps and/or actions and/or the instituting of proceedings against the Issuer and/or the Guarantor pursuant to Condition 13), the Trustee may request Bondholders to provide an indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding to its satisfaction before it takes actions and/or steps and/or institutes proceedings on behalf of Bondholders. The Trustee shall not be obliged to take any such actions and/or steps and/or institute any such proceedings if it is not first indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction. Negotiating and agreeing to an indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding can be a lengthy process and may affect when such actions and/or steps can be taken and/or when such proceedings may be instituted. The Trustee may not be able to take actions and/or steps and/or institute proceedings, notwithstanding the provision of an indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding to it, in breach of the terms of the Trust Deed and in such circumstances, or where there is uncertainty or dispute as to the applicable law or regulations, to the extent permitted by the agreements and the applicable law and regulations, it will be for the Bondholders to take such steps and/or actions and/or to institute such proceedings directly.

Bondholders will have no rights as holders of the H Shares prior to conversion of the Bonds

Unless and until the Bondholders acquire the H Shares upon conversion of the Bonds, Bondholders would have no rights with respect to the H Shares, including any voting rights or rights to receive any regular dividends or other distributions with respect to the H Shares. Upon conversion of the Bonds, these holders would be entitled to exercise the rights of holders of the H Shares only as to actions for which the applicable record date occurs after the date of conversion.

Securities law restrictions on the resale and conversion of the Bonds may limit Bondholders' ability to sell the Bonds in the United States

The Bonds and the H Shares into which the Bonds are convertible have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, any state securities laws or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction. Unless and until they are registered, the Bonds and the H Shares issuable upon conversion may not be offered, sold or resold except pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act and applicable state laws or in a transaction not subject to such laws. The Bonds are being offered and sold outside the U.S. in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act. Hence, future resales of the Bonds and the H Shares into which the Bonds are convertible may only be made pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act and applicable state laws or in a transaction not subject to such laws.

The Bondholders may be subject to tax on their income or gain from the Bonds

Prospective purchasers of the Bonds are advised to consult their own tax advisers concerning the overall tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership or disposition (including upon conversion of the Bonds) of the Bonds or the H Shares which the Bonds are convertible into. See "Taxation" for a discussion of tax consequences in certain jurisdictions.

Gains on the transfer of the Bonds may be subject to income tax under PRC tax laws

Under the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC that came into effect on 1 January 2008 and amended on 24 February 2017 and 29 December 2018, respectively (the “EIT Law”) and its implementation rules, gains on the transfer of the Bonds may be subject to income tax under PRC tax laws.

In accordance with the EIT Law and its implementation regulations, a non-resident enterprise is generally subject to enterprise income tax at a rate of 10% with respect to PRC-sourced income if it (i) does not have an establishment or place of business in the PRC or (ii) has an establishment or place of business in the PRC but its PRC-sourced income does not have a de facto relationship with such establishment or place of business in the PRC. The aforesaid income tax payable by a non-resident enterprise is subject to withholding at source. The income tax must be withheld by the withholding agent at the time of payment of the gains. This tax could be exempted or reduced in accordance with the relevant tax treaty or agreement for avoiding double taxation. As at the date of this Offering Circular, no specific legislation or implementation rule has expressly provided whether it is required to and how to collect the tax from non-PRC resident enterprises on gains derived by them from the sale or transfer of the Bonds. It is possible that taxation authorities may formulate and promulgate specific implementation rules or relevant regulations for the collection of enterprise income tax on such gains in the future.

In addition, according to the Individual Income Tax Law of the PRC as amended on 30 June 2011 and 31 August 2018 and took effect on 1 January 2019 (the “IIT Law”) and the implementation regulations, non-resident individuals are generally subject to individual income tax at a rate of 20% with respect to PRC-sourced income from interest, dividends and transfer of property unless such tax is reduced or exempted under relevant double taxation treaties. Under the IIT Law, a “non-resident individual” means any non-resident PRC individual who has no domicile and does not reside in the PRC or who has no domicile and has resided in China for less than 183 days within one tax year. As at the date of this Offering Circular, no specific legislation or implementation rules have expressly provided whether it is required to and how to collect the tax from non-PRC resident individuals on the gains derived by them from the sale or transfer of the Bonds. It is possible that taxation authorities may formulate and promulgate specific implementation rules or relevant regulations for the collection of individual income tax on such gains in the future.

If a Bondholder, being a non-resident enterprise or non-resident individual, is required to pay any PRC income tax on gains on the transfer of the Bonds, the value of the relevant Bondholder’s investment in the Bonds may be materially and adversely affected. See “Taxation — PRC”. Any payment of interest on the Bonds would be subject to withholding at a rate of 10% for non-PRC resident enterprises and at a rate of 20% for non-PRC resident individuals.

The market value of the Bonds may fluctuate

Trading prices of the Bonds are influenced by numerous factors, including the results of operations and/or financial condition and business strategy (in particular further issuance of debt or corporate events such as share sales, reorganisations, takeovers or share buybacks) of the Group and/or the subsidiaries and/or associated companies of the Group, political, economic, financial, regulatory and any other factors that can affect the capital markets, the industry, the Group and/or the subsidiaries and/or associated companies of the Group generally. Adverse economic developments in the PRC could have a material and adverse effect on the results of operations and/or the financial condition of the Group and/or the subsidiaries and/or associated companies of the Group.

In addition, the market price of the Bonds is expected to be affected by fluctuations in the market price of the H Shares. There can be no certainty as to the effect, if any, that future issues or sales of the H Shares, or the availability of such H Shares for future issue or sale, would have on the market price of the H Shares prevailing from time to time and therefore on the market price of the Bonds. Disposals of the H Shares by shareholders or a perception in the market that such disposals could occur, may adversely affect the prevailing market price of the H Shares and the Bonds.

The return on the Bonds may decrease due to inflation

Bondholders may suffer erosion on the return of their investments due to inflation. Bondholders would have an anticipated rate of return based on expected inflation rates on the purchase of the Bonds. An unexpected increase in inflation could reduce the actual returns.

An active trading market for the Bonds may not develop

The Bonds are a new issue of securities for which there is currently no trading market. Application will be made to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange for the listing, and permission to deal in, the Bonds by way of debt issues to Professional Investors only. However, no assurance can be given that an active trading market for the Bonds would develop or as to the liquidity or sustainability of any such market, the ability of Bondholders to sell their Bonds or the price at which Bondholders would be able to sell their Bonds. If an active market for the Bonds fails to develop or be sustained, the trading price of the Bonds could fall.

If an active trading market were to develop, the Bonds could trade at prices that may be lower than their initial offering price. Whether or not the Bonds would trade at lower prices depends on many factors, including:

- prevailing interest rates and the markets for similar securities;
- the price of the H Shares;
- the market prices of the Bonds;
- the publication of earnings estimates or other research reports and speculation in the press or the investment community;
- changes in the Group's industry and competition, general market and economic conditions; or
- the Group's financial condition, historical financial performance and future prospects.

The Bonds may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Bonds must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the Bonds and the information contained in this Offering Circular;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Bonds and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the relevant Bonds;
- understand thoroughly the terms of the Bonds and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Bonds are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in the Bonds unless he/she has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Bonds will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Bonds and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

Decisions that may be made on behalf of all holders of the Bonds may be adverse to the interests of individual holders of the Bonds. Modifications and waivers may be made in respect of the Terms and Conditions, the Deed of Guarantee, the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement by the Trustee or less than all of the Bondholders

The Conditions contain provisions for calling meetings of Bondholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Bondholders including Bondholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Bondholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority. There is a risk that the decision of the majority of holders of the Bonds may be adverse to the interest of individual holders of the Bonds.

The Conditions also provide that the Trustee may (but shall not be obliged to) agree, without the consent of the holders of the Bonds, to (i) any modification (except as mentioned in the Trust Deed) to, or the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of, the Bonds, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or the Trust Deed which is not, in the opinion of the Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of the holders of the Bonds and (ii) to any modification to the Bonds, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or the Trust Deed which, in the Trustee's opinion, is of a formal, minor or technical nature or to correct a manifest error or to comply with mandatory provisions of applicable law.

If the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective subsidiaries is unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in their respective debt agreements, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements, which could cause repayment of its debt to be accelerated

If the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their respective subsidiaries is unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in their respective current or future debt obligations and other agreements, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements. In the event of a default under these agreements, the holders of the debt could terminate their commitments to lend, accelerate repayment of the debt and declare all outstanding amounts due and payable or terminate the agreements, as the case may be. Furthermore, some of the Issuer's or the Guarantor's debt agreements, contain cross-acceleration or cross-default provisions. As a result, a default under one debt agreement may cause the acceleration of repayment of not only such debt but also other debt, including the Bonds, or result in a default under the Issuer's the Guarantor's or such other subsidiary's other debt agreements. If any of these events occur, there is no assurance that the Issuer or the Guarantor would have sufficient assets and cash flow to repay in full all of its indebtedness, or that the Issuer or the Guarantor would be able to find alternative financing. Even if the Issuer or the Guarantor could obtain alternative financing, it could not guarantee that it would be on terms that are favourable or acceptable to the Issuer or the Guarantor.

Changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Bonds

The Bondholders may suffer unforeseen losses due to fluctuations in interest rates. Generally, a rise in interest rates may cause a fall in the prices of the Bonds, resulting in a capital loss for the Bondholders. However, the Bondholders may reinvest the interest payments at higher prevailing interest rates. Conversely, when interest rates fall, the prices of the Bonds may rise. The Bondholders may enjoy a capital gain but interest payments received may be reinvested at lower prevailing interest rates.

The Bonds will carry a fixed interest rate. Consequently, investment in the Bonds involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Bonds. If Bondholders sell the Bonds they hold before the maturity of such Bonds, they may receive an offer less than their investment.

Renminbi is not freely converted into foreign currency and remitted out of China, which may limit our ability to utilise its revenue effectively and affect the value of your investment

We expect that a significant portion of our future revenues will be denominated in Renminbi. Under existing PRC foreign exchange regulations, payments of current account items, including profit distributions, interest payments and trade and service-related foreign exchange transactions, can be made in foreign currencies without prior SAFE approval as long as certain routine procedural requirements are fulfilled. Therefore, our PRC subsidiaries are allowed to pay dividends in foreign currencies to us without prior SAFE approval by following certain routine procedural requirements. However, approval from or registration with competent government authorities is required where the Renminbi is to be converted into foreign currency and remitted out of China to pay capital expenses such as the repayment of loans denominated in foreign currencies. The PRC government may at its discretion restrict access to foreign currencies for current account transactions in the future.

Enforcement of shareholder rights is mandatory arbitration

Currently, the primary sources of shareholder rights are our Articles of Association, the PRC Company Law, the PRC regulations and the listing rules of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the Shanghai Stock Exchange, which, among other things, impose certain standards of conduct, fairness and disclosure on us, our directors and our controlling shareholder. In general, these rights are not as broad as those applicable to companies incorporated in the United States, the United Kingdom and many European countries. In addition, the mechanism for enforcement of rights under the corporate framework to which we are subject may also be relatively undeveloped and untested. To our knowledge, there has not been any published report of judicial enforcement in the PRC by holders of H Shares of their rights under constituent documents of joint stock limited companies or the PRC Company Law or in the application or interpretation of the PRC or Hong Kong regulatory provisions applicable to PRC joint stock limited companies. We cannot assure you that our shareholders will enjoy the protections to which they may be entitled in other jurisdictions.

There are no treaties in China providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments of courts with the United States, the United Kingdom or most European countries, and therefore recognition and enforcement in China of judgments of a court in any of these jurisdictions in relation to any matter not subject to a binding arbitration provision may not be assured.

It may be difficult to effect service of process or to enforce any judgments obtained from non-PRC courts against the Group or its management residing in the PRC

The Conditions and the transaction documents are governed by English law and the Issuer and the Guarantor are submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts. However, most companies in the Group are incorporated in the PRC and a substantial amount of the Group's assets and companies are located in the PRC. Further, most of the Group's management reside in the PRC, together with their personal assets. Therefore, investors may encounter difficulties in effecting service of process from outside PRC upon the Group or its management.

Moreover, it is understood that the enforcement of foreign judgments in the PRC is still subject to uncertainties. In addition, the mechanisms for enforcement of rights under the corporate governance framework to which the Group is subject are also relatively undeveloped and untested. The PRC has not entered into treaties or arrangements providing for the recognition and enforcement of judgments made by the courts in most other jurisdictions. Therefore, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon the Group or its management in the PRC.

On 18 January 2019, the Supreme People's Court of the PRC and the Hong Kong government signed the Arrangement on Reciprocal Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters by the Courts of the Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (關於內地與香港特別行政區法院相互認可和執行民商事案件判決的安排) (the "2019 Arrangement"). The 2019 Arrangement has been implemented in Hong Kong by the Mainland Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters (Reciprocal Enforcement) Ordinance (Cap. 645), which came into operation on 29 January 2024. In the Mainland, the Supreme People's Court promulgated a judicial interpretation to implement the 2019 Arrangement on 26 January 2024 (the "Judicial Interpretation"). The 2019 Arrangement applies to judgments made on or after 29 January 2024.

Unlike other bonds issued in the international capital markets where holders of such bonds would typically not be required to submit to an exclusive jurisdiction, the Bondholders will be deemed to have submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts. Thus, the Bondholders' ability to initiate a claim outside Hong Kong will be limited.

Under the 2019 Arrangement, where the Hong Kong court has given a legally effective judgement in a civil and commercial matter, any party concerned may apply to the relevant People's Court of the Mainland for recognition and enforcement of the judgement, subject to the provisions, limits, procedures and other terms and requirements of the 2019 Arrangement and the Judicial Interpretation. The recognition and enforcement of a Hong Kong court judgement could be refused if the relevant People's Court of the Mainland consider that the enforcement of such judgement is contrary to the basic principles of law of the Mainland or the social and public interests of the Mainland. While it is expected that the relevant People's Courts of the Mainland will recognise and enforce a judgement given by a Hong Kong court and governed by English law, there can be no assurance that such courts will do so for all such judgments as there is no established practise in this area.

A change in English law which governs the Bonds may adversely affect Bondholders

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds are governed by English law. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change English law or administrative practise after the date of issue of the Bonds.

If the Guarantor fails to complete registration with SAFE in connection with the Guarantee, there may be logistical and practical hurdles for cross-border payments under the Guarantee

The Guarantor will unconditionally and irrevocably guarantee the due and punctual payment of all sums from time to time payable by the Issuer in respect of the Bonds. Such Guarantee will be contained in the Deed of Guarantee to be executed on the Issue Date. The Guarantor is required to submit the Guarantee to the SAFE within 15 Registration Business Days upon the execution of the Deed of Guarantee for registration in accordance with the Provisions on the Foreign Exchange Administration Rules on Cross-border Security (《跨境擔保外匯管理規定》) promulgated by SAFE. The Guarantor intends to register the Guarantee before the Registration Deadline (being the day falling 120 Registration Business Days after the Issue Date). If the Guarantor fails to complete registration with SAFE, there may be logistical and practical hurdles at the time of remittance of funds (if any cross-border payment is to be made by the Guarantor under the Guarantee) as domestic banks may require evidence of registration with SAFE in connection with the Guarantee prior to giving effect to any such remittance.

Any failure to complete the relevant filings under the Order 56 within the prescribed time frame following the completion of the issue of the Bonds may have adverse consequences for the Issuer, the Guarantor and/or the investors in the Bonds

Effective from 10 February 2023, the NDRC issued Order 56 which have superseded the Notice on Promoting the Reform of the Filing and Registration System for Issuance of Foreign Debt by Corporates (國家發展改革委關於推進企業發行外債備案登記制管理改革的通告) (Fa Gai Wai Zi [2015] No 2044). Under Order 56, the Guarantor shall (i) obtain a Certificate of Review and Registration of Enterprise Borrowing of Foreign Debt from the NDRC (the “NDRC Review and Registration Certificate”), (ii) file or report or cause to be filed or reported with the NDRC or its competent local counterpart the requisite information and documents within ten PRC business days after each foreign debt issuance and the expiration of the NDRC Review and Registration Certificate in accordance with Order 56, (iii) file or report or cause to be filed or reported with the NDRC the requisite information and documents within five PRC business days before the end of January and the end of July each year and (iv) file or report or cause to be filed or reported the requisite information and documents upon the occurrence of any material event that may affect the enterprise’s due performance of its debt obligations.

The Guarantor obtained an NDRC Review and Registration Certificate on 6 June 2024 in accordance with Order 56. Failure to comply with the NDRC post-issue and continuing obligations (such as post-issue reporting, pre-issuance approval expiration reporting, periodical reporting and major event reporting, etc.) under articles 24 and 26 of Order 56 may result in the relevant entities being ordered to make corrections within a time limit, and in the case of aggravating circumstances or in the case that such corrections are not made within the prescribed time limit, relevant entities and their main person-in-charge will be warned. The aforesaid regulatory violations committed by enterprises shall be publicised on the “Credit China” website and the national enterprise credit information publicity system, among others.

The Issuer and the Guarantor will undertake to file or report or cause to be filed or reported the requisite information and documents within the relevant prescribed timeframes after the Issue Date to the NDRC in accordance with Order 56 and comply with the continuing obligations under Order 56 and other applicable PRC laws and regulations in relation to the issue of the Bonds.

However, Order 56 is new, and its implementation may involve significant uncertainty. The administration and enforcement of Order 56 may be subject to executive and policy discretion of the NDRC.

There may be filing or other requirements of the CSRC or other PRC government authorities in relation to our proposed issuance of the Bonds or further capital raise activities

On 17 February 2023, the CSRC released the Trial Administrative Measures of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies (《境內企業境外發行證券和上市管理試行辦法》) and supporting guidelines (together, the “CSRC Filing Rules”), which came into effect on 31 March 2023. The CSRC Filing Rules will regulate both direct and indirect overseas offering and listing of PRC domestic companies’ securities by adopting a filing-based regulatory regime. The CSRC Filing Rules state that, any post-listing follow-on offering by an issuer in an overseas market, including issuance of shares, convertible bonds and other similar securities, shall be subject to filing requirement within three business days after the completion of the offering. In connection with the CSRC Filing Rules, on 17 February 2023 the CSRC also published the Notice on the Administrative Arrangements for the Filing of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Enterprises (《關於境內企業境外發行上市備案管理安排的通知》) (the “Notice on Overseas Listing Measures”). According to the Notice on Overseas Listing Measures, issuers that have already been listed in an overseas market by 31 March 2023, the date the Overseas Listing Measures became effective, are not required to make any immediate filing and are only required to comply with the filing requirements under the CSRC Filing Rules when it subsequently seeks to conduct a follow-on offering. We have been advised that we are required to go through filing procedures with the CSRC after the completion of this offering of the Bonds and for our future offerings and listing of our securities in an overseas market under the CSRC Filing Rules for this offering. The CSRC Filing Rules provide that an overseas offering and listing, including the follow-on offering of convertible bonds, is prohibited under any of the following circumstances: if (i) such securities offering and listing is explicitly prohibited by provisions in laws, administrative regulations and relevant state rules; (ii) the intended securities offering and listing may endanger national security as reviewed and determined by competent authorities under the State Council in accordance with law; (iii) the domestic company intending to make the securities offering and listing, or its controlling shareholder(s) and the actual controller, have committed relevant crimes such as corruption, bribery, embezzlement, misappropriation of property or undermining the order of the socialist market economy during the latest three years; (iv) the domestic company intending to make the securities offering and listing is currently under investigation for suspicion of criminal offences or major violations of laws and regulations, and no conclusion has yet been made thereof; or (v) there are material ownership disputes over equity held by the domestic company’s controlling shareholder(s) or by other shareholder(s) that are controlled by the controlling shareholder(s) and/or actual controller (the “Forbidden Circumstances”). In addition, in the process of filing, where the issuer may be under any of the Forbidden Circumstances, the CSRC may solicit the opinions of the competent government authorities under the State Council.

We will comply with applicable filing requirements as appropriate. However, there remains substantial uncertainty as to the interpretation, application and enforcement of the CSRC Filing Rules and how they will affect our operations and our future financing. We cannot assure you that we are able to meet such requirements, obtain such permit from the relevant government authorities, or complete such filing in a timely manner or at all. In addition, we cannot guarantee that new rules or regulations promulgated in the future will not impose any additional requirements on us. If it is determined that we are subject to any approval, filing, other governmental authorisation or requirements from the CSRC or other PRC government authorities, we may fail to obtain such approval or meet such requirements in a timely manner or at all. Such failure may subject us to fines, penalties or other sanctions which may have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

Exchange rate risks and exchange controls may affect an investor’s returns on the Bonds

The Group will pay principal on the Bonds in U.S. dollars. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor’s financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the “Investor’s Currency”) other than U.S. dollars. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the U.S. dollar or revaluation of the Investor’s Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor’s Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor’s Currency relative to the U.S. dollar would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Bonds; (ii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent value of the principal payable on the Bonds; and (iii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent market value of the Bonds. Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less principal than expected, or no principal.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent:

- the Bonds are legal investments for it;
- the Bonds can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing; and
- any other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of the Bonds.

Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of the Bonds under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

The Issuer's ability to make payments under the Bonds depends on timely payments by the Guarantor or its subsidiaries and affiliates under the on-lent loans

The Issuer is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Guarantor with limited operations of its own and will on-lend the entire proceeds from the issue of the Bonds to the Guarantor or its subsidiaries and affiliates. The Issuer has limited net assets other than such loans and its ability to make payments under the Bonds depends on timely payments under such loans. In the event that the Guarantor or its subsidiaries and affiliates do not make such payments, due to the Guarantor's lack of available cash flow or other factors, the Issuer's ability to make payments under the Bonds may be adversely affected.

Potential dilution of the ownership interest of existing Shareholders

The conversion of some or all of the Bonds will dilute the ownership interests of the existing shareholders of the Guarantor. The dilution of the ownership interest of Minxi Xinghang State-owned Assets Investment Co., Ltd. as a result of the conversion of some or all of the Bonds may result in them not being able to exercise control over the Guarantor. Any sales in the public market of the H Shares issuable upon such conversion could adversely affect prevailing market prices for the H Shares. In addition, the existence of the Bonds may facilitate short selling of the H Shares by market participants.

The Group relies on dividends paid by its subsidiaries for cash needs, and limitations under relevant laws on the ability of the Group's subsidiaries to distribute dividends to the Group could adversely affect the Group's ability to utilise such funds

As a holding company, the Guarantor relies on dividends paid by its subsidiaries for the Group's cash and financing requirements, including the funds necessary to perform its payment obligations under the Bonds, to service any foreign currency debt the Group may incur and to make any offshore acquisitions. If any of the Group's subsidiaries incur debt on its own behalf in the future, the loan agreements may restrict its ability to pay dividends or make other distributions to the Group. Under PRC laws and regulations, the Group's PRC subsidiaries may pay dividends only out of their respective accumulated profits as determined in accordance with PRC accounting standards and regulations. In addition, an enterprise registered in the PRC is required to set aside at least 10% of its accumulated after-tax profits each year, if any, to fund a certain statutory reserve fund, until the aggregate amount of such fund reaches 50% of its registered capital. Such reserve funds cannot be distributed to the Group as dividends. These limitations on the ability of the Group's PRC subsidiaries to transfer funds to the Group limit the Group's ability to receive and utilise such funds.

As a result of the foregoing, there is no assurance that the Guarantor will have sufficient cash flow from dividends or advances from its subsidiaries to satisfy its obligations under the Guarantee. Should the Guarantor be unable to make due payments under the terms of the Guarantee, the Bondholders would need to rely on the Trustee to take enforcement actions to recover their investment in the Bonds, the prospects of which are uncertain.

The Bonds and the Guarantee will be structurally subordinated to subsidiary debt

Payments under the Bonds and the Guarantee will be structurally subordinated to the claims of all holders of debt securities and other creditors, including trade creditors, of the Issuer's and the Guarantor's subsidiaries, and to all secured creditors of the Issuer and the Guarantor. A substantial part of the Guarantor's operations are conducted through its subsidiaries, associated companies and jointly controlled entities. Accordingly, the Guarantor is and will be dependent on the operations of its subsidiaries, associated companies and jointly controlled entities to service its indebtedness, including interest and principal on the Bonds. In the event of an insolvency, bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganisation, dissolution or winding up of the business of any subsidiary of the Issuer or the Guarantor, creditors of such subsidiary generally will have the right to be paid in full before any distribution is made to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be).

The insolvency laws of the PRC and other local insolvency laws may differ from those of another jurisdiction with which the holders of the Bonds are familiar

As the Guarantor is incorporated under the laws of the PRC, any insolvency proceeding relating to the Guarantor, even if brought in other jurisdictions, would likely involve PRC insolvency laws, the procedural and substantive provisions of which may differ from comparable provisions of the local insolvency laws of jurisdictions with which the Bondholders are familiar. There is no assurance that investors in the Bonds will be able to receive the same level of protection under the insolvency laws of the PRC as those in their respective home jurisdictions.

The Issuer and the Guarantor may not have the ability to redeem the Bonds

Bondholders may require the Issuer, subject to certain conditions, to redeem for cash some or all of their Bonds at the option of the Bondholders upon a Relevant Event as described under "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption for Relevant Events" or on the Put Option Date as described under "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Redemption, Purchase and Cancellation — Redemption at the Option of the Bondholders". The Issuer or the Guarantor (whom will be required to make payments pursuant to the Guarantee) may not have sufficient funds or other financial resources to make the required redemption in cash at such time or the ability to arrange necessary financing on acceptable terms, or at all. The Issuer's or the Guarantor's ability to redeem the Bonds in such event may also be limited by the terms of other debt instruments. Failure to repay, repurchase or redeem tendered Bonds by the Issuer or the Guarantor would constitute an event of default under the Bonds, which may also constitute a default under the terms of other indebtedness held by the Issuer or the Guarantor.

The Bonds may be early redeemed at the Issuer's option

The Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice (an "Optional Redemption Notice") to the Bondholders, the Trustee and the Principal Agent (which notice will be irrevocable), redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption: (i) at any time after 9 July 2027 but prior to the Maturity Date, provided that no such redemption may be made unless the Closing Price of an H Share translated into U.S. dollars at the Prevailing Rate applicable to each H Share Stock Exchange Business Day, for any 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days within a period of 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, the last of such H Share Stock Exchange Business Day shall occur not more than 10 days prior to the date upon which notice of such redemption is given, was, for each such 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, at least 130 per cent. of the Conversion Price (translated into U.S. dollars at the Fixed Exchange Rate) then in effect. If there shall occur an event giving rise to a change in the Conversion Price during any such 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Day period, appropriate adjustments for the relevant days approved by an Independent Financial Advisor shall be made for the purpose of calculating the Closing Price of the H Shares for such days; or (ii) if at any time the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding is less than 10 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount originally issued (including any Bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15).

In addition, the Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole and not in part, on giving not less than 30 days' nor more than 60 days' notice to the Bondholders, the Trustee and the Principal Agents, at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption, if the Issuer (or if the Guarantee was called, the Guarantor) has or will become obliged to pay Additional Tax Amounts as a result of certain events set out in the Conditions and such obligation cannot be avoided by the Issuer (or as the case may be, the Guarantor) taking reasonable measures available to it.

As a result, the trading price of the Bonds may be affected when any redemption option of the Issuer becomes exercisable. Accordingly, Bondholders may not be able to sell their Bonds at an attractive price, thereby having a material adverse effect on the trading price and liquidity of the Bonds.

Bondholders have limited anti-dilution protection

The Conversion Price will be adjusted in the event that there is a sub-division, consolidation or re-denomination, rights issues, bonus issue, reorganisation, capital distribution or other adjustment including an offer or scheme which affects the A Shares and/or H Shares of the Guarantor, but only in the circumstances and only to the extent provided in "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds — Conversion". There is no requirement that there should be an adjustment for every corporate or other event that may affect the value of the A Shares and/or H Shares. Events in respect of which no adjustment is made may adversely affect the value of the A Shares and/or H Shares and, therefore, adversely affect the value of the Bonds.

Short selling of the H Shares by Bondholders could materially and adversely affect the market price of the H Shares

The issuance of the Bonds may result in downward pressure on the market price of the H Shares. Investors in convertible securities may seek to hedge their exposure in the underlying equity securities, often through short selling of the underlying equity securities or similar transactions, such as the Delta Placement. Any short selling and similar hedging activity could place significant downward pressure on the market price of the H Shares, thereby having a material adverse effect on the market value of the H Shares owned by an investor as well as on the trading price of the Bonds.

Future issuances of the Ordinary Shares or equity-related securities may depress the trading price of the H Shares

Any issuance of the Guarantor's equity securities after this offering could dilute the interest of the existing shareholders and could substantially decrease the trading price of the H Shares. The Guarantor may issue equity securities in the future for a number of reasons, including to finance its operations and business strategy (including in connection with acquisitions, strategic collaborations or other transactions), to adjust its ratio of debt-to-equity, to satisfy its obligations upon the exercise of outstanding warrants, options or other convertible bonds or for other reasons. Sales of a substantial number of the H Shares or other equity-related securities in the public market (or the perception that such sales may occur) could depress the market price of the H Shares. The Guarantor cannot predict the effect that future sales of the H Shares or other equity-related securities would have on the market price of the H Shares. In addition, the price of the H Shares could be affected by possible sales of the H Shares by investors who view the Bonds as a more attractive means of obtaining equity participation in the Guarantor and by hedging or engaging in arbitrage trading activity involving the Bonds.

There may be less publicly available information about the Guarantor than is available for public companies in certain other jurisdictions

There may be less publicly available information about companies listed in Hong Kong, such as the Guarantor, than is regularly made available by public companies in certain other countries. In addition, our financial information in this Offering Circular has been prepared in accordance with PRC GAAP which differ in certain respects from generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAPs") in certain jurisdictions which might be material to the financial information contained in this Offering Circular. In making an investment decision, investors must rely upon their own examination of us, the terms of the offering and our financial information, and should consult their own professional advisers for an understanding of the differences between PRC GAAP and the GAAPs in their home jurisdictions and how those differences might affect the financial information contained in this Offering Circular.

The Bonds will initially be represented by a Global Certificate and holders of a beneficial interest in the Global Certificate must rely on the procedures of the relevant Clearing System

The Bonds will initially be represented by a Global Certificate. Such Global Certificate will be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream (each of Euroclear and Clearstream, a "Clearing System"). Except in the circumstances described in the Global Certificate, investors will not be entitled to receive definitive Bonds. The relevant Clearing System will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Global Certificate. While the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the Clearing Systems.

While the Bonds are represented by a Global Certificate, the Issuer will discharge its payment obligations under the Bonds by making payments to the common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, for distribution to their account holders. A holder of a beneficial interest in the Global Certificate must rely on the procedures of the relevant Clearing System to receive payments under the Bonds. The Issuer has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Global Certificate.

Holder of beneficial interests in a Global Certificate will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the Bonds. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the relevant Clearing System to appoint appropriate proxies.

STRENGTHS OF THE GROUP

The Group believes that the following represent its key strengths:

A large-scale global leading company with diversified, future facing and resilient metals portfolio and world-leading position in reserve base and production in major metals.

The Group is a global leading diversified mining company with mine assets in 16 countries across Asia, Europe, South America, Africa and Oceania.

The Group has a unique diversified metals portfolio covering copper, gold, lithium, zinc (lead), silver and molybdenum. Copper, lithium, silver, and molybdenum are all critical metals in the new energy industry in producing photovoltaic, wind power systems, energy storage systems, new energy vehicles, etc., which are expected to continue to have strong demand in the future. The Group is therefore well positioned to capitalise the huge growth opportunities in the new energy industry. In addition, gold as safe-haven asset is countercyclical in nature. The gold asset portfolio also enables the Group to have strong resilience under global macro uncertainties.

In terms of total resources (reserves) on equity basis as of the end of 2023, the Group ranked No. 5 globally for copper reserves owned, No. 6 globally for gold reserves owned, No. 4 globally for zinc reserves owned and No. 9 globally for lithium resources. In addition, the Group's total copper and gold reserves owned as of the end of 2023 were equivalent to 82% and 37% of China's total reserves respectively. In terms of production volume in 2023, the Group ranked No. 5 globally for copper production, No. 7 globally for gold production, and No. 4 globally for zinc production. In addition, the Group's copper and gold production volume in 2023 were equivalent to approximately 62% and 23% of total production volume in China respectively.

Sustainable high growth through bolt-on acquisition expansion and organic development initiatives

From 2020 to 2023, in terms of production volume, the Group has achieved CAGR of around 30% for copper and over 15% for gold. As a result, the Group's total revenue also achieved CAGR of 19.6% from 2020 to 2023, making it one of the fastest growing large-scale mining companies globally.

The high growth is achieved mainly through bolt-on acquisitions globally:

- Outstanding capabilities in identifying acquisition targets, executing the transactions and creating additional value post-acquisition: The Group has completed over 20 acquisitions globally in its 30+ year history, with a proven track record of identifying high quality assets at the early stage and completing the acquisitions at low costs. Since 2020, the Group's average unit acquisition costs of resources, calculated by dividing the acquisition consideration by resources acquired, were approximately USD50 per tonne for copper and approximately USD70 per ounce for gold, significantly lower than the industry average levels of approximately USD200 per tonne for copper and USD80 per ounce for gold of its global peers during the same period based on industry information from Standard & Poor.

Leveraging its strong technical capabilities and execution capabilities, the Group is able to add substantial value post-acquisition, including more exploration work to increase the resources base of the assets, completing the permitting and construction efficiently and bring the assets to operation stage within a short period of time.

- Organic growth achieved with leading exploration and technical capabilities: With the professional management team's expertise and experience, the Group has a unique competitive edge in its self-initiated geological exploration capabilities. More than 50% of the gold and copper resources and more than 90% of the zinc (lead) resources were obtained from self-initiated exploration by the end of 2023. Moreover, the Group is experienced in the development of low-grade mines with challenging mining/processing conditions.

In 2023, the Group invested RMB379 million in geological exploration on equity basis. The additional resources of major metals discovered from the exploration include: 82 tonnes of gold, 2.6 million tonnes of copper, 723 thousand tonnes of zinc (lead), and 1.0 million tonnes of lithium carbonate equivalent. Significant exploration progress was made at the Čukaru Peki Copper and Gold Mine and the Bor JM/VK Copper Mines, the Kolwezi Copper (Cobalt) Mine, the Tres Quebradas Salar, the Tongshan Copper Mine, the Julong Copper Mine, the Yixingzhai Gold Mine, the Wulagen Lead and Zinc Mine, etc. in 2023.

The Group has preliminarily established a comprehensive GIS database which covers key metallogenic areas in Central Asia, Mongolia, South America and other key metallogenic zones to achieve more efficient metallogenic pattern research, mineral prospecting prediction and exploration target selection processes going forward.

Leveraging the proven growth strategies of bolt-on acquisitions and organic development, the Group targets further growth and released a five-year plan with 2024–2028 production volume targets in May 2024, indicating the Group’s ambition for continuous growth in the next five years. The Group targets to produce 1.5 to 1.6 million tonnes of mine-produced copper, 3.2–3.5 million ounces of mine-produced gold, and 250–300kt of lithium (LCE) by 2028, which represents a 2023–2028 CAGR of more than 8%, 8%, and 142% respectively, based on 2028E production guidance (lower end) and 2023 production volume.

With this comprehensive and coordinated management system, the Group has a clear competitive advantage of cost control. In 2023, the Group’s competitive advantages in production and operation costs are remarkable, with both C1 cost of copper and all-in-sustaining cost of gold ranking among the lowest 20% globally based on industry information from World Gold Council and Woodmac, respectively.
- Strong in-house engineering capabilities support low construction costs: Leveraging system engineering technology and group’s economy of scale, the Group has been constantly developing systematic solutions guided by economic and social benefits to strictly control the capital expenditure during construction. The Group is also the first mining company in China to self-develop exploration equipment at the global leading technological level. This also applies to the overseas projects with in-house capabilities in mine construction, installation, procurement and logistics. The Group has also established a global procurement system with centralised coordination thus significantly reduce procurement, logistics and storage costs.

Note 1: The gross profit margin by product was calculated based on the figures before eliminating internal sales, and the overall gross profit margins were calculated after eliminating intercompany sales.

Note 2: For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Group's overall gross profit margin was 15.81%; the overall gross profit margin of mine-produced products (excluding refined and processed products) was 49.09%, representing a decrease of 5.20 percentage points as compared with the year ended 31 December 2022, the main reason for the decrease in the gross profit margin of mineral products was the increase in costs. For the year ended 31 December 2022, the Group's overall gross profit margin was 15.74%; its overall gross profit margin of mine-produced products (excluding refined and processed products) was 54.29%, representing a decrease of 4.69 percentage points as compared with the year ended 31 December 2021, which was mainly due to the decrease in the mine-produced copper price.

Note 3: For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Group's C1 cost of copper and all-in sustaining cost (AISC) of gold ranked among the lowest 20% globally; the increase in costs as compared with the year ended 31 December 2022 was due to several factors, including the depreciation of the RMB exchange rate, a decrease in ore feed grade of mines, the rising prices of fuel, electricity costs and auxiliary production materials, an increase in mining and stripping transportation distances, and the higher output from low-grade mines raising the average cost. The C1 cost equals the aggregate of net direct cash cost, production cost, sales expense and research and development expenses minus the by-product income.

Note 4: For the year ended 31 December 2022, the reasons for the increase in costs as compared with the year ended 31 December 2021 include the drop in the Renminbi exchange rate.

Resources and Reserves

Mineral resources are the foundation for the survival and development of mining companies. To increase its reserves, the Group carries out mergers and acquisitions of large-scale and ultra-large-scale mineral resources during countercyclical periods, as well as self-initiated geological exploration, providing a solid foundation for the Group's sustainable development.

The table below sets out the details of the retained measured, indicated and inferred resources (on equity basis) and retained proved and probable reserves of the Group's major metal products as at 31 December 2023:

		Retained measured, indicated and inferred resources	Retained proved and probable reserves	Percentage of retained proved and probable reserves of total resources
Copper	(million tonnes)	74.5565	33.3981	45%
Gold	(tonnes)	2,997.53	1,148.49	38%

Lithium (lithium carbonate equivalent)	(million tonnes)	13.4659	4.4265	33%

The Group's mineral resources and reserves are accounted for in accordance with the standard in the Classifications for Mineral Resources and Mineral Reserves (GB/T 17766-2020) of China. This standard is comparable with the classification standards of resources and reserves of the Committee for Mineral Reserves International Reporting Standards (CRIRSCO) and is also similar to the internationally accepted standards including NI 43-101 of Canada and Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (JORC Code) of Australia. The Group engages the Beijing CMA Consultancy Center and other industry authoritative institutions and experts as independent third parties to verify and announce the updated resources and reserves data every year according to the new national standard.

DIVIDENDS

The Board may declare dividends in the future after taking into account the results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, availability of the Group and other factors as it may deem relevant at such time. The Company may distribute dividends by way of cash, shares or a combination of cash and shares. According to the “Notice in relation to Further Implementing Cash Dividend Distribution of Listed Companies” (Zheng Jian Fa [2012] No. 37) and “Guidelines No. 3 for the Supervision of Listed Companies — Cash Dividends of Listed Companies” (Zheng Jian Fa [2023] No. 61) issued by the CSRC and the requirements of relevant laws, regulations and regulatory documents and the Articles of Association of the Company, in order to improve and enhance the decision making on the Company’s profit distribution and supervisory mechanism, and balance the Company’s production and operation, sustainable development and provide reasonable returns to investors, the Company formulated the Profit Distribution and Return Plan for the Next Three Years (Year 2023–2025), which was considered and approved at the Company’s ninth extraordinary meeting in 2023 of the eighth term of the Board and was considered and approved at the annual general meeting of the Company held on 17 May 2024. The plan required that unless there is a special circumstance, the Company’s accumulative profit distribution in cash for the last 3 years shall, in principle, not be less than 30% of the total amount of accumulative distributable profits realised for the last 3 years.

The Laws of the PRC require that dividends be paid only out of distributable profits, which refer to after-tax profits calculated according to the PRC GAAP, which differ in many aspects from generally accepted accounting principles in other jurisdictions, including IFRS. In addition, as stipulated by the Articles of Association of the Company, distributable profits are recognised as after-tax profit determined under the PRC GAAP, less any recovery of losses, allocations to the statutory common reserve, and allocations to a discretionary common reserve if approved by resolution of the shareholders’ general meeting. Future dividend payments will also depend upon the availability of dividends received from the subsidiaries of the Company. As a result, the Company may not be able to pay a dividend in a given year if the Company does not have distributable profits as determined under PRC GAAP. Distributions from the subsidiaries of the Company may also be restricted if they incur debt or losses, or in accordance with any restrictive covenants in bank credit facilities or other agreements that the Company or its subsidiaries may enter into in the future.

The profit distribution plan for the year ended 31 December 2023 proposed by the Board is as follows: the Company proposes to distribute a final cash dividend of RMB2 per ten shares (tax included) to its shareholders who are eligible for participating in profit distribution on the record date, which will be specified in the profit distribution implementation announcement. The actual amount of cash dividend to be distributed shall be determined according to the number of shares on the record date. There is no conversion of capital reserve into share capital for the year ended 31 December 2023. The profit distribution proposal for the year ended 31 December 2023 has been approved at the shareholders’ general meeting held on 17 May 2024.

4 INTEREST

The Bonds bear interest on their outstanding principal amount from and including 25 June 2024 at the rate of 1.0 per cent. per annum payable semi-annually in arrear in equal instalments of U.S.$500 per Calculation Amount (as defined below) on 25 June and 25 December in each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”).

Each Bond will cease to bear interest:

- (a) (subject to Condition 5.2.4 (Interest Accrual)) where the Conversion Right attached to it shall have been exercised by a Bondholder, from and including the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the relevant Conversion Date (as defined below), or if none, the Issue Date; or
- (b) where such Bond is redeemed or repaid pursuant to Condition 7 or Condition 9, from the due date for redemption or repayment thereof unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal and premium (if any) is improperly withheld or refused. In such event, such unpaid amount shall bear interest at the rate of 2.00 per cent. per annum (both before and after judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (A) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Bond up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant holder and (B) the day falling seven days after the Trustee or the Principal Agent has notified Bondholders of receipt of all sums due in respect of all the Bonds up to that seventh day (except to the extent that there is failure in the subsequent payment to the relevant holders under these Conditions).

Interest in respect of any Bond shall be calculated per U.S.$100,000 in principal amount of the Bonds (the “Calculation Amount”). The amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount for any period shall, save as provided above in relation to equal instalments, be equal to the product of the relevant annual rate of interest, the Calculation Amount and the day-count fraction for the relevant period, rounding the resulting figure to the nearest cent (half a cent being rounded upwards). If interest is required to be calculated for a period of less than a complete Interest Period (as defined below), the relevant day-count fraction will be determined on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve months of 30 days each and, in the case of an incomplete month, the number of days elapsed.

In these Conditions, the period beginning on and including the Issue Date and ending on but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and each successive period beginning on and including an Interest Payment Date and ending on but excluding the next succeeding Interest Payment Date is called an “Interest Period”.

5 CONVERSION

5.1 Conversion Right

5.1.1 Conversion Right and Conversion Period: Subject as hereinafter provided and in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed, Bondholders have the right to convert their Bonds into H Shares credited as fully paid at any time during the Conversion Period referred to below.

Subject to and upon compliance with these Conditions, the right of a Bondholder to convert any Bond into H Shares is called the “Conversion Right”. The number of H Shares to be issued on conversion of a Bond will be determined by dividing the principal amount of the Bond to be converted (translated into HK dollars at the fixed rate of HK$7.8101 = U.S.$1.00) (the “Fixed Exchange Rate”) by the Conversion Price (as defined in Condition 5.1.3) in effect on the relevant Conversion Date (as defined in Condition 5.2.1). A Conversion Right may only be exercised in respect of an Authorised Denomination for one or more Bonds. If more than one Bond held by the same holder is converted at any one time by the same holder, the number of H Shares to be issued upon such conversion will be calculated on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds to be converted.

Subject to and upon compliance with these Conditions (including without limitation Condition 5.1.4), the Conversion Right attaching to any Bond may be exercised, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time on or after the 41st day after the Issue Date up to the close of business (at the place where the Certificate evidencing such Bond is deposited for conversion) on the date falling 10 days prior to the Maturity Date (as defined in Condition 7.1) (both days inclusive) or if such Bond shall have been called for redemption by the Issuer before the Maturity Date, then up to the close of business (at the place aforesaid) on a date no later than 10 days (both days inclusive and at the place aforesaid) prior to the date fixed for redemption thereof; provided that no Conversion Right may be exercised in respect of a Bond where the holder shall have exercised its right to require the Issuer to redeem or repurchase such Bond pursuant to Condition 7.4 or Condition 7.5 or during a Restricted Conversion Period (as defined below) (both dates inclusive); provided further that the Conversion Right is exercised subject to any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations or as hereafter provided in these Conditions (the “Conversion Period”).

In accordance with the below paragraphs, exercise of Conversion Rights is restricted in relation to any Bond during the period in which the register of shareholders of the Guarantor is closed generally or for the purpose of establishing entitlement to any distribution or other rights attaching to the H shares (a “Restricted Conversion Period”).

If the Conversion Date in respect of a Bond would otherwise fall during a Restricted Conversion Period, such Conversion Date shall be postponed to the first H Share Stock Exchange Business Day (as defined in Condition 5.8) following the expiry of such Restricted Conversion Period.

If the Conversion Date in respect of the exercise of any Conversion Right is postponed as a result of the foregoing provision to a date that falls after the expiry of the Conversion Period or after the relevant redemption date, such Conversion Date shall be deemed to be the final day of such Conversion Period or the relevant redemption date, as the case may be.

For the purpose of this Condition 5.1.1, “working day” means a day other than a Saturday, Sunday or a public holiday on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets are generally open for business in the city which the specified office of each of the Principal Agent and the Registrar is located, respectively.

5.1.2 Fractions of H Shares: Fractions of H Shares will not be issued on conversion and no cash payments or other adjustments will be made in lieu thereof. However, if the Conversion Right in respect of more than one Bond is exercised at any one time such that H Shares to be issued on conversion are to be registered in the same name, the number of such H Shares to be issued in respect thereof shall be calculated on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of such Bonds being so converted and rounded down to the nearest whole number of H Shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a consolidation or re-classification of H Shares by operation of law or otherwise occurring after 17 June 2024 which reduces the number of H Shares outstanding, the Issuer will upon conversion of Bonds pay in cash in U.S. dollars (by means of a U.S. dollar cheque drawn on a bank that processes payments in U.S. dollars and mailed directly to the address of the Bondholder or by transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee, in either case in accordance with instructions given by the relevant Bondholder in the Conversion Notice) a sum equal to such portion of the principal amount of the Bond or Bonds evidenced by the Certificate deposited in connection with the exercise of Conversion Rights, aggregated as provided in Condition 5.1.1, as corresponds to any fraction of a H Share not issued as a result of such consolidation or re-classification aforesaid if such sum exceeds U.S.$10.00 (which shall be determined using the Prevailing Rate on the Conversion Date).

- 5.1.3 Conversion Price: The price at which H Shares will be issued upon conversion (the “Conversion Price”) will initially be HK$19.84 per H Share but will be subject to adjustment in the manner provided in Condition 5.3 and/or Condition 5.6, as applicable.
- 5.1.4 Revival and/or survival after Default: Notwithstanding the provisions of Condition 5.1.1, if (i) the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall default in making payment in full in respect of any Bond which shall have been called or put for redemption on the date fixed for redemption thereof, (ii) any Bond has become due and payable prior to the Maturity Date by reason of the occurrence of any of the events referred to in Condition 9 or (iii) any Bond is not redeemed on the Maturity Date in accordance with Condition 7.1, the Conversion Right attaching to such Bond will revive and/or will continue to be exercisable up to, and including, the close of business (at the place where the Certificate evidencing such Bond is deposited for conversion) on the date upon which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Bond has been duly received by the Principal Agent or the Trustee and notice of such receipt has been duly given to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16 and, notwithstanding the provisions of Condition 5.1.1, any Bond in respect of which the Certificate and Conversion Notice are deposited for conversion prior to such date shall be converted on the relevant Conversion Date notwithstanding that the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Bond shall have been received by the Principal Agent or the Trustee before such Conversion Date or that the Conversion Period may have expired before such Conversion Date.
- 5.1.5 Meaning of “Shares”: As used in these Conditions, the expression (i) “H Shares” means ordinary foreign shares with a nominal value of RMB0.1 each issued by the Guarantor which are traded in HK dollars on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange; (ii) “A Shares” means ordinary domestic shares of RMB0.1 each issued by the Guarantor which are traded in Renminbi on the Shanghai Stock Exchange; and (iii) “Ordinary Shares” means the H Shares, the A Shares and any fully-paid and non-assessable shares of any class or classes of the ordinary shares of the Guarantor authorised after the date of the issue of the Bonds which have no preference in respect of dividends or of amounts payable in the event of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation or dissolution of the Guarantor.

5.2 Conversion Procedure

5.2.1 Conversion Notice:

Conversion Rights may be exercised by a Bondholder during the Conversion Period by delivering the relevant Certificate to the specified office of any Conversion Agent during its usual business hours (being 9:00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) to 3:00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), Monday to Friday except for public holidays, on which commercial banks are generally open for business in the city of the specified office of the Conversion Agent) accompanied by a duly completed and signed notice of conversion (a “Conversion Notice”) in the form (for the time being current and being substantially in the form scheduled to the Agency Agreement) obtainable from any Conversion Agent, together with (i) the relevant Certificate; and (ii) certification by the Bondholder, as may be required under the laws of the PRC, Hong Kong or any jurisdiction in which the specified office of such Conversion Agent is located. Conversion Rights shall be exercised subject in each case to any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations applicable in the jurisdiction in which the specified office of the Conversion Agent to whom the relevant Conversion Notice is delivered is located.

If such delivery is made after 3.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time) on any business day or on a day which is not a business day, in each case in the place of the specified office of the Conversion Agent, such delivery shall be deemed for all purposes of these Conditions to have been made on the next business day following such day. If such delivery is made during a Restricted Conversion Period, such delivery shall be deemed for all purposes of these Conditions to have been made on the H Share Stock Exchange Business Day following (in the place of the specified office of the Conversion Agent) the last day of such Restricted Conversion Period unless such date shall fall outside the Conversion Period.

Any determination as to whether any Conversion Notice has been duly completed and properly delivered shall be made by the relevant Conversion Agent and shall, save in the case of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Trustee, the Agents and the relevant Bondholder.

A Conversion Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn without the Issuer’s consent.

The conversion date in respect of a Bond (the “Conversion Date”) shall be deemed to be the H Share Stock Exchange Business Day immediately following the date of the surrender of the Certificate in respect of such Bond and delivery of such Conversion Notice and, if applicable, any such certificate and/or any payment to be made or indemnity given under these Conditions in connection with the exercise of such Conversion Right.

5.2.2 Stamp Duty etc.: A Bondholder delivering a Certificate in respect of a Bond for conversion must pay directly to the relevant authorities any taxes and duties, including capital, stamp, issue, excise, transfer, registration and other similar taxes and duties and transfer costs (“Bondholder Duties”) in any applicable jurisdiction arising on conversion (other than any taxes or capital or stamp duties payable in the PRC or Hong Kong or, if relevant, in the place of the Alternative Stock Exchange, by the Issuer and the Guarantor in respect of the allotment and issue of H Shares and listing of the H Shares on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the Alternative Stock Exchange (as the case may be) on conversion, such duties being the “Issuer Duties”) (such Bondholder Duties and Issuer Duties are collectively known as “Taxes”). The Issuer (failing which, the Guarantor) will pay all other expenses arising from the issue of H Shares on conversion of the Bonds and all charges (together, the “Conversion Expenses”) of the Agents and the share transfer agent for the H Shares (the “Share Transfer Agent”). The Bondholder (and, if different, the person to whom the H Shares are to be issued) must declare in the relevant Conversion Notice that any amounts payable to the relevant tax authorities or party in settlement of Bondholder Duties payable pursuant to this Condition 5.2.2 have been paid.

If the Issuer or the Guarantor shall fail to pay any Issuer Duties or Conversion Expenses, the relevant holder shall be entitled to tender and pay the same and the Issuer and the Guarantor, as a separate and independent stipulation, jointly and severally covenant to reimburse and indemnify each Bondholder in respect of any payment thereof and any penalties payable in respect thereof.

Such Bondholder must also pay all, if any, Bondholder Duties imposed on it and arising by reference to any disposal or deemed disposal of a Bond or interest therein in connection with the exercise of Conversion Rights by it.

Neither the Trustee nor the Agents shall be responsible for determining whether such Taxes or Conversion Expenses are payable or the amount thereof and shall not be responsible or liable for any failure by the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Bondholder to pay any such amount.

5.2.3 Registration:

- (i) As soon as practicable, and in any event not later than seven H Share Stock Exchange Business Days (excluding any H Share Stock Exchange Business Days that fall within a Restricted Conversion Period) after the Conversion Date, the Guarantor will, in the case of Bonds converted on exercise of the Conversion Right and in respect of which a duly completed Conversion Notice has been delivered and the relevant Certificate and certification and amounts payable by the relevant Bondholder deposited or paid as required by Conditions 5.2.1 and 5.2.2, register the person or persons designated for the purpose in the Conversion Notice as holder(s) of the relevant number of H Shares in the Guarantor's H share register and will, if the Bondholder has also requested in the Conversion Notice and to the extent permitted under applicable law and the rules and procedures of the Central Clearing and Settlement System of Hong Kong ("CCASS"), take all action reasonably necessary to enable the H Shares to be delivered through CCASS for so long as the H Shares are listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange; or will make such certificate or certificates available for collection at the office of the Guarantor's share registrar in Hong Kong (currently Shops 1712–1716, 17th Floor Hopewell Centre 183 Queen's Road East, Wanchai, Hong Kong) notified to Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16 or, if so requested in the relevant Conversion Notice, cause its share registrar to mail (at the risk, and, if sent at the request of such person otherwise than by ordinary mail, at the expense, of the person to whom such certificate or certificates are sent) such certificate or certificates to the person and at the place specified in the Conversion Notice, together (in either case) with any other securities, property or cash required to be delivered upon conversion and such assignments and other documents (if any) as may be required by law to effect the transfer thereof.
- (ii) The delivery of the H Shares to the converting Bondholder (or such person or persons designated in the relevant Conversion Notice) in the manner contemplated in Condition 5.2.3(i) will be deemed to satisfy the Issuer's obligation to pay any amounts under such converted Bonds. The person or persons designated in the Conversion Notice will become the holder of record of the number of H Shares issuable upon conversion with effect from the date he is or they are registered as such in the Guarantor's register of members for H shares (the "Registration Date"). The H Shares issued upon exercise of the Conversion Rights will be fully paid up and will in all respects rank pari passu with, and within the same class as, the H Shares in issue on the relevant Registration Date except for any right excluded by mandatory provisions of applicable law. Save as set out in these Conditions, a holder of H Shares issued on exercise of the Conversion Rights shall not be entitled to any rights, distributions or other payments the record date or due date for the establishment of entitlement for which precedes the relevant Registration Date.

(iii) If (A) the Registration Date in relation to any Bond shall be on or after the record date for any issue, distribution, grant, offer or other event that gives rise to the adjustment of the Conversion Price pursuant to Condition 5.3 and/or Condition 5.6 (as applicable), and (B) the Conversion Date in relation to such exercise shall be before the date on which such adjustment to the Conversion Price becomes effective under the relevant Condition (any such adjustment, a “Retroactive Adjustment”), upon the relevant adjustment to the Conversion Price becoming effective under the relevant Condition, the Guarantor shall procure the issue to the converting Bondholder (in accordance with the instructions contained in the Conversion Notice (subject to any applicable laws or regulations)), such additional number of H Shares (“Additional H Shares”) as, together with the H Shares issued or to be issued on conversion of the relevant Bond, is equal to the number of H Shares which would have been required to be issued on conversion of such Bond if the relevant adjustment to the Conversion Price under the relevant Condition had been made and become effective on or immediately prior to the relevant Conversion Date and in such event and in respect of such Additional H Shares, references in this Condition 5.2.3(iii) to the Conversion Date shall be deemed to refer to the date upon which the Retroactive Adjustment becomes effective (notwithstanding that the date upon which it becomes effective falls after the end of the Conversion Period).

5.2.4 Interest Accrual:

If any notice requiring the redemption of any Bonds is given pursuant to Condition 7.2 or Condition 7.3 on or after the 15th Hong Kong business day prior to a record date which has occurred since the last Interest Payment Date (or in the case of the first Interest Period, since the Issue Date) in respect of any dividend or distribution payable in respect of the H Shares where such notice specifies a date for redemption falling on or prior to the date which is 14 days after the Interest Payment Date immediately following such record date, interest shall (subject as hereinafter provided) accrue on Bonds in respect of which Conversion Rights shall have been exercised and in respect of which the Conversion Date falls after such record date and on or prior to the Interest Payment Date immediately following such record date in each case from and including the preceding Interest Payment Date (or, if such Conversion Date falls before the first Interest Payment Date, from, and including, the Issue Date) to, but excluding, such Conversion Date; provided that no such interest shall accrue on any Bond in the event that the H Shares issued on conversion thereof shall carry an entitlement to receive such dividend or distribution. Any such interest shall be paid not later than 14 days after the relevant Conversion Date by the Issuer directly by transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee, in accordance with instructions given by the relevant Bondholder in the Conversion Notice.

5.3 Adjustments to Conversion Price

Upon the occurrence of any of the following events described below, the Conversion Price will be adjusted as follows:

5.3.1 Consolidation, Subdivision or Re-classification: If and whenever there shall be an alteration to the nominal value of the H Shares as a result of consolidation, subdivision or re-classification, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such alteration by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

Where:

- A is the nominal amount of one H Share immediately after such alteration;
and
- B is the nominal amount of one H Share immediately before such alteration.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date the alteration takes effect.

5.3.2 Capitalisation of Profits or Reserves:

- (i) If and whenever the Guarantor shall issue Ordinary Shares of any class credited as fully paid to the holders of such Ordinary Shares (“Ordinary Shareholders”) by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, including Ordinary Shares of such class paid up out of distributable profits or reserves and/or share premium account (except any Scrip Dividend) and which would not have constituted a Capital Distribution, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issue by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate nominal amount of the issued Ordinary Shares immediately before such issue; and
- B is the aggregate nominal amount of the issued Ordinary Shares immediately after such issue.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of such Ordinary Shares or if a record date is fixed therefor, immediately after such record date; provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of the H Shares shall prevail.

- (ii) In the case of an issue of Ordinary Shares of any class by way of a Scrip Dividend where the aggregate value of such Ordinary Shares by way of a Scrip Dividend as determined by reference to the Current Market Price on the date of announcement of the terms of such Scrip Dividend multiplied by the number of such Ordinary Shares issued exceeds 105 per cent. of the amount of the Relevant Cash Dividend or the relevant part thereof and which would not have constituted a Capital Distribution, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before the issue of such Scrip Dividend by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A + B}{A + C}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate nominal amount of the issued Ordinary Shares of all classes immediately before such issue;
- B is the aggregate nominal amount of such Scrip Dividend multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the amount of the whole, or the relevant part, of the Relevant Cash Dividend and (ii) the denominator is such aggregate Current Market Price of the Scrip Dividend issued in lieu of the whole, or the relevant part, of the Relevant Cash Dividend; and
- C is the aggregate nominal amount of such Scrip Dividend, or by making such other adjustment as an Independent Financial Advisor shall determine is fair and reasonable and notify the Trustee.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of such Ordinary Shares or if a record date is fixed therefor, immediately after such record date; provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of H Shares shall prevail.

5.3.3 Capital Distributions: If and whenever the Guarantor shall pay or make any Capital Distribution to the Ordinary Shareholders (except to the extent that the Conversion Price falls to be adjusted under Condition 5.3.2 above), the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such Capital Distribution by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A - B}{A}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue multiplied by their respective Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of such class on the date on which the Capital Distribution is first publicly announced; and
- B is the Fair Market Value on the date of such announcement of the aggregate Capital Distribution.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date that such Capital Distribution is actually made or, if a record date is fixed therefor, immediately after such record date, provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of the H Shares shall prevail. For the purpose of the above, Fair Market Value shall (subject as provided in the definition of “Fair Market Value” (as defined in Condition 5.8)) be determined as at the date on which the Capital Distribution is first publicly announced or, if later, the first date on which the Fair Market Value of the relevant Capital Distribution is capable of being determined as provided herein.

In making any calculation pursuant to this Condition 5.3.3, such adjustments (if any) shall be made as an Independent Financial Advisor may consider appropriate to reflect (i) any consolidation or subdivision of the Ordinary Shares, (ii) issues of Ordinary Shares by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, or any like or similar event, (iii) the modification of any rights to dividends of Ordinary Shares or (iv) any change in the fiscal year of the Guarantor.

For the avoidance of doubt, the final dividend to be paid by the Guarantor in respect of the year ended 31 December 2023 (which has been approved by the shareholders of the Guarantor on 17 May 2024) will not give rise to an adjustment of the Conversion Price pursuant to this Condition 5.3.3.

5.3.4 Rights Issues of Shares or Options over Shares: If and whenever the Guarantor shall issue Ordinary Shares of one or more classes to all or substantially all Ordinary Shareholders of such classes by way of rights, or issue or grant to all or substantially all Ordinary Shareholders of such classes by way of rights, options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire any Ordinary Shares of such classes, in each case at a consideration less than 95 per cent. of the Current Market Price per H Share on the date of the first public announcement of the terms of the issues or grants, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issues or grants by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A + B_1 + B_2}{A + C_1 + C_2}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue immediately before such announcement;
- B₁ is the number of Ordinary Shares of one class which the aggregate consideration (if any) receivable for the Ordinary Shares of such class issued by way of rights or for the options or warrants or other rights issued or granted by way of rights and for the total number of Ordinary Shares of such class comprised therein would subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire at such Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of the class;
- B₂ where applicable, is the number of Ordinary Shares of a second class which the aggregate consideration (if any) receivable for the Ordinary Shares of such class issued by way of rights or for the options or warrants or other rights issued or granted by way of rights and for the total number of Ordinary Shares of such class comprised therein would subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire at such Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of the class;
- C₁ is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of one class issued or, as the case may be, comprised in the issue or grant; and
- C₂ where applicable, is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of a second class issued or, as the case may be, comprised in the issue or grant.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of such Ordinary Shares or issue or grant of such options, warrants or other rights (as the case may be) or where a record date is set, the first date on which the Ordinary Shares are traded ex-rights, ex-options or ex-warrants, as the case may be; provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of H Shares shall prevail.

5.3.5 Rights Issues of Other Securities: In respect of each class of Ordinary Shares, if and whenever the Guarantor shall issue any securities (other than Ordinary Shares or options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Ordinary Shares) to all or substantially all Ordinary Shareholders of such class by way of rights, or issue or grant to all or substantially all Ordinary Shareholders of such class by way of rights, options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire any securities (other than Ordinary Shares or options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Ordinary Shares), the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issue or grant by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A - B}{A}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue multiplied by their respective Current Market Price per Ordinary Share on the date on which the terms of such issue or grant are publicly announced; and
- B is the Fair Market Value of the aggregate securities, rights, options or warrants (as the case may be) attributable to the Ordinary Shares.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of the securities or the issue or grant of such rights, options or warrants (as the case may be) or where a record date is set, the first date on which the Ordinary Shares are traded ex-rights, ex-options or ex-warrants, as the case may be, provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of the H Shares shall prevail. For the purpose of the above, Fair Market Value shall (subject as provided in the definition of “Fair Market Value” (as defined in Condition 5.8)) be determined as at the date on which the terms of such issue or grant is first publicly announced, or if later, the first date on which the Fair Market Value of the aggregate rights attributable to the Ordinary Shares in relation to such issue or grant is capable of being determined as provided herein.

5.3.6 Issues at Less than Current Market Price: If and whenever the Guarantor shall issue (otherwise than as mentioned in Condition 5.3.4 above) any Ordinary Shares (other than H Shares issued on the exercise of Conversion Rights or on the exercise of any other rights of conversion into, or exchange or subscription for, Ordinary Shares) or issue or grant (otherwise than as mentioned in Condition 5.3.4 above) options, warrants or other rights (other than the Conversion Rights under the Bonds, which excludes any further bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15) to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Ordinary Shares of one or more classes, in each case at a consideration which is less than 95 per cent. of the Current Market Price per H Share on the date of announcement of the terms of such issue or grant, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issues by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A + B_1 + B_2}{A + C_1 + C_2}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue immediately before the issue of such additional Ordinary Shares of such class or the grant of such options, warrants or other rights to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire any Ordinary Shares of such class;
- B₁ is the number of Ordinary Shares of one class which the aggregate consideration (if any) receivable for the issue of such additional Ordinary Shares of such class would purchase at the Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of such class;
- B₂ where applicable, is the number of Ordinary Shares of a second class which the aggregate consideration (if any) receivable for the issue of such additional Ordinary Shares of such class would purchase at the Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of such class;
- C₁ is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of one class issued, or as the case may be, the maximum number of Ordinary Shares of such class to be issued on the exercise of such options, warrants or other rights at the initial exercise price or rate; and
- C₂ where applicable, is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of a second class issued, or as the case may be, the maximum number of Ordinary Shares of such class to be issued on the exercise of such options, warrants or other rights at the initial exercise price or rate.

References to additional Ordinary Shares in the above formula shall, in the case of an issue by the Guarantor of options, warrants or other rights to subscribe or purchase Ordinary Shares, mean such Ordinary Shares to be issued assuming that such options, warrants or other rights are exercised in full at the initial exercise price or rate on the date of issue or grant of such options, warrants or other rights.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of such additional Ordinary Shares or, as the case may be, the issue or grant of such options, warrants or other rights; provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of the H Shares shall prevail.

5.3.7 Other Issues at less than Current Market Price: Save in the case of an issue of securities arising from a conversion or exchange of other securities in accordance with the terms applicable to such securities themselves falling within this Condition 5.3.7, if and whenever the Guarantor or any of its Subsidiaries (otherwise than as mentioned in Condition 5.3.4, Condition 5.3.5 or Condition 5.3.6), or (at the direction or request of or pursuant to any arrangements with the Guarantor or any of its Subsidiaries) any other company, person or entity shall issue any securities (other than the Bonds, which shall be deemed to exclude any further bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15) which by their terms of issues carry rights of conversion into, or exchange or subscription for, Ordinary Shares of one or more classes to be issued by the Guarantor upon conversion, exchange or subscription, in each case at a consideration which is less than 95 per cent. of the Current Market Price per H Share on the date of announcement of the terms of issues of such securities, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issues by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A + B_1 + B_2}{A + C_1 + C_2}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue immediately before such issue;
- B₁ is the number of Ordinary Shares of one class which the aggregate consideration receivable by the Guarantor for the Ordinary Shares of such class to be issued on conversion or exchange or on exercise of the right of subscription attached to such securities would purchase at such Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of such class;
- B₂ where applicable, is the number of Ordinary Shares of a second class which the aggregate consideration receivable by the Guarantor for the Ordinary Shares of such class to be issued on conversion or exchange or on exercise of the right of subscription attached to such securities would purchase at such Current Market Price per Ordinary Share of such class;
- C₁ is the maximum number of Ordinary Shares of one class to be issued on conversion or exchange of such securities or on the exercise of such rights of subscription attached thereto at the initial conversion, exchange or subscription price or rate; and
- C₂ where applicable, is the maximum number of Ordinary Shares of a second class to be issued on conversion or exchange of such securities or on the exercise of such rights of subscription attached thereto at the initial conversion, exchange or subscription price or rate.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue of such securities.

5.3.8 Modification of Rights of Conversion etc.: If and whenever there shall be any modification of the rights of conversion, exchange, subscription, purchase or acquisition attaching to any such securities as are mentioned in Condition 5.3.7 (other than in accordance with the terms of such securities) so that the consideration per Ordinary Share of one or more classes (for the number of Ordinary Shares of such classes available on conversion, exchange, subscription, purchase or acquisition following the modification) is reduced and, in each case, is less than 95 per cent. of the Current Market Price per H Share on the date of the first public announcement of the proposals for such modifications, the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such modifications by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A - B}{A}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue multiplied by their respective Current Market Price per Ordinary Share on the date on which such modification is publicly announced; and
- B is the difference between the Fair Market Value of the modification aggregated across all Ordinary Shares of all classes in issue on the date of such announcement and the aggregate consideration received for the modification.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of modification of the rights of conversion, exchange, subscription, purchase or acquisition attaching to such securities.

5.3.9 Other Offers to Ordinary Shareholders: In respect of each class of Ordinary Shares, if and whenever the Guarantor or any of its Subsidiaries or (at the direction or request of or pursuant to any arrangements with the Guarantor or any of its Subsidiaries) any other company, person or entity issues, sells or distributes any securities in connection with an offer pursuant to which the Ordinary Shareholders of such class generally are entitled to participate in arrangements whereby such securities may be acquired by them (except where the Conversion Price falls to be adjusted under Condition 5.3.4, Condition 5.3.5, Condition 5.3.6 or Condition 5.3.7), the Conversion Price shall be adjusted by multiplying the Conversion Price in force immediately before such issue by the following fraction:

$$\frac{A - B}{A}$$

Where:

- A is the aggregate Ordinary Shares in issue multiplied by their respective Current Market Price per Ordinary Share on the date on which the terms of such issue, sale or distribution of securities are first publicly announced; and
- B is the Fair Market Value on the date of such announcement of the portion of the aggregate rights attributable to the Ordinary Shares.

Such adjustment shall become effective on the date of issue, sale or distribution of the securities or, if a record date is fixed therefor, immediately after such record date or if later, the first date upon which the Fair Market Value of the relevant securities is capable of being determined as provided herein, provided that if there are different effective dates for different classes of Ordinary Shares, the effective date of the H Shares shall prevail. For the purpose of the above, Fair Market Value shall (subject as provided in the definition of “Fair Market Value” (as defined in Condition 5.8)) be determined as at the date on which the terms of such issue, sale or distribution of securities are first publicly announced or, if later, the first date on which the Fair Market Value of the portion of the aggregate rights attributable to the Ordinary Shares is capable of being determined as provided herein.

5.3.10 Other Events: If the Guarantor determines, in its sole discretion, that an adjustment should be made to the Conversion Price as a result of one or more events or circumstances not referred to in this Condition 5.3, the Issuer or the Guarantor shall, at its own expense, consult an Independent Financial Advisor to determine as soon as practicable what adjustment (if any) to the Conversion Price is fair and reasonable to take account thereof, if the adjustment would result in a reduction in the Conversion Price, and the date on which such adjustment should take effect and upon such determination by the Independent Financial Advisor such adjustment (if any) shall be made and shall take effect in accordance with such determination.

5.3.11 Further Classes of Ordinary Shares: In the event that the Guarantor has more than two classes of Ordinary Shares outstanding at any time, the formulae set out in this Condition 5.3 shall be restated to take into account such further classes of Ordinary Shares so that “ $B_1 + B_2$ ” and “ $C_1 + C_2$ ” shall become “ $B_1 + B_2 + B_3$ ” and “ $C_1 + C_2 + C_3$ ” and “ B_3 ” and “ C_3 ” shall have the same meaning as “ B_1 ” and “ C_1 ”, respectively, but by reference to a third class of Ordinary Shares and so on, provided that where the events or circumstances giving rise to any adjustment pursuant to this Condition 5.3 have already resulted or will result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price or where the events or circumstances giving rise to any adjustment arise by virtue of events or circumstances which have already given rise or will give rise to an adjustment to the Conversion Price, such modification (if any) shall be made to the operation of the provisions of this Condition 5.3 as may be advised by the Independent Financial Advisor to be in its opinion appropriate to give the intended result. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the per Ordinary Share value of any such adjustment shall not exceed the per Ordinary Share value of the dilution in the Ordinary Shareholders’ interest in the Guarantor’s equity caused by such events or circumstances.

5.4 Undertakings

5.4.1 The Guarantor has undertaken in the Trust Deed, inter alia, that so long as any Bond remains outstanding, save with the approval of an Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Bondholders:

- (i) it will use its commercially reasonable endeavours (a) to maintain a listing for the H Shares on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, (b) to obtain and maintain a listing for all the H Shares issued on the exercise of the Conversion Rights attaching to the Bonds on the Hong Kong

Stock Exchange and (c) if the Guarantor is unable to obtain or maintain such listing, to obtain and maintain a listing for all the issued H Shares on such Alternative Stock Exchange as the Guarantor may from time to time determine, and will forthwith give notice to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16 of the listing or delisting of the H Shares (as a class) by any of such stock exchange;

- (ii) it will pay the expenses of the issue and delivery of, and all expenses of obtaining listing for, H Shares arising on conversion of the Bonds (save for the Bondholder Duties);
- (iii) it will not make any reduction of its registered share capital or any uncalled liability in respect thereof or of any share premium account or capital redemption reserve fund (except, in each case, as permitted by law (including but not limited to repurchase or cancellation of its shares (i) pursuant to any share incentive or share option schemes of the Guarantor; (ii) as a result of its shareholders' dissent to the Guarantor's merger or segregation in a shareholders' meeting and request the Guarantor to repurchase its shares; (iii) for the protection of the interests of the Guarantor's shareholders; and (iv) as permitted by laws and regulations and the Guarantor's articles of association) provided that the reduction results in an adjustment to the Conversion Price then in effect); and
- (iv) it will use all commercially reasonable endeavours to maintain the listing of the Bonds on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

5.4.2 In the Trust Deed, the Guarantor has undertaken with the Trustee, inter alia, that so long as any Bond remains outstanding, save with the approval of an Extraordinary Resolution of the Bondholders:

- (i) it will issue H Shares to Bondholders on exercise of Conversion Rights and ensure that at all times it has the ability to issue free from pre-emptive or other similar rights such number of H Shares as would enable the Conversion Rights and all other rights of subscription and exchange for and conversion into H Shares to be satisfied in full and will ensure that all H Shares delivered upon conversion of the Bonds will be duly and validly issued as fully-paid and not subject to call for further funds; and
- (ii) it will not make any offer, issue or distribution or take any action the effect of which would be to reduce the Conversion Price below the par value of the H Shares of the Guarantor provided always that the Guarantor shall not be prohibited from purchasing its H Shares to the extent permitted by law.

5.4.3 The Issuer and the Guarantor have also given certain other undertakings in the Trust Deed for the protection of the Conversion Rights.

5.5 Notice of Change in Conversion Price

The Issuer (failing which, the Guarantor) shall give notice to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, to the Trustee and each Conversion Agent in writing and to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16 of any change in the Conversion Price. Any such notice relating to a change in the Conversion Price shall set forth the event giving rise to the adjustment, the Conversion Price prior to such adjustment, the adjusted Conversion Price and the effective date of such adjustment.

5.6 Adjustment upon Change of Control

If a Change of Control (as defined in Condition 7.5.5(iii)) shall have occurred, the Issuer shall give notice of that fact to the Bondholders (the “Change of Control Notice”) in accordance with Condition 16 and to the Trustee and the Agents in writing within 14 days after it becomes aware of such Change of Control. Following the giving of a Change of Control Notice, upon any exercise of Conversion Rights such that the relevant Conversion Date falls within the period of 30 days following the later of (i) the occurrence of the relevant Change of Control and (ii) the date on which the Change of Control Notice is given to Bondholders (such period, the “Change of Control Conversion Period”), the Conversion Price shall be adjusted in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{NCP} = \frac{\text{OCP}}{1 + (\text{CP} \times c/t)}$$

Where:

NCP = the Conversion Price after such adjustment;

OCP = the Conversion Price before such adjustment. For the avoidance of doubt, OCP for the purposes of this Condition 5.6 shall be the Conversion Price applicable on the relevant Conversion Date in respect of any conversion pursuant to this Condition 5.6;

Conversion Premium (“CP”) = 28.0 per cent. expressed as a fraction;

c = the number of days from and including the first day of the Change of Control Conversion Period to but excluding the Maturity Date; and t = the number of days from and including the Issue Date to but excluding the Maturity Date, provided that the Conversion Price shall not be reduced pursuant to this Condition 5.6 below the level permitted by applicable laws and regulations from time to time (if any).

If the last day of a Change of Control Conversion Period shall fall during a Restricted Transfer Period or a Restricted Conversion Period, as the case may be, the Change of Control Conversion Period shall be extended such that its last day will be the fifteenth day following the last day of the Restricted Transfer Period or the Restricted Conversion Period, as the case may be.

On the business day immediately following the last day of the Change of Control Conversion Period, the Conversion Price shall be re-adjusted to the Conversion Price in force immediately before the adjustment to the Conversion Price during the Change of Control Conversion Period.

5.7 Provisions Relating to Changes in Conversion Price

5.7.1 Minor Adjustments: On any adjustment, the resultant Conversion Price, if not an integral multiple of one Hong Kong cent, shall be rounded down to the nearest Hong Kong cent. No adjustment shall be made to the Conversion Price if such adjustment (rounded down if applicable) would be less than one per cent. of the Conversion Price then in effect. Any adjustment not required to be made, and/or any amount by which the Conversion Price has been rounded down, shall be carried forward and taken into account in any subsequent adjustment, and such subsequent adjustment shall be made on the basis that the adjustment not required to be made had been made at the relevant time and/or, as the case may be, that the relevant rounding down had not been made. Notice of any adjustment shall be given by the Issuer to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16 and to the Trustee and the Agents in writing, in each case promptly after the determination thereof.

5.7.2 Decision of an Independent Financial Advisor: If any doubt shall arise as to whether an adjustment falls to be made to the Conversion Price or as to how an adjustment to the Conversion Price under Condition 5.3 or Condition 5.6 should be made, and following consultation between the Issuer, the Guarantor and an Independent Financial Advisor, a written opinion of such Independent Financial Advisor in respect thereof shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Bondholders and the Trustee, save in the case of manifest error. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the per H Share value of any such adjustment shall not exceed the per H Share value of the dilution in the shareholders' interest in the Guarantor's equity caused by such events or circumstances.

5.7.3 Minimum Conversion Price: Notwithstanding the provisions of this Condition 5, the Guarantor undertakes that: (i) the Conversion Price shall not in any event be reduced to below the nominal or par value of the H Shares as a result of any adjustment hereunder unless under applicable law then in effect the Bonds may be converted at such reduced Conversion Price into legally issued, fully paid and non-assessable H Shares; and (ii) it shall not take any action, and shall procure that no action is taken, that would otherwise result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price to below such nominal or par value or any minimum level permitted by applicable laws or regulations.

- 5.7.4 Reference to “fixed”: Any references herein to the date on which a consideration is “fixed” shall, where the consideration is originally expressed by reference to a formula which cannot be expressed as an actual cash amount until a later date, be construed as a reference to the first day on which such actual cash amount can be ascertained.
- 5.7.5 Multiple Events: Where more than one event which gives or may give rise to an adjustment to the Conversion Price occurs within such a short period of time that, in the opinion of an Independent Financial Advisor, the foregoing provisions would need to be operated subject to some modification in order to give the intended result, such modification shall be made to the operation of the foregoing provisions as may be advised by such Independent Financial Advisor to be in its opinion appropriate in order to give such intended result.
- 5.7.6 Upward/Downward Adjustment: No adjustment involving an increase in the Conversion Price will be made, except in the case of a consolidation or re-classification of the H Shares as referred to in Condition 5.3.1. The Issuer or the Guarantor may at any time and for a specified period of time only, following notice being given to the Trustee in writing and to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16, reduce the Conversion Price, subject to Condition 5.7.3.
- 5.7.7 Trustee Not Obligated to Monitor or Make Calculations: Neither the Trustee nor any Agent shall be under any duty to monitor whether any event or circumstance has happened or exists which may require an adjustment to be made to the Conversion Price or to make any calculation or determination (or verification thereof) in connection with the Conversion Price and none of them will be responsible or liable to Bondholders or any other person for any loss or liability arising from any failure by it to do so or for any delay by the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Independent Financial Advisor in making any calculation or determination or any erroneous calculation or determination in connection with the Conversion Price.
- 5.7.8 Employee Share Option Schemes: No adjustment will be made to the Conversion Price when Ordinary Shares or other securities (including rights or options) are issued, offered, exercised, allotted, appropriated, modified or granted to, or for the benefit of, employees (including directors) of the Guarantor or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to any employee share scheme or plan (and which employee share scheme or plan is in compliance with, if applicable, the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited or, if applicable, the Stock Listing Rules of the Shanghai Stock Exchange or, if relevant, the listing rules of the Alternative Stock Exchange (“Share Scheme Options”)) unless any issue or grant of Share Scheme Options (which, but for this provision, would have required adjustment pursuant to Condition 5) would result in the total number of Ordinary Shares which may be issued upon exercise of all Share Scheme Options granted during the 12-month period up to and including the date of such issue or grant representing, in aggregate, more than 1.0 per cent. of the average of the issued and outstanding Ordinary Shares during such 12-month period. For the avoidance of doubt, any Ordinary Shares issued in excess thereof, and only such Ordinary Shares issued in excess thereof, shall be subject to adjustment to the Conversion Price and taken into account in determining such adjustment as set out in Condition 5.3.

5.7.9 Consideration Receivable: For the purpose of any calculation of the consideration receivable or price pursuant to Condition 5.3.4, Condition 5.3.6, Condition 5.3.7 and Condition 5.3.8, the following provisions shall apply:

- (i) the aggregate consideration receivable or price for Ordinary Shares of a class issued for cash shall be the amount of such cash;
- (ii) (a) the aggregate consideration receivable for Ordinary Shares of a class to be issued on the conversion, exercise or exchange of any options, warrants or other rights or securities (or following any modification thereof) shall be deemed to be the consideration received or receivable by the Guarantor for any such options, warrants or other rights or securities (or following any modification thereof); (b) the aggregate consideration receivable for Ordinary Shares of a class to be issued on the exercise of rights of subscription attached to any such securities (or following any modification thereof) shall be deemed to be that part (which may be the whole) of the consideration received or receivable by the Guarantor for such securities (or following any modification thereof) which is attributed by the Guarantor to such rights of subscription or, if no part of such consideration is so attributed, to the Fair Market Value of such rights of subscription as at the date of the announcement of the terms of issue or modification of such securities, plus in the case of each of (a) and (b) above, the additional minimum consideration (if any) to be received by the Guarantor on the conversion, exercise or exchange of such options, warrants or other rights or securities (or following any modification thereof), or on the exercise of such rights of subscription; and (c) the consideration per Ordinary Share of a class receivable by the Guarantor on the conversion, exercise or exchange of, or on the exercise of such rights of subscription attached to, such options, warrants or other rights or securities (or following any modification thereof) shall be the aggregate consideration referred to in (a) or (b) above (as the case may be) divided by the number of Ordinary Shares of such class to be issued on such conversion or exchange or exercise at the initial conversion, exchange or subscription price or rate;
- (iii) if the consideration or price determined pursuant to (i) or (ii) above of this Condition 5.7.9 (or any component thereof) shall be expressed in a currency other than HK dollars, it shall be converted into HK dollars at the Prevailing Rate on the relevant date;
- (iv) in determining the consideration or price pursuant to the above, no deduction shall be made for any commissions or fees (howsoever described) or any expenses paid or incurred for any underwriting, placing or management of the issue of the relevant Ordinary Shares of a class or securities or options, warrants or rights, or otherwise in connection therewith;

- (v) the consideration or price shall be determined as provided above on the basis of the consideration or price received, receivable, paid or payable, regardless of whether all or part thereof is received, receivable, paid or payable by or to the Guarantor or another entity; and
- (vi) if as part of the same transaction, Ordinary Shares of a class shall be issued or issuable for a consideration receivable in more than one or in different currencies then the consideration receivable per Share shall be determined by dividing the aggregate consideration (determined as aforesaid and converted if and to the extent not in HK dollars, into HK dollars as aforesaid) by the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares so issued.

6.5 Delay in Payment

Bondholders will not be entitled to any interest or other payment for any delay after the due date in receiving the amount due if the due date is not a Payment Business Day or if the Bondholder is late in surrendering its Certificate (if required to do so).

Notice of any changes in any Agent or their specified offices will promptly be given by the Issuer to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 16.

7 REDEMPTION, PURCHASE AND CANCELLATION

7.1 Maturity

Unless previously redeemed, converted or purchased and cancelled as provided herein, the Issuer will redeem each Bond at its principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon on 25 June 2029 (the “Maturity Date”). The Issuer may not redeem the Bonds at its option prior to that date except as provided in Condition 7.2 or Condition 7.3 below (but without prejudice to Condition 9).

7.2 Redemption at the Option of the Issuer

7.2.1 The Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice (an “Optional Redemption Notice”) to the Bondholders, the Trustee and the Principal Agent (which notice will be irrevocable), redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption:

- (i) at any time after 9 July 2027 but prior to the Maturity Date, provided that no such redemption may be made unless the Closing Price of an H Share translated into U.S. dollars at the Prevailing Rate applicable to each H Share Stock Exchange Business Day, for any 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days within a period of 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, the last of such H Share Stock Exchange Business Day shall occur not more than 10 days prior to the date upon which notice of such redemption is given, was, for each such 20 H Share Stock Exchange Business Days, at least 130 per cent. of the Conversion Price (translated into U.S. dollars at the Fixed Exchange Rate) then in effect. If there shall occur an event giving rise to a change in the Conversion Price during any such 30 consecutive H Share Stock Exchange Business Day period, appropriate adjustments for the relevant days approved by an Independent Financial Advisor shall be made for the purpose of calculating the Closing Price of the H Shares for such days; or
- (ii) if at any time the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding is less than 10 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount originally issued (including any Bonds issued pursuant to Condition 15).

Upon the expiry of the Optional Redemption Notice, the Issuer will be bound to redeem the relevant Bonds at their principal amount together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption.

7.2.2 Redemption under this Condition 7.2 may not occur within seven days of the end of a Restricted Transfer Period but otherwise may occur when the Conversion Right is expressed in these Conditions to be exercisable.

7.2.3 The Trustee and the Agents shall have no obligation to confirm whether the circumstances giving rise to a right for the Issuer to redeem under this Condition 7.2 have in any case arisen and shall not be liable to the Bondholders or any parties for not doing so.

7.3 Redemption for Taxation Reasons

7.3.1 At any time the Issuer may, having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee, the Principal Agent and the Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem all but not some only of the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to but excluding the date fixed for redemption (the "Tax Redemption Date"), if the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of such notice that (i) the Issuer (or if the Guarantee was called, the Guarantor) has or will become obliged to pay Additional Tax Amounts as provided or referred to in Condition 8 as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, or any change in the general application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations (including a decision by a court of competent jurisdiction), which change or amendment becomes effective on or after 17 June 2024, and (ii) such obligation cannot be avoided by the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) taking reasonable measures available to it, provided that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 90 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) would be obliged to pay such Additional Tax Amounts were a payment in respect of the Bonds then due. Prior to the publication of any notice of redemption pursuant to this Condition 7.3.1, the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) shall deliver to the Trustee (a) a certificate signed by any Authorised Signatory of the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor), stating that the obligation referred to in (i) above of this Condition 7.3.1 cannot be avoided by the Issuer (or, as the case may be, the Guarantor) having taken reasonable measures available to it and (b) an opinion of independent legal or tax advisors of recognised standing to the effect that such change or amendment has occurred (irrespective of whether such amendment or change is then effective) and stating that the Issuer (or, if the Guarantee was called, the Guarantor) has or will become obliged to pay such Additional Tax Amounts as a result of such change or amendment, and the Trustee shall be entitled to accept such certificate and opinion as sufficient evidence thereof, in which event the same shall be conclusive and binding on the Bondholders.

7.3.2 On the Tax Redemption Date, subject to Condition 7.3.3, the Issuer shall redeem the Bonds at their principal amount, together with accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the Tax Redemption Date, provided that redemption under this Condition 7.3 may not occur within seven days of the end of a Restricted Transfer Period, but otherwise may occur when the Conversion Right is expressed in these Conditions to be exercisable.

7.3.3 If the Issuer gives a notice of redemption pursuant to this Condition 7.3, each Bondholder will have the right to elect that such holder's Bond(s) shall not be redeemed and that the provisions of Condition 8 shall not apply in respect of any payment of principal or interest to be made in respect of such Bond(s) which falls due after the relevant Tax Redemption Date, whereupon no Additional Tax Amounts shall be payable in respect thereof pursuant to Condition 8 and payment of all amounts shall be made subject to the deduction or withholding of the taxation required to be withheld or deducted by the government of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any authority thereof or therein having power to tax. For the avoidance of doubt, any Additional Tax Amounts which had been payable in respect of the Bonds as a result of the laws or regulations of the government of the PRC or Hong Kong or, in each case, any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax prior to 17 June 2024, will continue to be payable to such Bondholders. To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Bond must complete, sign and deposit at the specified office of any Paying Agent during normal business hours (being between 9.00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) and 3.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), Monday to Friday except for public holidays) a duly completed and signed notice of election, in the form for the time being current, obtainable from the specified office of any Paying Agent, together with the Certificate evidencing the Bonds on or before the day falling 10 Business Days prior to the Tax Redemption Date. Such notice of election, once delivered, shall be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn without the Issuer's consent. In this Condition 7.3.3, "Business Day" means a day, other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets are generally open for business in Hong Kong.

7.4 Redemption at the Option of the Bondholders

To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Bond must complete, sign and deposit at the specified office of any Paying Agent during normal business hours (being between 9.00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) and 3.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), Monday to Friday except for public holidays) a duly completed and signed notice (the "Put Option Notice"), substantially in the form scheduled to the Agency Agreement, obtainable from the specified office of any Paying Agent, together with the Certificate evidencing the Bonds to be redeemed not earlier than 60 days and not later than 30 days prior to the Put Option Date.

A Put Option Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable (and may not be withdrawn unless the Issuer consents to such withdrawal) and the Issuer shall redeem the Bonds the subject of a Put Option Notice delivered as aforesaid on the Put Option Date.

7.5 Redemption for Relevant Events

7.5.1 Not later than seven days after becoming aware of a Relevant Event, the Issuer shall procure that notice regarding the Relevant Event shall be delivered to Bondholders (in accordance with Condition 16) and to the Trustee and the Principal Agent in writing stating:

To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Bond must complete, sign and deposit at the specified office of any Paying Agent during normal business hours (being between 9.00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) and 3.00 p.m. (Hong Kong time), Monday to Friday except for public holidays) a duly completed and signed notice of redemption, substantially in the form scheduled to the Agency Agreement, obtainable from the specified office of any Paying Agent (a "Relevant Event Put Exercise Notice") together with the Certificate evidencing the Bonds to be redeemed by not later than 30 days following a Relevant Event, or, if later, 30 days following the date upon which notice thereof is given to Bondholders by the Issuer in accordance with Condition 16. The "Relevant Event Put Date" shall be the fourteenth day after the expiry of such period of 30 days as referred to above in this Condition 7.5.2.

7.5.3 A Relevant Event Put Exercise Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn without the Issuer's consent. The Issuer shall redeem the Bonds which form the subject of the Relevant Event Put Exercise Notices delivered as aforesaid (subject to delivery of the relevant Certificates) on the Relevant Event Put Date.

7.5.4 None of the Trustee or the Agents shall be required to monitor or take any steps to ascertain whether a Relevant Event or any event which could lead to the occurrence of a Relevant Event has occurred and shall not be liable to Bondholders or any other person for not doing so. Each of the Trustee and the Agents shall be entitled to assume that no Relevant Event has occurred until it has received written notice to the contrary from the Issuer.

8.1.2 (in the case of a payment of principal, interest or premium on redemption) if the Certificate in respect of such Bond is surrendered more than 30 days after the Relevant Date except to the extent that the holder would have been entitled to such additional amount on surrendering the relevant Certificate for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days.

8.2 “Relevant Date” means whichever is the later of (i) the date on which such payment first becomes due and (ii) if the full amount payable has not been received by the Trustee or the Principal Agent on or prior to such due date, the date on which, the full amount having been so received, notice to that effect shall have been given to the Bondholders and payment made.

8.3 References in these Conditions to principal, premium and interest shall be deemed also to refer to any additional amounts or premiums which may be payable under these Conditions or any undertaking or covenant given in addition thereto or in substitution therefor pursuant to the Trust Deed and the Deed of Guarantee.

9 EVENTS OF DEFAULT

The Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of not less than 25 per cent. in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution shall (provided that the Trustee shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction), give written notice to the Issuer and the Guarantor that the Bonds are, and they shall accordingly thereby become, immediately due and repayable at their principal amount, together with any accrued and unpaid interest up to but excluding the date of payment (subject as provided below and without prejudice to the right of Bondholders to exercise the Conversion Right in respect of their Bonds in accordance with Condition 5) if any of the following events (each an “Event of Default”) has occurred:

- (iv) whose net assets or (in the case of a Subsidiary which itself has subsidiaries) consolidated net assets, as shown by its latest audited balance sheet are at least 5 per cent. of the consolidated net assets of the Guarantor and its Subsidiaries as shown by the latest published audited consolidated balance sheet of the Guarantor and its Subsidiaries as being represented by the investment of the Guarantor in each Subsidiary whose accounts are not consolidated with the consolidated audited accounts of the Guarantor and after adjustments for minority interests; or
- (v) to which is transferred the whole or substantially the whole of the assets of a Subsidiary which immediately prior to such transfer was a Principal Subsidiary, provided that the Principal Subsidiary which so transfers its assets shall forthwith upon such transfer cease to be a Principal Subsidiary and the Subsidiary to which the assets are so transferred shall cease to be a Principal Subsidiary at the date on which the first published consolidated audited accounts of the Guarantor prepared as of a date later than such transfer are issued unless such Subsidiary would continue to be a Principal Subsidiary on the basis of such accounts by virtue of the provisions of paragraphs (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) above.

provided that, in relation to paragraphs (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) above:

10 PRESCRIPTION

Claims in respect of amounts due in respect of the Bonds will become prescribed and void unless made within 10 years (in the case of principal or premium (if any)) and five years (in the case of interest, if any) from the Relevant Date in respect thereof.

11 MEETINGS OF BONDHOLDERS, MODIFICATION AND WAIVER

11.1 Meetings

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Bondholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of the Bonds or the provisions of the Trust Deed, Agency Agreement or the Deed of Guarantee. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer or the Trustee and shall be convened by the Trustee if requested in writing to do so by Bondholders holding not less than 10 per cent. in principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding and if it is indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more persons holding or representing over 50 per cent. in principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding or, at any adjournment of such meeting, two or more persons being or representing Bondholders whatever the principal amount of the Bonds so held or represented unless the business of such meeting includes consideration of proposals, inter alia, (i) to modify the due date for any payment in respect of the Bonds or the dates on which interest is payable in respect of the Bonds, (ii) to reduce or cancel the amount of principal, premium or interest in respect of the Bonds or to change the method of calculation of interest, (iii) to change the currency of payment of the Bonds, or (iv) to modify or cancel the Conversion Rights (except by unilateral and unconditional reduction in the Conversion Price) or the put options specified in Condition 7 or (v) to modify or cancel the Deed of Guarantee (other than as provided in Condition 11.2) or (vi) to modify the provisions concerning the quorum required at any meeting of the Bondholders or the majority required to pass an Extraordinary Resolution, in which case the necessary quorum for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more persons holding or representing not less than 66 per cent., or at any adjourned such meeting not less than 33 per cent., in principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding. An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of Bondholders will be binding on all Bondholders, whether or not they were present at the meeting. The Trust Deed provides that a written resolution signed by or on behalf of the holders of not less than 90 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding or (B) passed by Electronic Consent (as defined in the Trust Deed) shall be as valid and effective as a duly passed Extraordinary Resolution. Such a resolution in writing may be contained in one document or several documents in the same form, each signed by one or more Bondholders.

11.2 Modification and Waiver

The Trustee may (but shall not be obliged to) agree, without the consent of the Bondholders, to (i) any modification (except as mentioned in the Trust Deed) to, or the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of, the Bonds, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or the Trust Deed which is not, in the opinion of the Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders or (ii) any modification to the Bonds, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or the Trust Deed which, in the Trustee's opinion, is of a formal, minor or technical nature or to correct a manifest error or to comply with mandatory provisions of applicable law. Any such modification, waiver or authorisation in writing will be binding on the Bondholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such modification, waiver or authorisation will be notified by the Issuer or the Guarantor to the Bondholders as soon as practicable thereafter.

11.3 Interests of Bondholders

In connection with the exercise of its functions, rights, powers and discretions (including but not limited to those in relation to any proposed modification, authorisation or, waiver) the Trustee shall have regard to the interests of the Bondholders as a class and shall not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for individual Bondholders and the Trustee shall not be entitled to require on behalf of any Bondholder, nor shall any Bondholder be entitled to claim, from the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Trustee any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequences of any such exercise upon individual Bondholders.

12 REPLACEMENT OF CERTIFICATES

If any Certificate is mutilated, defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost, it may be replaced at the specified office of the Registrar or any Transfer Agent, subject to all applicable laws, regulations and stock exchange requirements, upon payment by the claimant of such fees and costs as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and such indemnity and/or pre-funding and/or security as the Issuer and/or such Agent may require. Mutilated or defaced Certificates must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

13 ENFORCEMENT

At any time when the Bonds become due and payable, the Trustee may, at its discretion and without further notice, take such steps and/or actions and/or institute such proceedings against the Issuer and/or the Guarantor as it may think fit to enforce the terms of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee and the Bonds, but it need not take any such steps and/or actions and/or institute any such proceedings unless (i) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution or shall have been so requested in writing by the holders of not less than 25 per cent. in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and (ii) it shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction. No Bondholder may proceed directly against the Issuer and/or the Guarantor unless the Trustee, having become bound so to proceed, fails to do so within a reasonable period and such failure is continuing.

14 INDEMNIFICATION OF THE TRUSTEE

The Trust Deed contains provisions for the indemnification of the Trustee and for its relief from responsibility, including without limitation, provisions relieving it from taking steps and/or actions and/or instituting proceedings to enforce payment unless first indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded of its satisfaction and entitling the Trustee to be paid or reimbursed for any fees, costs, expenses, indemnity payments and for liabilities incurred by it, in priority to the claims of the Bondholders. The Trustee and its affiliates is entitled to enter into business transactions with the Issuer, the Guarantor and any entity related (directly or indirectly) to the Issuer and/or the Guarantor without accounting for any profit.

The Trustee may rely without liability to Bondholders or any other person on any information, report, confirmation or certificate from or any advice or opinion of any legal counsel, accountants, valuers, auctioneers, surveyors, brokers, financial advisers, financial institution or any other expert or professional advisers, whether or not obtained by or addressed to it and whether their liability in relation thereto is limited (by its terms or by any engagement letter relating thereto entered into by the Trustee or any other person or in any other manner) by reference to a monetary cap, methodology or otherwise. The Trustee may accept and shall be entitled to rely without liability on any such information, report, confirmation, certificate, advice or opinion, in which case such information, report, confirmation, certificate, advice or opinion shall be binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Bondholders.

Whenever the Trustee is required or entitled by the terms of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or these Conditions to exercise any discretion or power, take any action, make any decision or give any direction, the Trustee is entitled, prior to exercising any such discretion or power, taking any such action, making any such decision or giving any such direction, to seek directions or clarification of any directions from the Bondholders by way of Extraordinary Resolution, and the Trustee shall not be responsible for any loss or liability incurred by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Bondholders or any other person as a result of any delay in it exercising such discretion or power, taking such action, making such decision or giving such direction as a result of seeking such directions or clarification of directions from the Bondholders or in the event that no direction is given to the Trustee by the Bondholders.

None of the Trustee or any of the Agents shall be responsible or liable for the performance by the Issuer, the Guarantor and any other person appointed by the Issuer and/or the Guarantor in relation to the Bonds of the duties and obligations on their part expressed in respect of the same and, unless it has written notice from the Issuer or the Guarantor to the contrary, the Trustee and each Agent shall be entitled to assume that the same are being duly performed. None of the Trustee or any Agent shall be liable to any Bondholder or any other person for any action taken by the Trustee or such Agent in accordance with the approval, directions or instructions of the Bondholders. The Trustee shall be entitled to rely on any direction, instruction, request or resolution of Bondholders given by holders of the requisite principal amount of Bonds outstanding or passed at a meeting of Bondholders convened and held in accordance with the Trust Deed.

Neither the Trustee nor any of the Agents shall be under any obligation to ascertain whether any Event of Default or Potential Event of Default has occurred or monitor compliance by the Issuer or the Guarantor with the provisions of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee or these Conditions, and none of them shall be responsible or liable to the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Bondholders or any other person for not doing so. Each of the Trustee and the Agents shall be entitled to assume that no Event of Default or Potential Event of Default has occurred until it has received written notice to the contrary from the Issuer or Guarantor.

Each Bondholder shall be solely responsible for making and continuing to make its own independent appraisal and investigation into the financial condition, creditworthiness, condition, affairs, status and nature of the Issuer, the Guarantor and their respective Subsidiaries, and the Trustee shall not at any time have any responsibility or liability for the same and each Bondholder shall not rely on the Trustee in respect thereof.

15 FURTHER ISSUES

The Issuer may from time to time, without the consent of the Bondholders, create and issue further bonds having the same terms and conditions as the Bonds in all respects (or in all respects except for the issue date and the timing for complying with the requirements set out in these Conditions in relation to the Initial NDRC Post-Issuance Filing, the Initial CSRC Post-Issuance Filing and the Cross-border Security Registration) and so that such further issue shall be consolidated and form a single series with the Bonds. Such further bonds shall be constituted by a deed supplemental to the Trust Deed.

16 NOTICES

All notices to Bondholders shall be validly given if mailed to them at their respective addresses in the register of Bondholders maintained by the Registrar or published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Asia and, so long as the Bonds are listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the rules of that stock exchange so require, published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Hong Kong (which is expected to be the South China Morning Post). Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or on the fourth weekday (being a day other than a Saturday or a Sunday) after being so mailed, as the case may be.

As long as the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate and the Global Certificate is held on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream or an alternative clearing system, notices to Bondholders may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear or Clearstream or the alternative clearing system, for communication by it to entitled accountholders in substitution for notification as required by the Conditions and shall be deemed to have been given on the date of delivery to such clearing system.

17 CONTRACTS (RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES) ACT 1999

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Bonds under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 but this is without prejudice to the rights of Bondholders as contemplated in Condition 13.

18 GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

18.1 Governing Law: The Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Deed of Guarantee and the Bonds and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.

18.2 Jurisdiction: The courts of Hong Kong are to have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes that may arise out of or in connection with the Bonds, the Deed of Guarantee, the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement and accordingly any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Bonds, the Deed of Guarantee, the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement (“Proceedings”) may be brought in such courts. Each of the Issuer and the Guarantor irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of the courts of Hong Kong and waives any objection to Proceedings in such courts on the ground of venue or on the ground that the Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum.

18.3 Waiver of Immunity: Each of the Issuer and the Guarantor hereby waives any right to claim sovereign or other immunity from jurisdiction or execution and any similar defence, and irrevocably consents to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process, including, without limitation, the making, enforcement or execution against any property whatsoever (irrespective of its use or intended use) of any order or judgment made or given in connection with any Proceedings.

EXCHANGE RATES

The PBOC sets and publishes daily a base exchange rate with reference primarily to the supply and demand of Renminbi against a basket of currencies in the market during the prior day. The PBOC also takes into account other factors, such as the general conditions existing in the international foreign exchange markets. On 21 July 2005, the PRC government introduced a managed floating exchange rate system to allow the value of the Renminbi to fluctuate within a regulated band based on market supply and demand and by reference to a basket of currencies. On the same day, the value of the Renminbi appreciated by 2 per cent. against the U.S. dollar. The PRC government has since made and in the future may make further adjustments to the exchange rate system. On 18 May 2007, the PBOC enlarged, effective on 21 May 2007, the floating band for the trading prices in the inter-bank spot exchange market of Renminbi against the U.S. dollar from 0.3 per cent. to 0.5 per cent. around the central parity rate. This allows the Renminbi to fluctuate against the U.S. dollar by up to 0.5 per cent. above or below the central parity rate published by the PBOC. The floating band was further widened to 1.0 per cent. on 16 April 2012. These changes in currency policy resulted in the Renminbi appreciating against the U.S. dollar by approximately 26.9 per cent. from 21 July 2005 to 31 December 2013. On 14 March 2014, the PBOC further widened the floating band against the U.S. dollar to 2.0 per cent. On 11 August 2015, the PBOC announced to improve the central parity quotations of Renminbi against the U.S. dollar by authorising market-makers to provide central parity quotations to the China Foreign Exchange Trading Centre daily before the opening of the interbank foreign exchange market with reference to the interbank foreign exchange market closing rate of the previous day, the supply and demand for foreign exchange as well as changes in major international currency exchange rates. This change, and other changes such as widening the trading band that may be implemented, may increase volatility in the value of the Renminbi against foreign currencies. In 2016, Renminbi experienced further fluctuation in value against the U.S. dollar but in 2017 and 2018 rebounded and appreciated significantly against the U.S. dollar. In July 2018, Renminbi depreciated sharply against the U.S. dollar. In August 2019, the RMB further depreciated past 7 RMB per U.S. dollar for its first time since the global financial crisis in 2008. The PRC government may from time to time make further adjustments to the exchange rate system in the future.

The following table sets forth information concerning exchange rates between the Renminbi and the U.S. dollar for the periods presented:

Terms defined in the Conditions set out in this Offering Circular have the same meaning in the paragraphs below.

The Bonds will be represented by a Global Certificate which will be registered in the name of HSBC Nominees (Hong Kong) Limited as nominee for, and deposited with, a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream.

MEETINGS

For the purposes of any meeting of Bondholders, the holder of the Bonds represented by the Global Certificate shall (unless the Global Certificate represents only one Bond) be treated as two persons for the purposes of any quorum requirements of a meeting of Bondholders and as being entitled to one vote in respect of each US$100,000 in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding.

TRUSTEE'S POWERS

In considering the interests of Bondholders while the Global Certificate is registered in the name of a nominee for a clearing system, the Trustee may, to the extent it considers it appropriate to do so in the circumstances, but without being obliged to do so, (a) have regard to any information as may have been made available to it by or on behalf of the relevant clearing system or its operator as to the identity of its accountholders (either individually or by way of category) with entitlements in respect of the Bonds and (b) consider such interests on the basis that such accountholders were the holders of the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued.

CONVERSION

Subject to the requirements of Euroclear and Clearstream (or any Alternative Clearing System (as defined below)), the Conversion Right attaching to a Bond in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued may be exercised at any time during the Conversion Period by the presentation to or to the order of the Principal Agent of one or more Conversion Notices (as defined in the Conditions) duly completed by or on behalf of a holder of a book-entry interest in such Bonds. Deposit of the Global Certificate with the Principal Agent together with the relevant conversion notice(s) shall not be required.

PAYMENT

The Issuer, for value received, promises to pay to the holder of the Bonds represented by the Global Certificate (subject to surrender of this Global Certificate if no further payment falls to be made in respect of such Bonds) on the Maturity Date (or on such earlier date as the amount payable upon redemption under the Conditions may become payable in accordance with the Conditions) the amount payable upon redemption under the Conditions in respect of the Bonds represented by this Global Certificate and to pay interest (if any) in respect of such Bonds from and including the Issue Date in arrear at the rates, on the dates for payment, and in accordance with the method of calculation provided for in the Conditions, save that the calculation is made in respect of the total aggregate amount of the Bonds represented by this Global Certificate, together with such other sums and additional amounts (if any) as may be payable under the Conditions, in accordance with the Conditions.

Each payment will be made to, or to the order of, the person whose name is entered on the Register at the close of business on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the date for payment, where “Clearing System Business Day” means a weekday (Monday to Friday, inclusive) except 25 December and 1 January.

REDEMPTION AT THE OPTION OF THE BONDHOLDERS

The Bondholder’s redemption options in Condition 7.4 and Condition 7.5 may be exercised by the holder of the Global Certificate giving notice to any Paying Agent of the principal amount of Bonds in respect of which the option is exercised within the time limits specified in the relevant Condition.

EXCHANGE OF BONDS REPRESENTED BY GLOBAL CERTIFICATES

Owners of interests in the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued will be entitled to have title to the Bonds registered in their names and to receive individual definitive Certificates if either Euroclear or Clearstream or any other clearing system selected by the Issuer and approved in writing by the Trustee, the Principal Agent and the Registrar through which the Bonds are held (an "Alternative Clearing System") is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holidays, statutory or otherwise) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or does in fact do so. In such circumstances, the Issuer will at its own expense cause sufficient individual definitive Certificates to be executed and delivered to the Registrar for completion, authentication and despatch to the relevant holders of the Bonds. A person with an interest in the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued must provide the Registrar not less than 30 days' notice at its specified office of such holder's intention to effect such exchange and a written order containing instructions and such other information as the Issuer and the Registrar may require to complete, execute and deliver such individual definitive Certificates.

PARTIAL REDEMPTION

In the case of a partial redemption of the Bonds, such Bonds to be redeemed will be selected by such method in such place as the Trustee may approve and in such manner as the Trustee shall deem to be appropriate, in accordance with the rules of the relevant Clearing System.

REGULATIONS OF THE PRC GOLD MINING INDUSTRY

The Mineral Resources Law

All mineral resources in China are owned by the State under the current Mineral Resources Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國礦產資源法》), which was promulgated on 19 March 1986 and amended on 29 August 1996 and 27 August 2009. The Mineral Resources Law and its detailed implementation rules which were promulgated on 26 March 1994 govern, among other things, the granting of new mining rights. Exploration, exploitation and mining operations must comply with the provisions of the Mineral Resources Law and its detailed implementation rules and are under the supervision of the Ministry of Natural Resources (the "MNR").

Mining Operations

According to the Mineral Resources Law and the Detailed Rules for the Implementation of the Mineral Resources Law, the MNR and relevant local mineral resource bureau are the relevant regulatory authorities. Upon approval, an exploration licence for each proposed mine or a mining right permit for each mine will be granted by the MNR or the relevant local mineral resource bureau responsible for supervising and inspecting exploration and exploitation of mineral resources in the jurisdiction. Annual reports are required to be filed by the holders of mining right permits with the relevant administrative authorities that issued the permit.

It is unlawful for an entity or individual to conduct mining operations in areas previously authorised for exploitation by other mining operators. An entity whose mining operations cause harm to others in terms of production or living standards is liable to compensate the affected parties and to take necessary remedial measures. Under the Detailed Rules for the Implementation of the Mineral Resources Law, a mine operator must follow certain procedures in closing a mine, including, among others, submitting a mine closure geology report to the regulatory authority that originally approved the opening of the mine, and a mine closure report to the relevant mineral resources bureau.

Mining Safety

The Production Safety Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國安全生產法》) which was promulgated on 29 June 2002, first amended on 27 August 2009 and further amended on 31 August 2014 and 10 June 2021, is the principal law governing the supervision and administration of production safety in the PRC. Production and business operation entities shall abide by this law and other laws and regulations concerning work safety, strengthen work safety control, establish and improve the responsibility system and rules and regulations for work safety, improve the conditions for work safety, promote the standardisation of work safety and improve the level of work safety so as to ensure work safety.

Regulations on Work Safety Licences (Revision 2014) (《中華人民共和國安全生產許可證條例》) was promulgated on 13 January 2004, amended on 18 July 2013 and further revised on 29 July 2014. The State applies a work safety licencing system to enterprises engaged in mining, construction, and the production of dangerous chemicals, fireworks and crackers, and civil explosives (hereinafter referred to as enterprises). No such enterprises may engage in production activities without work safety licences.

Law of the PRC on Safety in Mines (《中華人民共和國礦山安全法》) was enacted on 1 May 1993 and was revised on 27 August 2009, according to which mining enterprises must possess facilities that ensure safety in production, establish and perfect the system of safety management, take effective measures to improve the working conditions for workers and staff and strengthen the work of safety control in mines in order to ensure safe production. Safety facilities in mine construction projects must be designed, constructed and put into operation and use at the same time with the principal parts of the projects.

Environmental Protection

China has promulgated a series of laws and regulations which establish national and local legal frameworks for environmental protection. These laws and regulations include standards applicable to emission controls, discharges of wastes and pollutants to the environment, generation, handling, storage, transportation, treatment and disposal of waste materials by production facilities, land rehabilitation and reforestation.

The PRC Environmental Protection Law (《中華人民共和國環境保護法》) requires that enterprises, public institutions, and other business operators that discharge pollutants shall adopt measures to prevent and control pollution and damage to environment caused by waste gas, waste water, waste residue, medical wastes, dust, malodorous gases, radioactive substances, noise, vibration, optical radiation, electromagnetic radiation, and other substances generated in their production, construction, and other activities. Pollutant discharging entities under intensified supervision shall instal and use monitoring equipment in accordance with the relevant provisions of the state and the monitoring norms, ensure the normal functioning of monitoring equipment, and preserve the original monitoring records. On 24 April 2014, the Standing Committee of National People's Congress passed the Amended Environmental Protection Law, pursuant to which, effective 1 January 2015, more responsibility has been imposed on local governments and unlimited fines will be imposed on polluters. In addition, projects without environmental evaluation in accordance with relevant laws are not allowed to commence construction.

On 10 September 2013, the State Council issued the Action Plan for Prevention and Control of Atmospheric Pollution (the “Action Plan”), pursuant to which the PRC government plans to devote more efforts to prevent and control atmospheric pollution. On 17 September 2013, the State Council further issued the Rules for the Implementation for the Action Plan for Prevention and Control of Atmospheric Pollution in Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei metropolitan region, pursuant to which the PRC government aims to reduce atmospheric pollution and improve air quality. On 26 October 2018, the Law on Prevention and Control of Atmospheric Pollution (the “Atmospheric Pollution Law”) (《中華人民共和國大氣污染防治法》) was amended and promulgated by the Standing Committee of National People’s Congress of the PRC. The Atmospheric Pollution Law has, among other things, set standards, plan and timeline to reach the atmospheric pollution control targets, provide detailed regulations on major pollution source and impose stringent requirements to control the pollution from coal-fire, automobile, vessel and volatile organic compounds.

According to the Law on Prevention and Control of Water Pollution of the PRC (《中華人民共和國水污染防治法》), any new construction projects which directly or indirectly discharge pollutants to water, such as coal mines and coking plants, must conduct an environmental impact assessment. Every new production facility must be equipped with wastewater processing facilities which must be put in use together with the production facilities.

In addition to the PRC environmental laws and regulations, China is a signatory to the 1992 United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and the 1998 Kyoto Protocol, which propose emission targets to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. The Kyoto Protocol came into force in 2005. At present, the Kyoto Protocol has not set any specific emission targets for certain countries, including China.

NDRC SUPERVISION

According to Administrative Measures for the Outbound Investment of Enterprises (企業境外投資管理辦法) issued by the NDRC on 26 December 2017, and effective from 1 March 2018, to make outbound investment, any investor shall go through the formalities to have a proposed overseas investment project (hereinafter referred to as the “project”) approved or filed on the record, report relevant information, and cooperate with supervision and inspection. In particular, projects subject to approval administration shall be sensitive projects carried out by investors either directly or through overseas enterprises under their control. The authority in charge of examining and approving such projects shall be the NDRC. Projects subject to record-filing administration shall be non-sensitive projects carried out directly by investors, in other words, non-sensitive projects carried out by investors to make direct investment with assets and equities or provide financing or a guarantee.

For projects subject to record-filing administration, the authority in charge of record-filing shall be: (i) the NDRC, if the investor is an enterprise under the administration of the Central Government (including financing institutions under the administration of the Central Government and enterprises under the direct administration of the State Council or its subordinate organs, the same below); (ii) the NDRC, if the investor is a local enterprise but the amount of investment made by the Chinese investor amounts to USD300 million or above; and (iii) the development and reform authority under the provincial government at the place where the investor is registered if the investor is a local enterprise and the amount of investment made by the Chinese investor is less than USD300 million.

Where a project is carried out by two or more investors together, the investor making a larger amount of investment shall be responsible for applying for the approval or record-filing after obtaining the consent of other investors. Where the amount of investment made by each investor is the same, one of the investors shall be selected by consensus to apply for the approval or record-filing.

For projects subject to approval administration, investors shall submit their application reports as well as relevant documents for projects through the Network System to approval authorities. In particular, where the investor is an enterprise under the administration of the Central Government, the application shall be submitted by its group company or the head office to the approval authority, but the application may be directly filed to the approval authority if the investor is a local enterprise.

Where a project that has been approved or filed for the record falls within any of the following circumstances, the investor shall file an application with the authority that originally issued the approval document or the record-filing notice for such project regarding certain changes before such circumstance arises:

- (i) Where the number of investors increases or decreases;
- (ii) Where there is any major change to the investment destination;
- (iii) Where there is any major change to the major content of the project or its scale;
- (iv) Where the amount of investment made by Chinese investors varies by 20 per cent or above of the amount previously approved or filed for the record, or by USD100 million or above; or
- (v) Other circumstances where there is a need to make significant adjustments to what is specified in the approval document or in the record-filing notice for a project.

Where investors make investments in Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan region either directly or through enterprises under their control, these Measures shall apply mutatis mutandis. Where investors make investments abroad through enterprises that are located in Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan region and under their control, these Measures shall apply mutatis mutandis.

According to the NDRC Circular (Decree No. 56 of the NDRC), which was issued by the NDRC on 5 January 2023 and came into effect on 10 February 2023, if a PRC enterprise or an offshore enterprise controlled by a PRC enterprise wishes to issue debt instruments (including but not limited to senior bonds, perpetual bonds, capital bonds, medium-term notes, convertible bonds, exchangeable bonds, finance leases, commercial loans, etc) outside of the PRC with a maturity of more than one year, such enterprise must in advance of issuing such debt instruments, file certain prescribed documents with the NDRC and procure a registration certificate from the NDRC in respect of such issue.

The NDRC Circular (Decree No. 56 of the NDRC) relates to the matters as listed below:

- the NDRC will, within the scope of its duties stipulated by the State Council, administer examination and registration of qualified foreign debts of enterprises under the principles of “total quantity control, structure optimization, serving real economy and risk prevention”;
- the NDRC reasonably controls the total amount and structure of foreign debts of enterprises based on the needs of national economy and social development, the status of international balance of payments and foreign debt bearing capacity;

FOREIGN EXCHANGE ADMINISTRATION

The lawful currency of the PRC is the Renminbi, which is subject to foreign exchange controls and is not freely convertible into foreign exchange at this time. The State Administration of Foreign Exchange (國家外匯管理局, the “SAFE”), under the authority of the People’s Bank of China (中國人民銀行, the “PBOC”), is empowered with the functions of administering all matters relating to foreign exchange, including the enforcement of foreign exchange control regulations.

The principal law governing foreign exchange in the PRC is the PRC Administrative Regulations on Foreign Exchange (《中華人民共和國外匯管理條例》, the “Foreign Exchange Regulations”). The Foreign Exchange Regulations was enacted by the State Council on 29 January 1996 and implemented on 1 April 1996. On 14 January 1997 and 5 August 2008, the State Council amended the Foreign Exchange Regulations. According to the Foreign Exchange Regulations, the RMB is freely convertible for “current account transactions”, which refers to any transaction account for international receipts and payments involving goods, services, earnings and frequent transfers. For “capital account transactions” which refers to any transaction account for international receipts and payments that result in any change in external assets and liabilities, including, inter alia, capital transfers, direct investments, securities investments, derivatives and loans, prior approval of and registration with the SAFE or its local branches is generally required.

Pursuant to the Administrative Regulation of Foreign Exchange Settlement, Sale and Payment (《結匯、售匯及付匯管理規定》), which was promulgated by the PBOC on 20 June 1996 and came into effect on 1 July 1996, foreign-invested enterprises may only buy, sell and/or remit foreign currencies at banks authorised to conduct foreign exchange business after providing valid commercial documents and, in the case of capital account transactions, obtaining approval from SAFE or its local branches.

On 9 June 2016, the SAFE promulgated the Notice on Reforming and Standardising the Administrative Provisions on Capital Account Foreign Exchange Settlement (《關於改革和規範資本項目結匯管理政策的通知》, the “SAFE Circular 16”) which took effect on the same day and was amended on 4 December 2023. According to the SAFE Circular 16, enterprises registered in PRC could settle the external debts in foreign currencies to Renminbi at their own discretion. The SAFE Circular 16 sets a uniform standard for discretionary settlement of foreign currencies under capital accounts (including but not limited to foreign currency capital, external debts and repatriated funds raised through overseas listing), which is applicable to all enterprises registered in PRC. It reiterated that the Renminbi funds obtained from the settlement of foreign currencies shall not be used directly or indirectly for purposes beyond the company's scope of business, and shall not be used for domestic securities investment or investments and wealth management products (excluding wealth management products and structured deposits with risk rating results not exceeding Level 2), unless otherwise expressly prescribed. Furthermore, such Renminbi funds shall not be used for disbursing loans to non-affiliated enterprises, unless the scope of business expressly provides so; and shall not be used to construct or purchase real estate not for self-use (except for real estate enterprises).

PRC CURRENCY CONTROLS

Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency. The remittance of Renminbi into and outside the PRC is subject to controls imposed under PRC law.

Current Account Items

Under the PRC foreign exchange control regulations, current account items refer to any transaction for international receipts and payments involving goods, services, earnings and other frequent transfers into and outside the PRC.

Pursuant to the Measures on the Trial Administration of Settling Cross-Border Transactions in Renminbi (跨境貿易人民幣結算試點管理辦法) which was promulgated on 1 July 2009, the PRC has commenced a pilot scheme pursuant to which Renminbi may be used for settlement of imports and exports of goods between approved pilot enterprises in certain pilot regions. On 17 June 2010, 27 July 2011, 3 February 2012 and 13 March 2014, respectively, the PRC government promulgated the Circular on Issues concerning the Expansion of the Scope of the Pilot Programme of Renminbi Settlement of Cross-Border Trades (關於擴大跨境貿易人民幣結算試點有關問題的通知), the Circular on Expanding the Regions of Cross-border Trade Renminbi Settlement (關於擴大跨境貿易人民幣結算地區的通知), the Notice on Matters Relevant to the Administration of Enterprises Engaged in Renminbi Settlement of Export Trade in Goods (關於出口貨物貿易人民幣結算企業管理有關問題的通知) and the Notice on Simplifying Matters Relevant to the Administration of Enterprises Engaged in Renminbi Settlement of Export Trade in Goods (關於簡化出口貨物貿易人民幣結算企業管理有關事項的通知) (together as "Circulars"). Pursuant to these Circulars, (i) Renminbi settlement of imports and exports of goods and of services and other current account items became permissible, (ii) the list of designated pilot districts were expanded to cover all provinces and cities in the PRC, (iii) the restriction on designated offshore districts has been lifted and (iv) any enterprise qualified for the export and import business is permitted to use Renminbi as settlement currency for exports of goods without obtaining the approval as previously required, provided that the relevant provincial government has submitted to PBOC and five other PRC authorities (the "Six Authorities") a list of key enterprises subject to supervision and the Six Authorities have reviewed and approved such list (the "Supervision List").

Accordingly, offshore enterprises are entitled to use Renminbi to settle imports of goods and services and other current account items. Renminbi remittance for exports of goods from the PRC may only be effected by (a) enterprises with the foreign trading right and incorporated in a province which has already submitted the Supervision List (for the avoidance of doubt, that PRC enterprises do not necessarily need to be included in the Supervision List), or (b) enterprises that have been approved as pilot enterprises for using Renminbi for exports before the Six Authorities reviewed and approved the Supervision List submitted by relevant province.

On 5 July, 2013, PBOC promulgated the Circular on Policies related to Simplifying and Improving Cross-border Renminbi Business Procedures (關於簡化跨境人民幣業務流程和完善有關政策的通知) (the “2013 PBOC Circular”), which, in particular, simplifies the procedures for cross-border Renminbi trade settlement under current account items. For example, PRC banks may conduct settlement for PRC enterprises (excluding those on the Supervision List) upon the PRC enterprises presenting the payment instruction. PRC banks may also allow PRC enterprises to make/receive payments under current account items prior to the relevant PRC bank’s verification of underlying transactions on a need basis (noting that verification of underlying transactions is usually a precondition for cross border remittance).

On 1 November 2014, the PBOC introduced a cash pooling arrangement for qualified multinational enterprise group companies, under which a multinational enterprise group can process cross-border Renminbi payments and receipts for current account items on a collective basis for eligible member companies in the group. On 5 September 2015, the PBOC promulgated the Circular on Further Facilitating the Cross-Border Bi-directional Renminbi Cash Pooling Business by Multinational Enterprise Groups (關於進一步便利跨國企業集團開展跨境雙向人民幣資金池業務的通知) (the “2015 PBOC Circular”), which, inter alia, has lowered the eligibility requirements for multinational enterprise groups and increased the cap for net cash inflow. The 2015 PBOC Circular also provides that enterprises within a pilot free trade zone in the PRC, such as the China (Shanghai) Pilot Free Trade Zone (“Shanghai FTZ”) may establish an additional cash pool in the local scheme in such pilot free trade zone, but each onshore company within the group may only elect to participate in one cash pool.

The regulations referred to will be subject to interpretation and application by the relevant PRC authorities. Local authorities may adopt different practises in applying the Circulars and the 2013 PBOC Circular and impose conditions for settlement of current account items.

Capital Account Items

On 7 April 2011, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Issues Concerning the Capital Account Items in connection with Cross-Border Renminbi (關於規範跨境人民幣資本項目業務操作有關問題的通知) (“SAFE RMB Circular”), which became effective on 1 May 2011. According to the SAFE RMB Circular in the event that foreign investors intend to use cross-border Renminbi (including offshore Renminbi and onshore Renminbi held in the capital accounts of non-PRC residents) to make contributions to an onshore enterprise or make payments for the transfer of an equity interest of an onshore enterprise by a PRC resident, such onshore enterprise shall be required to submit the prior written consent of the MOFCOM or the relevant local counterparts to the relevant local branches of SAFE of such onshore enterprise and register for a foreign invested enterprise status. Further, the SAFE RMB Circular clarifies that the foreign debts borrowed, and the external guarantee provided, by an onshore entity in Renminbi shall, in principle, be regulated under the current PRC foreign debt and external guarantee regime.

On 13 October 2011, the PBOC promulgated the “Administrative Measures on Renminbi Settlement of Foreign Direct Investment” (《外商直接投資人民幣結算業務管理辦法》) (the “PBOC FDI Measures”) as part of the implementation of the PBOC’s detailed Renminbi foreign direct investments (“FDI”) accounts administration system. The system covers almost all aspects in relation to FDI, including capital injections, payments for the acquisition of PRC domestic enterprises, repatriation of dividends and other distributions, as well as Renminbi denominated cross-border loans. Under the PBOC FDI Measures, special approval for FDI and shareholder loans from the PBOC, which was previously required, is no longer necessary. In some cases however, post-event filing with the PBOC is still necessary. On 14 June 2012, the PBOC further issued the implementing rules for the PBOC FDI Measures, which provides more detailed rules relating to cross-border Renminbi direct investments and settlement.

Pursuant to the PBOC Circular on Clarifying the Detailed Operating Rules for RMB Settlement Business in Relation to Foreign Direct Investment (《中國人民銀行關於明確外商直接投資人民幣結算業務操作細則的通知》) (the “PBOC RMB FDI Detailed Rules”) which was promulgated on 14 June 2012 and the Announcement on Revising Certain Articles of Two Departmental Rules Including the Administrative Provisions on Overseas Foreign Exchange Accounts and Five Regulatory Documents Including the Interim Provisions on the Administration of Domestic Foreign Exchange Transfer (關於對《境外外匯賬戶管理規定》等2件部門規章和《境內外匯劃轉管理暫行規定》等5件規範性文件予以修改的公告) which was promulgated on 5 June 2015, a foreign-invested enterprise shall not use RMB funds in its RMB special deposit account for registered capital purposes, nor shall it use RMB funds in its RMB general offshore loan deposit account for the purchase of financial products or properties not for its own use. Further, foreign-invested enterprises that are not investment companies must not use such RMB funds for reinvestment within the territory of the PRC.

On 10 May 2013, SAFE promulgated the Provisions on the Foreign Exchange Administration of Domestic Direct Investment by Foreign Investors (《外國投資者境內直接投資外匯管理規定》) (the “SAFE Provisions”), which became effective on 13 May 2013. According to the SAFE Provisions, foreign investors can use cross-border Renminbi (including Renminbi inside and outside the PRC held in the capital accounts of non-PRC residents) to make a contribution to an onshore enterprise or make a payment for the transfer of an equity interest of an onshore enterprise held by a PRC resident. Capital account transactions in Renminbi must generally follow the current foreign exchange control regime applicable to foreign currencies.

On 3 December 2013, MOFCOM promulgated the “Circular on Issues in relation to Cross-border Renminbi Foreign Direct Investment” (《商務部關於跨境人民幣直接投資有關問題的公告》) (the “MOFCOM Circular”), which became effective on 1 January 2014, to further facilitate FDI by simplifying and streamlining the applicable regulatory framework. Unlike previous MOFCOM regulations on FDI, the MOFCOM Circular removes the approval requirement for foreign investors who intend to change the currency of its existing capital contribution from a foreign currency to Renminbi. In addition, the MOFCOM

Circular also clearly prohibits the FDI funds from being used for any investment in securities and financial derivatives (except for investment in the PRC listed companies as strategic investors) or for entrustment loans in the PRC.

To support the development of the Shanghai FTZ, the Shanghai Head Office of the PBOC issued the Circular on Supporting the Expanded Cross-border Utilisation of Renminbi in the Shanghai FTZ (關於支持中國(上海)自由貿易試驗區擴大人民幣跨境使用的通知) (the “PBOC Shanghai FTZ Circular”) on 20 February 2014, which allows banks in Shanghai to directly handle the cross-border RMB settlement under recurring items and direct investment items by presenting the collection and payment instructions submitted by the institutions in Shanghai (except for those in the list of enterprises subject to key regulation for RMB settlement of exports trade) and individuals, based on the principles of “knowing your client”, “knowing your business” and “due diligence”. When handling the settlement under direct investment items for the above subjects, banks shall, according to the requirements of the negative list approach for investment admission of the Shanghai FTZ, require the presenting of the approval documents issued by the approval authority for cross-border RMB settlement under direct investment items within the scope of the negative list approach. However, the application of the Shanghai FTZ Circular is limited to the Shanghai FTZ.

The SAFE Provisions, the MOFCOM Circular and the PBOC FDI Measures have been promulgated to control the remittance of Renminbi for payment of transactions categorised as capital account items and such regulations will be subject to interpretation and application by the relevant PRC authorities. Further, if any new PRC regulations are promulgated in the future which have the effect of permitting or restricting (as the case may be) the remittance of Renminbi for payment of transactions categorised as capital account items, then such remittances will need to be made subject to the specific requirements or restrictions set out in such rules.

CROSS-BORDER SECURITY LAWS

On 19 May 2014, SAFE promulgated the “Notice concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration Rules on Cross-Border Security and the relating implementation guidelines” (《國家外匯管理局關於發佈《跨境擔保外匯管理規定》的通知》) (collectively the “New Regulations”). The New Regulations, which come into force on 1 June 2014, replace 12 other regulations regarding cross-border security and introduce a number of significant changes, including: (i) abolishing prior SAFE approval and quota requirements for cross-border security; (ii) requiring SAFE registration for two specific types of cross border security only; (iii) removing eligibility requirements for providers of cross-border security; (iv) the validity of any cross-border security agreement is no longer subject to SAFE approval, registration, filing or any other SAFE administrative requirements; (v) removing SAFE verification requirement for performance of cross-border security. A cross-border guarantee is a form of security under the New Regulations. The New Regulations classify cross-border security into three types:

Nei Bao Wai Dai (內保外貸) (“NBWD”): security/guarantee provided by an onshore security provider for a debt owing by an offshore debtor to an offshore creditor.

Wai Bao Nei Dai (外保內貸) (“WBND”): security/guarantee provided by an offshore security provider for a debt owing by an onshore debtor to an onshore creditor.

Other Types of Cross-border Security (其他形式跨境擔保): any cross-border security/guarantee other than NBWD and WBND.

In respect of NBWD, in the case where the onshore security provider is a non-financial institution, it shall conduct a registration of the relevant security/guarantee with SAFE within 15 working days after its execution (or 15 working days after the date of any change to the security). The funds borrowed offshore shall not be directly or indirectly repatriated to or used onshore by means of loans, equity investments or securities investments without SAFE approval. The onshore security provider can pay to the offshore creditor directly (by effecting remittance through an onshore bank) where the NBWD has been registered with SAFE. In addition, if any onshore security provider under a NBWD provides any security or guarantee for an offshore note issuance, the offshore issuer's equity shares must be fully or partially held directly or indirectly by the onshore security provider. Moreover, the proceeds from any such offshore note issuance must be applied towards the offshore project(s), where an onshore entity holds an equity interest, and in respect of which the related approval, registration, record, or confirmation have been obtained from or made with the competent authorities subject to PRC Laws. On 26 January 2017, the SAFE promulgated the "Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Further Promoting the Reform of Foreign Exchange Administration and Improving the Examination of Authenticity and Compliance (Hui Fa [2017] No. 3)" (國家外匯管理局關於進一步推進外匯管理改革完善真實合規性審核的通知) (匯發[2017]3號) (the "Notice 3"), pursuant to the Notice 3, the funds borrowed offshore under a NBWD are permitted to be directly or indirectly repatriated to or used onshore by means of loans and equity investments. However, according to the Policy Questions and Answers (second batch) of the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Further Promoting the Reform of Foreign Exchange Administration and Improving the Examination of Authenticity and Compliance (國家外匯管理局關於進一步推進外匯管理改革完善真實合規性審核的通知(匯發[2017]3號)政策問答(第二期)) (the "Questions and Answers") promulgated by the SAFE on 27 April 2017, the use of proceeds raised by overseas bonds issuance shall still comply with the provisions of the SAFE Regulations, which means such proceeds shall be only used for overseas investment projects in which the domestic guarantor has equity interests and the relevant overseas issuer or projects have been approved, registered, recorded or confirmed by the domestic and overseas investment authorities. To sum up, according to the SAFE Regulations, the Notice 3 and the Questions and Answers mentioned above, the proceeds from any such offshore bonds issuance must be applied towards the offshore project(s), where an onshore entity holds an equity interest, and in respect of which the related approval, registration, record, or confirmation have been obtained from or made with the competent authorities subject to PRC laws, unless otherwise permitted by SAFE.

The Guarantor will unconditionally and irrevocably guarantee the due payment of all sums expressed to be payable by the Issuer under the Bonds. The Guarantor's obligations in respect of the Bonds are contained in the Guarantee of the Bonds. The Guarantee of the Bonds will be executed by the Guarantor on or before the Issue Date. Under the SAFE Regulations, the Guarantee of the Bonds does not require any pre-approval by SAFE and is binding and effective upon execution.

The Guarantor is required to submit the Guarantee of the Bonds to the local SAFE for registration within 15 China Business Days after its execution. The SAFE registration is merely a post signing registration requirement, which is not a condition to the effectiveness of the Guarantee of the Bonds.

Under the SAFE Regulations, the local SAFE will go through a procedural review (as opposed to a substantive approval process) of the Guarantor's application for registration. Upon completion of the review, the local SAFE will issue a registration notice or record to the Guarantor to confirm the completion of the registration.

Under the SAFE Regulations:

non-registration does not render the Guarantee of the Bonds ineffective or invalid under PRC law although SAFE may impose penalties on the Guarantor if submission for registration is not carried out within the stipulated time frame of 15 working days; and there may be logistical hurdles at the time of remittance (if any cross-border payment is to be made by the Guarantor under the Guarantee of the Bonds) as domestic banks may require evidence of SAFE registration in order to effect such remittance, although this does not affect the validity of the Guarantee of the Bonds itself.

The Terms and Conditions provide that the Guarantor will register, or cause to be registered, the Guarantee of the Bonds with SAFE in accordance with, and within the time period prescribed by, the SAFE Regulations and use its reasonable endeavours to complete the registration and obtain a registration record from SAFE on or before the Registration Deadline. If the Guarantor fails to complete the SAFE registration and deliver the registration records to the Trustee before the Registration Deadline, under the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds, Bondholders may require the Issuer to redeem their Bonds under the circumstances as specified in the Terms and Conditions.

THE PRC LEGAL SYSTEM

The PRC legal system is based on the PRC Constitution and is made up of written laws, regulations, directives and local laws and laws resulting from international treaties entered into by the PRC government. In general, only limited volumes of published court decisions may be cited for reference, and such cases have limited precedential value as they are not binding on subsequent cases.

The National People's Congress of the PRC ("NPC") and the Standing Committee of the NPC are empowered by the PRC Constitution to exercise the legislative power of the State. The NPC has the power to amend the PRC Constitution and enact and amend basic laws governing State agencies and civil, criminal and other matters. The Standing Committee of the NPC is empowered to enact and amend all laws except for the laws that are required to be enacted and amended by the NPC.

The State Council is the highest organ of the State administration and has the power to enact administrative rules and regulations. The ministries and commissions under the State Council are also vested with the power to issue orders, directives and regulations within the jurisdiction of their respective departments. All administrative rules, regulations, directives and orders promulgated by the State Council and its ministries and commissions must be consistent with the PRC Constitution and the national laws enacted by the NPC and the Standing Committee of the NPC. In the event that a conflict arises, the Standing Committee of the NPC has the power to annul administrative regulations which contradict the PRC Constitution and the national laws, while the State Council has the power to alter or annul any inappropriate rules of the ministries under the State Council. The people's congresses or their standing committees of the provinces, autonomous regions and municipalities directly under the Central Government may, in light of the specific conditions and actual needs of their respective administrative areas, enact local regulations, provided that such regulations do not contradict the PRC Constitution, the national laws and the administrative regulations. The People's Congresses or their standing committees of certain large cities may, in light of the specific local conditions and actual needs, enact local regulations, provided that they do not contradict the PRC Constitution, the national laws, the administrative regulations and the local regulations of their respective provinces or autonomous regions, and they shall submit the regulations to the standing committees of the people's congresses of the provinces or autonomous regions for approval before implementation.

The people's governments of the provinces, autonomous regions, municipalities directly under the Central Government and certain large cities may, in accordance with the national laws and administrative regulations and the local regulations of their respective province, autonomous regions or municipalities, enact rules.

In relation to certain matters except the coercive measures and punishment in respect to crime and criminal penalty, deprivation of political rights and restriction of personal liberty, and to judicial system, the State Council can enact administrative regulations under the authorisation from the NPC and the Standing Committee of NPC. After such administrative regulations have been tested in practise and when the conditions are mature for enacting a law on the aforementioned matters, the State Council shall propose to the NPC and the Standing Committee of NPC in a timely manner for enacting the law.

The PRC Constitution vests the power to interpret laws in the Standing Committee of the NPC. The Supreme People's Court has the power to give general interpretation on the application of laws in judicial proceedings, according to Resolution of the Standing Committee of the NPC providing an Improved Interpretation of the Law. (《全國人民代表大會常務委員會關於加強法律解釋工作的決議》). The State Council and its ministries and commissions are also vested with the power to interpret rules and regulations that they have promulgated. At the regional level, the power to interpret regional rules and regulations is vested in the regional legislative and administrative bodies which promulgated such laws.

THE PRC JUDICIAL SYSTEM

Under the PRC Constitution and the Law of Organisation of the People's Courts, the judicial system is made up of the Supreme People's Court, the local courts, military courts and other special courts.

The local courts are comprised of the basic courts, the intermediate courts and the higher courts.

The basic courts are organised into civil, criminal, economic, administrative and other divisions. The intermediate courts are organised into divisions similar to those of the basic courts, and are further organised into other special divisions, such as the intellectual property division. The judicial work of the courts at lower levels is subject to supervision by the courts at higher levels. The people's procuratorates also have the right to exercise legal supervision over the civil proceedings of courts of the same level and lower levels. The Supreme People's Court is the highest judicial body in the PRC. It supervises the administration of justice by all other courts. The courts employ a two-tier appellate system. A party may appeal against a judgement or order of a local court to the court at the next higher level. Second judgements or orders given at the next higher level and the first judgements or orders given by the Supreme People's Court are final. If, however, the Supreme People's Court or a court at a higher level finds an error in a judgement which has been given by any court at a lower level, or the president of a court finds an error in a judgement which has been given in the court over which he presides, the case may then be retried in accordance with the judicial supervision procedures.

The Civil Procedure Law of the PRC, which was adopted on 9 April 1991 and amended on 28 October 2007, secondly amended on 31 August 2012, thirdly amended on 1 July 2017, fourthly amended on 24 December 2021 and fifthly amended on 1 September 2023 sets forth the criteria for instituting a civil action, the jurisdiction of the courts, the procedures to be followed for conducting a civil action and the procedures for enforcement of a civil judgement or order. All parties to a civil action conducted within the PRC must comply with the Civil Procedure Law. Generally, a civil case is initially heard by a local court of the municipality or province in which the defendant resides. The parties to a contract may, by express agreement, select a jurisdiction where civil actions may be brought, provided that the jurisdiction is either the plaintiff's or the defendant's place of residence, the place of execution or implementation of the contract or the place of the object of the contract. However, such selection cannot violate the stipulations of grade jurisdiction and exclusive jurisdiction in any case.

A foreign individual or enterprise generally has the same litigation rights and obligations as a citizen or legal person of the PRC. If the courts of a foreign country impose restrictions on the civil procedural rights of PRC citizens, legal persons and other organisations, the PRC courts shall apply the principle of reciprocity to the civil procedural rights of citizens, legal persons and organisations of such a foreign country. If any party to a civil action refuses to comply with a judgement or order made by a court or an award granted by an arbitration panel in the PRC, the aggrieved party may apply to the court to request for enforcement of the judgement, order or award. The time limit imposed on the right to apply for such enforcement is two years. If a person fails to satisfy a judgement made by the court within the stipulated time, the court will, upon application by either party, mandatorily enforce the judgement.

Where a party applies for enforcement of an effective judgement or ruling of a court, if the party against whom enforcement is sought or the property thereof is not within the territory of the PRC, the applicant may apply directly to the foreign court having jurisdiction for recognition and enforcement, or apply to a PRC court for such court to request recognition and enforcement by the foreign court in accordance with the provisions of an international treaty concluded or acceded to by the PRC or under the principle of reciprocity. Where a valid and effective judgement or ruling of a foreign court requires recognition and enforcement by a court of the PRC, a party may apply directly to the intermediate court of the PRC having jurisdiction for recognition and enforcement, or apply to the foreign court for the foreign court to request recognition and enforcement by the PRC court in accordance with the provisions of an international treaty concluded or acceded to by the PRC or under the principle of reciprocity. After examining an application or request for recognition and enforcement of a valid and effective judgement or ruling of a foreign court in accordance with an international treaty concluded or acceded to by the PRC or under the principle of reciprocity, a PRC court shall issue a ruling to recognise the legal force of the judgement or ruling and issue an order for enforcement as needed to enforce the judgement or ruling according to the relevant provisions of the Civil Procedure Law of the PRC if the PRC court deems that the judgement or ruling does not violate the basic principles of the laws of the PRC and the sovereignty, security and public interest of the PRC. If the judgement or ruling violates the basic principles of the laws of the PRC or the sovereignty, security or public interest of the PRC, the PRC court shall not grant recognition and enforcement.

EIT LAW

According to the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC (the “EIT Law”), which took effect on 1 January 2008 and was amended on 24 February 2017 and 29 December 2018, and its implementation rules, a company which is identified as a resident enterprise by relevant PRC tax authorities, the dividends (not including investment income from stocks issued publicly by other PRC resident enterprises and traded on PRC stock exchanges where the holding period is less than 12 months consecutively) received by the company from its direct equity investment in other PRC resident enterprises shall be exempt from enterprise income tax, and furthermore, the company would be obligated to withhold PRC income tax of up to 10%, or a lower rate if tax treaty benefits are available, on the payments of interest and certain other amounts to the creditors that are non-resident enterprises, because the interest and other amounts would be regarded as being derived from sources within the PRC.

VALUE-ADDED TAX

The Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation of PRC has implemented the pilot programme of replacing business tax with value-added tax since 2016. According to Notice of the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation on Overall Implementation of the Pilot Programme of Replacing Business Tax with Value-added Tax (Caishui No. [2016]36), which is promulgated in March 2016 and became effective in May 2016, (i) entities and individuals engaging in the sale of services, intangible assets or real property within the territory of the People’s Republic of China shall be the taxpayers of value-added tax (“VAT”) and shall, instead of business tax, pay VAT in accordance with these Measures; (ii) sale of services refers to the provisions of transportation services, postal services, telecommunication services, construction services, financial services, modern services and consumer services; and (iii) financial services refer to the business activities of financial and insurance operation, including loan processing services, financial services of direct charges, insurance services and the transfer of financial instruments.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAWS AND REGULATIONS

China has adopted legislation related to intellectual property rights, including trademarks, patents and copyrights. China is a signatory to all major intellectual property conventions, including the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, Madrid Agreement on the International Registration of Marks and Madrid Protocol, Patent Cooperation Treaty, Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure and the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (the “TRIPs”).

REGULATIONS ON PATENTS

Under the revised Patent Law of the PRC promulgated on 17 October 2020 and effective on 1 June 2021, there are three types of patents, including invention patents, design patents and utility model patents. Invention patents are valid for 20 years, utility model patents are valid for 10 years and design patents are valid for 15 years, in each case commencing on their respective application dates. Persons or entities who use patents without the consent of the patent owners, make counterfeits of patented products, or engage in activities that infringe upon patent rights are held liable to the patent owner for compensation and may be subject to fines and even criminal punishment.

According to the Patent Law of the PRC, the “first to file” principle is adopted for the patent application, which means when more than one person files a patent application for the same invention, the patent will be granted to the person who files the application first. In addition, China requires absolute novelty for the sake of an invention to be patentable. Therefore, in general, a patent will be denied if it is publicly known in or outside of China. Furthermore, patents issued in China are not enforceable in Hong Kong, Taiwan or Macau, each of which has an independent patent system.

According to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (the “PCT”) to which China is a signatory, applications for the protection of inventions in any of the contracting states of the PCT may be filed as international applications.

REGULATIONS ON TRADEMARKS

Both Trademark Law of the PRC promulgated by the National People’s Congress Standing Committee in 1982 and amended in 2001, 2013 and 2019 and the Regulation on Implementation of Trademark Law of the PRC promulgated by the State Council in 2002 and amended in 2014 provide protection to the holders of registered trademarks. In the PRC, registered trademarks include commodity trademarks, service trademarks, collective marks and certificate marks.

The Trademark Office under the State Administration for Industry and Commerce handles trademark registrations and grants a term of ten years to registered trademarks, renewable every ten years where a registered trademark needs to be used after the expiration of its validity term, a registration renewal application shall be filed within six months prior to the expiration of the term.

Under the Trademark Law of the PRC, any of the following acts may be regarded as an infringement upon the right to exclusive use of a registered trademark, including (1) use of a trademark identical to a registered trademark on the same type of commodities without licencing by the trademark registrant; (2) use of a trademark similar to a registered trademark on the same type of commodities without licencing by the trademark registrant, or use of a trademark identical or similar to the registered trademark on similar commodities which easily causes confusion; (3) sale of commodities which infringes upon exclusive rights to use registered trademarks; (4) forgery or unauthorised manufacturing of labels of other’s registered trademarks or sale of forged or unauthorised labels of other’s registered trademarks; (5) change of a registered trademark without the consent of the trademark registrant, and sale of commodities bearing the changed trademark in the market; (6) intentionally facilitating the infringement of other’s exclusive rights to use trademarks, assisting others in implementation of infringement of exclusive rights to use trademarks; or (7) causing harm to other’s exclusive rights to use registered trademarks.

REGULATIONS ON DOMAIN NAMES

The Administrative Measures on Internet Domain Names, which were promulgated by the Ministry of Information Industry on 24 August 2017 and effective on 1 November 2017, regulate registrations of domain names with the Internet country code “.cn” and domain names in Chinese.

The Measures on National Top-Level Domain Name Dispute Resolution, which were promulgated by the Chinese Internet Network Information Centre on 18 June 2019, require domain name disputes to be accepted and settled by the domain name dispute resolution agency recognised by China Internet Network Information Center.

REGULATIONS ON LABOUR PROTECTION

Enterprises in China are mainly subject to the following PRC labour laws and regulations: Labour Law of the PRC, PRC Employment Contracts Law (the “Employment Contracts Law”), the Regulation of Insurance for Work-Related Injury, the Regulations on Unemployment Insurance, the Provisional Measures on Insurance for Maternity of Employees, the Interim Provisions on Registration of Social Insurance, the Interim Regulation on the Collection and Payment of Social Insurance Premiums, the Administrative Regulation on Housing Fund and other related regulations, rules and provisions issued by the relevant governmental authorities from time to time.

Pursuant to Labour Law of the PRC companies must enter into employment contracts with their employees, based on the principles of equality, consent and agreement through consultation. Companies must establish and effectively implement a system of ensuring occupational safety and health, educate employees on occupational safety and health, preventing work-related accidents and reducing occupational hazards. Companies must also pay for their employees’ social insurance premium.

The principal regulations governing the employment contract is the PRC Employment Contracts Law, which was promulgated by the Standing Committee of the NPC on 29 June 2007 and came into effect on 1 January 2008, and was amended on 28 December 2012. Pursuant to the Employment Contracts Law, employers shall establish employment relationship with employees on the date that they start employing the employees. To establish employment, a written employment contract shall be concluded, or employers will be liable for the illegal actions. Furthermore, the probation period and liquidated damages shall be restricted by the law to safeguard employees’ rights and interests.

As required under the Regulation of Insurance for Work-Related Injury, the Provisional Measures on Insurance for Maternity of Employees, the Interim Provisions on Registration of Social Insurance and the Administrative Regulation on Housing Fund, enterprises in China are obliged to provide employees with welfare schemes covering pension insurance, unemployment insurance, maternity insurance, injury insurance, medical insurance and housing accumulation fund.

DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTIONS

Under the Company Law, before dividends can be paid, a company shall set aside a minimum of 10% of its after-tax profit as a statutory surplus reserve fund. A company is not required to do so until the reserve balance reaches 50% of its registered capital. If a company's statutory reserve fund is not sufficient to cover its losses in previous years, a company shall use its profit of the current year to cover losses before retaining the statutory reserve fund. After a company has retained the statutory reserve fund as required, it may retain discretionary reserve fund from the after-tax profit (as approved by shareholders' meeting). After losses are covered and the reserve fund is retained, a company may distribute dividends to its shareholders.

TAXATION

The following summary of certain Hong Kong and PRC tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Bonds and Shares is based upon applicable laws, regulations, rulings and decisions as of the date of this Offering Circular, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). This discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Bonds or the H Shares and does not purport to deal with consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which may be subject to special rules. Persons considering the purchase of Bonds should consult their own tax advisors concerning the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Bonds and Shares, including such possible consequences under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

HONG KONG

Withholding tax

No withholding tax is payable in Hong Kong in respect of payments of principal or interest on the Bonds.

Stamp Duty

No Hong Kong stamp duty will be chargeable upon the issuance or initial transfer of a Bond.

PRC TAXATION

The following summary of certain PRC tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Bonds is based upon applicable laws, rules and regulations in effect as of the date of this Offering Circular, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). This discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Bonds and does not purport to deal with consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which may be subject to special rules. Persons considering the purchase of Bonds should consult their own tax advisors concerning the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Bonds, including such possible consequences under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

Income Tax

Pursuant to the EIT Law effective on 1 January 2008 and amended on 29 December 2018 and the Individual Income Tax Law of the PRC amended on 31 August 2018 and effective on 1 January 2019 (the “IIT Law”) and their implementation rules respectively, an income tax is imposed on the interests by way of withholding in respect of the bonds, and is paid by the Issuer (if such interests are regarded as income derived from sources within the PRC under the EIT Law or the IIT Law, as the case may be) to non-resident bondholders, including non-resident enterprises and non-resident individuals. The current rates of such income tax are 20% (for non-resident individuals) and 10% (for non-resident enterprises) of the gross amount of the interests, unless there is an applicable tax treaty or arrangement that reduces or exempts such income tax.

Under the EIT Law and its implementation rules, any gains realised on the transfer of the bonds by holders who are deemed under the EIT Law as non-resident enterprises may be subject to PRC enterprise income tax if such gains are regarded as incomes derived from sources within the PRC. Under the EIT Law, a “non-resident enterprise” means an enterprise which is established under the laws of a jurisdiction other than the PRC, whose actual administrative organisation is not in the PRC, and which has established offices or premises in the PRC or has not established any offices or premises in the PRC but has obtained incomes derived from sources within the PRC. In addition, there is uncertainty as to whether gains realised on the transfer of the bonds by individual holders who are not PRC citizens or residents will be subject to PRC individual income tax under the IIT Law and its implementation rules. If such gains are subject to PRC income tax, the 10% enterprise income tax rate and 20% individual income tax rate will apply respectively unless there is an applicable tax treaty or arrangement that reduces or exempts such income tax.

If the Issuer is not able to make payments under the Bonds, the Guarantor fulfils the payment obligations of the Guarantee and the PRC tax authority views such payment as an interest income arising within the territory of the PRC, the Guarantor might need to withhold PRC income tax on payments with respect to the Bonds to non-PRC resident enterprises bondholders at the rate of 10% and to non-PRC resident individuals bondholders at a rate of 20%, unless there is an applicable tax treaty or arrangement that reduces or exempts such income tax.

Value-add Tax

According to the Circular of Full Implementation of Replacing Business Tax with Value-Added Tax Reform (Caishui [2016] No. 36) (關於全面推行營業稅改徵增值稅試點的通知) (“Circular 36”), the entities and individuals providing services within the PRC shall be subject to VAT. The services are treated as being provided within China where either the service provider or the service recipient is located in China. The services subject to VAT include the provision of financial services such as the provision of loans. It is further clarified under Circular 36 that the “loans” refer to the activity of lending capital for another’s use and receiving the interest income thereon. It is not clear from the interpretation of Circular 36 whether the provision of loans to the Issuer could be considered as services provided within the PRC which could be regarded as the provision of financial services subject to VAT. Furthermore, there is no assurance that the Issuer will not be treated as resident enterprises under the EIT Law. PRC tax authorities could take the view that the Bondholders are providing loans within the PRC because the Issuer is treated as PRC tax residents. In which case, the issuance of the Bonds could be regarded as the provision of financial services within the PRC that is subject to VAT.

Stamp duty

No PRC stamp duty will be chargeable upon the issue or transfer (as long as the register of holders of the Bonds is maintained outside the PRC) of the Bonds.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

The Issuer and the Guarantor have entered into a subscription agreement with the Managers dated 17 June 2024 (the “Subscription Agreement”) pursuant to which, and subject to certain conditions contained therein, the Issuer agreed to sell to the Managers, and each of the Managers has agreed to severally and not jointly subscribe and pay for, or to procure subscribers to subscribe and pay for, the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds set forth opposite its name below.

	Principal amount of the Bonds to be subscribed
	(US$)
Morgan Stanley Asia Limited	U.S.$990,000,000
CLSA Limited	U.S.$770,000,000
UBS AG Hong Kong Branch.	U.S.$200,000,000
GF Securities (Hong Kong) Brokerage Limited	U.S.$40,000,000
Total	U.S.$2,000,000,000

The Subscription Agreement provides that the Issuer (failing which, the Guarantor) will indemnify the Managers against certain liabilities in connection with the offer and sale of the Bonds. The Subscription Agreement provides that the obligations of the Managers are subject to certain conditions precedent, and entitles the Managers to terminate it in certain circumstances prior to payment being made to the Issuer.

The Managers or their respective affiliates may purchase the Bonds or the H Shares for their own account and enter into transactions, including, without limitation, credit derivatives, including asset swaps, repackaging and credit default swaps relating to the Bonds or the H Shares at the same time as the offer and sale of the Bonds or in secondary market transactions. Such transactions would be carried out as bilateral trades with selected counterparties and separately from any existing sale or resale of the Bonds or the H Shares to which this Offering Circular relates (notwithstanding that such selected counterparties may also be purchaser of the Bonds). The Managers and their respective affiliates have engaged in, and may in the future engage in, investment banking and other commercial dealings in the ordinary course of business with the Issuer, the Guarantor or their respective subsidiaries or affiliates from time to time. The Managers may receive customary fees and commissions for these transactions. The Managers or certain of their respective affiliates may purchase Bonds or the H Shares and be allocated Bonds or the H Shares for asset management and/or proprietary purposes but not with a view to distribution. In addition to the transactions noted above, the Managers and their respective affiliates may, from time to time, engage in other transactions with, and perform services for, the Issuer, the Guarantor or their respective subsidiaries or affiliates in the ordinary course of their business. In addition, the Managers and certain of their respective subsidiaries and affiliates may hold shares or other securities in the Issuer or the Guarantor as beneficial owners, on behalf of clients or in the capacity of investment advisers.

Each of the Issuer and the Guarantor has agreed in the Subscription Agreement that neither the Issuer, the Guarantor nor any person acting on its or their behalf will (a) issue, offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge, encumber or otherwise dispose of or grant options, issue warrants or offer rights entitling persons to subscribe or purchase any interest in any H Shares or securities of the same class as the Bonds or the H Shares or any securities convertible into, exchangeable for or which carry rights to subscribe or purchase the Bonds, the H Shares or securities of the same class as the Bonds, the H Shares or other instruments representing interests in the Bonds, the H Shares or other securities of the same class as them, (b) enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of the ownership of the H Shares, (c) enter into any transaction with the same economic effect as, or which is designed to, or which may reasonably be expected to result in, or agree to do, any of the foregoing, whether any such transaction of the kind described in (a), (b) or (c) is to be settled by delivery of the H Shares or other securities, in cash or otherwise or (d) announce or otherwise make public an intention to do any of the foregoing, in any such case without the prior written consent of the Managers between the date of the Subscription Agreement and the date which is 90 days after the Issue Date (both dates inclusive); except for (i) the Bonds and the New Shares issued on conversion of the Bonds; (ii) the issuance of the 251,900,000 new H Shares pursuant to the placing agreement entered into among the Guarantor and the Managers on 18 June 2024; and (iii) Shares issued pursuant to exercise of the share options granted under the Share Schemes. For the purpose of this paragraph, “Shares” means (i) ordinary shares with a nominal value of RMB0.1 each issued by the Guarantor to investors which are traded in HK dollars on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange; (ii) ordinary shares with a nominal value of RMB0.1 each issued by the Guarantor and which are traded in Renminbi on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and (iii) any other fully-paid and non-assessable shares of any class or classes of the ordinary shares of the Guarantor authorised after the date hereof which have no preference in respect of dividends or of amounts payable in the event of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation or dissolution of the Guarantor.

On or about the date of the Subscription Agreement, the Guarantor entered into a placing agreement with the Managers to procure purchasers for an equity placement of 251,900,000 H Shares issued by the Guarantor at a placement price of HK$15.50 per Share (the “Concurrent Equity Placement”). The Concurrent Equity Placement was conducted concurrently with the offering of the Bonds but the completion of the issuance of the Bonds and the H Shares under the Concurrent Equity Placement are not inter-conditional. The closing date for the Concurrent Equity Placement was 25 June 2024.

Concurrent with the offering of the Bonds and the Concurrent Equity Placement, the Managers may facilitate sales of existing H Shares notionally underlying the Bonds by buyers of the Bonds who wish to sell such H Shares in short sales to purchasers procured by the Managers in order to hedge the market risk to which buyers of the Bonds are exposed with respect to the Bonds that they acquire in the offering of the Bonds.

Notice to capital market intermediaries and prospective investors pursuant to paragraph 21 of the Hong Kong SFC Code of Conduct — Important Notice to CMIs (including private banks): This notice to CMIs (including private banks) is a summary of certain obligations the SFC Code imposes on CMIs, which require the attention and cooperation of other CMIs (including private banks). Certain CMIs may also be acting as OCs for this offering and are subject to additional requirements under the SFC Code.

Prospective investors who are the directors, employees or major shareholders of the Issuer, the Guarantor, a CMI or its group companies would be considered under the SFC Code as having an Association with the Issuer, the Guarantor, the CMI or the relevant group company. CMIs should specifically disclose whether their investor clients have any Association when submitting orders for the Bonds. In addition, private banks should take all reasonable steps to identify whether their investor clients may have any Associations with the Issuer, the Guarantor or any CMI (including its group companies) and inform the Managers accordingly.

CMIs are informed that the marketing and investor targeting strategy for this offering includes institutional investors, sovereign wealth funds, pension funds, hedge funds, family offices and high net worth individuals, in each case, subject to the selling restrictions set out elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

CMIs should ensure that orders placed are bona fide, are not inflated and do not constitute duplicated orders (i.e. two or more corresponding or identical orders placed via two or more CMIs). CMIs should enquire with their investor clients regarding any orders which appear unusual or irregular. CMIs should disclose the identities of all investors when submitting orders for the Bonds (except for omnibus orders where underlying investor information may need to be provided to any OCs when submitting orders). Failure to provide underlying investor information for omnibus orders, where required to do so, may result in that order being rejected. CMIs should not place “X-orders” into the order book.

CMIs should segregate and clearly identify their own proprietary orders (and those of their group companies, including private banks as the case may be) in the order book and book messages.

CMIs (including private banks) should not offer any rebates to prospective investors or pass on any rebates provided by the Issuer or the Guarantor. In addition, CMIs (including private banks) should not enter into arrangements which may result in prospective investors paying different prices for the Bonds.

The SFC Code requires that a CMI disclose complete and accurate information in a timely manner on the status of the order book and other relevant information it receives to targeted investors for them to make an informed decision. In order to do this, those Managers in control of the order book should consider disclosing order book updates to all CMIs.

When placing an order for the Bonds, private banks should disclose, at the same time, if such order is placed other than on a “principal” basis (whereby it is deploying its own balance sheet for onward selling to investors). Private banks who do not provide such disclosure are hereby deemed to be placing their order on such a “principal” basis. Otherwise, such order may be considered to be an omnibus order pursuant to the SFC Code.

In relation to omnibus orders, when submitting such orders, CMIs (including private banks) that are subject to the SFC Code should disclose underlying investor information in respect of each order constituting the relevant omnibus order (failure to provide such information may result in that order being rejected). Underlying investor information in relation to omnibus orders should consist of:

- The name of each underlying investor;
- A unique identification number for each investor;
- Whether an underlying investor has any “Associations” (as used in the SFC Code);

- Whether any underlying investor order is a “Proprietary Order” (as used in the SFC Code);
- Whether any underlying investor order is a duplicate order.

Underlying investor information in relation to omnibus order should be sent to: omnibus_equity@morganstanley.com, ib.equitylinked@clsa.com, ol-asia-syndicate-core@ubs.com and ecm@gfgroup.com.hk.

To the extent information being disclosed by CMI and investors is personal and/or confidential in nature, CMIs (including private banks) agree and warrant: (A) to take appropriate steps to safeguard the transmission of such information to any OCs; and (B) that they have obtained the necessary consents from the underlying investors to disclose such information to any OCs. By submitting an order and providing such information to any OCs, each CMI (including private banks) further warrants that it and the underlying investors have understood and consented to the collection, disclosure, use and transfer of such information by any OCs and/or any other third parties as may be required by the SFC Code, including to the Issuer, the Guarantor, relevant regulators and/or any other third parties as may be required by the SFC Code, for the purpose of complying with the SFC Code, during the bookbuilding process for this offering. CMIs that receive such underlying investor information are reminded that such information should be used only for submitting orders in this offering. The Managers may be asked to demonstrate compliance with their obligations under the SFC Code, and may request other CMIs (including private banks) to provide evidence showing compliance with the obligations above (in particular, that the necessary consents have been obtained). In such event, other CMIs (including private banks) are required to provide the relevant Manager with such evidence within the timeline requested.

SELLING RESTRICTIONS

General

The distribution of this Offering Circular or any offering material and the offering, sale or delivery of the Bonds is restricted by law in certain jurisdictions. Therefore, persons who may come into possession of this Offering Circular or any offering material are advised to consult with their own legal advisers as to what restrictions may be applicable to them and to observe such restrictions. This Offering Circular may not be used for the purpose of an offer or invitation in any circumstances in which such offer or invitation is not authorised.

No action has been taken or will be taken in any jurisdiction by the Issuer, the Guarantor or the Managers that would permit a public offering, or any other offering under circumstances not permitted by applicable law, of the Bonds, or possession or distribution of this Offering Circular or any amendment or supplement thereto issued in connection with the proposed resale of the Bonds or any other offering or publicity material relating to the Bonds, in any country or jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.
